CHICAGO GETS NATIONAL AIR RACES FOR 1930

Backers Here to Put Up $200,000.

BY ROBERT WOOD.

The National Air Races, the biggest and most colorful event of the year in the world of aviation, will be held in Chicago next year. This was announced yesterday at a luncheon in the Drake hotel, attended by Chicago business men, financiers, and aviation leaders who subscribed $137,500 for the venture.

Chicago was selected as the site for the 1930 air races two weeks ago when a committee from Chicago and Cook county appeared before the contest committee of the National Aeronautical association in Washington and formally presented the city's bid for the air classic, but the committee made no public announcement at that time, awaiting the organization of the Chicago backers.

Wins Over Other Bidders.

The races went to Chicago despite the strong bids placed before the aeronautical association by a number of other cities, Miami, Boston, and Wichita being the leaders in the bidding. The airport from which the races will be held has not been selected, nor has the date of the meet been set, although it is likely that the races will be staged for eight days, including one week before Labor day, in order to take advantage of the holidays and the two Sundays.

Yesterday's meeting was called by Robert R. McCormick, publisher of THE TRIBUNE, who is chairman of the board of the Chicago Air Race corporation, a nonprofit company organized to underwrite the races. Col. McCormick reviewed the campaign carried on to bring the races here, beginning immediately after the close of this year's races at Cleveland and continuing until Oct. 11, when the Chicago committee, composed of V. L. Eyerd, vice president of the Chicago Association of Commerce; Maj. Reed Landis, representing Chicago aviation interests; Ald. Dorsey Crowe, chairman of the council committee on aviation, and Edward J. Brundage, formally presented Chicago's bid at Washington.

To Raise $200,000.

Col. McCormick told of the organization last Friday of the Chicago Air Race corporation, for the purpose of raising $200,000 to finance the show. He pointed out that Cleveland business men raised $300,000 for the races and that this amount was not touched, due to the fact that revenue from concessions and advance sale of tickets came in early enough to pay for the preliminary expenses.

At Friday's meeting the following officers were elected: Col. McCormick, chairman of the board; Earle H. Reynolds, president; Frederick H. Rawson, treasurer, and Capt. M. M. Corpening, secretary. Maj. Gen. Frank S. Parker, commander of the Sixth corps area, and Rear Admiral Walter S. Cleary were elected honorary vice presidents. Others present at that meeting were John Hertz, John R. Thompson, John J. Mitchell, James Simpson, William Wrigley, and Aldis Browne.

Promise Full Support.

"All those present at the first meeting said that they would go as far as they were asked in the support of the race," Col. McCormick said. "A suggestion was made that this was too big a movement to confine to so few men, so today's meeting was called and forty other men interested in aviation were invited to attend."

Mr. Reynolds expressed the opinion that one field would be inadequate to accommodate the air races and said it would be necessary to call on the other air fields in Chicago to aid in making "the finest air races ever held in any city."

"The air races are the annual aviation classic," said Capt. Corpening, who was asked to describe the races. "It is the one event of the year that brings together all the elements of aviation. It draws all the well known pilots, manufacturers, operators, and officials of the government aviation bureaus. All the latest model planes are brought to the races to perform before the crowds and a varied number of competitive events makes it possible for a wide range of craft to take part.

All Sizes of Planes.

"The closed course races are held for all sizes and varieties of planes: open and closed ships, single and multi-motored craft. A dozen blimps and dirigibles also take part in the program and the races are usually the occasion for the navy dirigible Los An-

COAST GUARDS FIGHT WAVES IN HEROIC RESCUES

Captain Goes Down with His Ship.

The story of the wreck of the S. S. Wisconsin and the rescue of 60 of the 72 on board is told in pictures on the back page.

BY JOHN BOETTIGER.

A valiant captain gone down with his ship in a fifty mile Lake Michigan gale, eight others of the crew drowned and three more missing and given up for dead, sixty saved in wild night rescues—thus begins the obituary of the Wisconsin, Goodrich passenger liner, which foundered yesterday six and a half miles southeast by east of Kenosha.

Hours of pumping and pumping against an ever rising flood in the rocking, plunging hold of the leaking ship until the fires were quenched and the engines stilled and the pumps choked with ashes and the water came higher and higher until the old ship sank—this is the story of the battle of the crew and its four passengers.

Coast Guards Heroes of Epic.

Hours of struggling against a furious sea, and rescues of men in lifeboats, on rafts, clinging to wreckage, rescues of men feebly swimming in the violent lake, and a final battle to take the dead and the rescued to morgues, hospitals and refuge in Kenosha—this is the epic spun by the heroes of the United States coast guard at Kenosha and Racine.

Today a triple inquiry by the United States government, the coroner of Kenosha county, and the Goodrich line officials will be started in the courthouse at Kenosha. The blame will be fixed, if there be any to blame beside the gale. The known dead:

JULIUS BUSHMAN, chief engineer, Manitowoc, Wis.

VICTOR ESTES, deck hand.

WALTER REIN, watchman.

UNIDENTIFIED DECKHAND.

Names of the three men who are missing could not be learned last night. The records of the crew went down with the ship.

Not a woman or a child was aboard, although one woman, the captain's maid, might have been. She went ashore to telephone a friend before the ship left Chicago, and while she was talking the ship left without her.

The Wisconsin steamed away from the Navy pier in Chicago at 8 o'clock on Monday night and pushed her prow into a stiff wind on her way to Milwaukee, where she was due at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. The weather bureau had warned of heavy seas, but Capt. Morrison had sailed the great lakes for more than thirty years and had no fears of a heavy toss.

Steamer Built in 1881.

With a cargo of automobiles, iron castings and boxed merchandise, the old Wisconsin, built in 1881, and one of the few iron ships afloat, set out bravely for her port.

The wind rose until it became a gale, blowing at forty to fifty miles an hour. The ship lurched heavily, buffeted by the huge waves. Finally, a great billow struck the ship on the starboard side, drenching the second deck with its wash.

With a wrenching sound, the cargo stored on the starboard side shifted heavily to port—automobiles, iron, merchandise and all. It crashed against the hull, and, it is suspected, strained the plates.

Oiler Gives Captain Warning.

Down deep in the hold, in the engine room, labored Albert Landry, oiler, of 5849 Berenice avenue, Chicago.

"The coal passers were keeping the boilers piping hot, and we had full steam available," said Landry, ashore, later. "We had trouble keeping our footing, but the engines kept humming smoothly.

"The bilge pumps, taking the natural leakage from the bottom of the ship, were working steadily. Suddenly I noticed the water was coming in fast. I saw we had sprung a leak.

Chas. S. Mott and His Wife Plan Divorce

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Charles S. Mott, vice president of General Motors corporation, and Mrs. Mott have separated, their attorneys announced today in a formal joint statement. A property settlement has been arranged and suit for divorce filed. The statement reads:

"Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Mott have separated. Both parties agree that reconciliation is impossible. A bill for divorce was filed in the Genesee county Circuit court in Flint on Sept. 30 and proofs will be taken about Dec. 2. A mutually satisfactory property settlement has been agreed upon. Both parties feel that nothing can be gained by a public discussion of their differences and therefore deem it unnecessary to make a public statement in regard thereto."

Mr. Mott is reputed to be one of the three largest stockholders in General Motors.

The present Mrs. Mott is his third wife. Before her marriage to Mr. Mott in Trinity Episcopal church at Toledo on March 1, 1929, she was Mrs. Dee Van Balkom Furey of Detroit.

Mrs. Mott was found this morning in an office of the Washington Boulevard building reading manuscripts for the next issue of the Bridle and Golfer, a magazine which she edits.

"I am terribly sorry about the whole thing," she said. "I announced it today because it is a rainy day and the stock market is bad and I thought nobody would notice it. I guess we were both a little too set in our ways. It was just a matter of incompatibility."

FLAMES IN LOOP BUILDING CAUSE LOSS OF $50,000

Flames early this morning swept through the basement and first floor of the four story building at 60-62 West Madison street and caused damage estimated by Fire Marshal Corrigan at $50,000. The firemen, summoned by 2-11 and 4-11 alarms, stopped the fire at the second floor, which was unoccupied. "Kid" Howard's Arcade gymnasium on the third floor, owned by Howard Carr, was damaged by smoke. The heaviest loser was Ben Braude's jewelry store on the first floor. Patrons of the Pastime theater, an all night movie house to the west, were forced to leave the building.

Guests in the Grant hotel to the east were driven from their rooms by smoke. Guests of the Morrison and Planters hotels were aroused by the clangor of the fire apparatus and watched the firemen at work from windows.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 29.—(AP)—David Korn, 57, prominent in Jewish charitable activities here, dropped dead in a broker's office today as he was watching the stock ticker.

Otto H. Kahn Refuses G.O.P. Finance Post

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Otto H. Kahn, New York banker, today made public a letter he has written to Senator George H. Moses [Rep., N. H.] in which Mr. Kahn asked that his name be not brought before the Republican senatorial campaign committee for appointment as treasurer.

OTTO KAHN.

The letter to Senator Moses, who is chairman of the campaign committee, follows:

"When you did me the honor to ask me to act as treasurer of the Republican senatorial campaign committee I told you that I feared your kindly sentiment toward me, springing from a long friendship, was swaying your judgment. I felt sure that I was not the right man for the position, and moreover I was overwhelmed with demands upon my time and energies and I hoped very much you would not persist in your request.

Invitation Repeated.

"You argued to the contrary, and among other things pointed to the fact that while a Wall street man I was known to be, as indeed I am, a liberal in politics. You repeated your invitation when I had the pleasure of seeing you at your Milbanks dinner last Thursday.

"I thereupon stated that my views were unchanged, but I felt that if we want effective party government such as our political system requires, every citizen should be willing to make good his professions of party allegiance by submitting to being drafted within the limits of reason and possibility, and that if the leaders of the party to which I belong demanded of me a service which did not conflict with my other duties and responsibilities I was not at liberty to refuse, however reluctant I was to accept.

"You regarded this answer as tantamount to an acceptance in principle, as you were perfectly justified in doing, and at what was supposed and intended to be a strictly private dinner made informal reference to that acceptance.

Decides to Abstain.

"But the divided reception with which the report of the appointment of a separate treasurer for your committee and of my designation as such treasurer has met, however erroneous some of the interpretations placed thereon, appears to have confirmed the validity of the doubt which I ventured to express when you offered the position to me and to justify me in concluding to abstain from occupying it.

"I understand that no formal action has been taken as yet by the National Republican senatorial committee concerning the appointment of a treasurer, and I am making free to write these lines to request that you will please refrain from bringing my name before the committee for appointment to the treasurership. Believe me, dear Senator, very faithfully yours, [Signed] OTTO H. KAHN."

Prepare for Crucial Session Today.

News developments bearing on the stock slump on pages 2 and 3. Details of the market, with complete quotations on the various exchanges, on pages 20 to 27.

New York, Oct. 29.—(Special.)—Following a bankers' meeting in the Morgan offices tonight—the second of the day—Thomas W. Lamont issued the following statement:

"I want to take occasion to explain again, as heretofore, that the banking group was organized to offer certain support in the market and to act as far as possible as somewhat of a stabilizing factor.

"It was not the intention of the group to attempt to maintain prices, but to maintain a free market, in other words, to correct the condition that prevailed last Thursday.

"The group has continued and will continue in a co-operative way to support the market, and has not been a seller of stocks."

The statement was issued to quiet rumors which had been abroad in the street to the effect that the banking group had been selling stocks instead of supporting them.

BY TOM PETTEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—An incredible stock market tumbled toward chaos today despite heroic measures adopted by the nation's greatest bankers. At the end there was an erratic rally.

It was a day of tremendous activity, with climaxes punctuating every hour. Only the rally of the late hour saved the market from utter collapse.

It was then the bankers and investment buyers dipped into a grab bag filled with hornets and sought furiously to rally prices. They succeeded, after a fashion, but no one as yet knows the full temper of this history making market. Another day should tell the story.

Total Reaches 26 Million.

A total of 16,383,750 shares were tossed on the market in the stock exchange and on the curb 7,056,200 shares were traded in, making a total of 23,425,050 shares handled in New York alone on this breath taking day.

More than a million shares were traded in on the Chicago exchange, and figuring in the operations on the lesser exchanges, the experts tonight estimated that today's liquidation had passed the stupendous total of 26 million shares.

This made last Thursday's record breaking figures of 12,880,900 shares for the big exchange and 6,352,600 for the curb look like small change. Even more, it dwarfs yesterday's grand total of 13 million shares sold.

All 1929 low records, as measured by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE average of 50 representative stocks, were broken in the drastic liquidation and prices, on the average now are lower, too, than they were a year ago this month. As measured by these statistics, the average of 25 railroad shares declined 6.29 in today's trading, and the average of 25 industrials was off 41.06. The combined average of 50 representative stocks showed a decline at the close of 24.66.

Billions in Wealth Vanish.

Efforts to estimate the day's market losses in dollars are futile, because of the vast number of securities quoted over the counter and on out of town exchanges on which no calculations are possible. However, it was estimated that 880 issues on the New York stock exchange lost between $8,000,000,000 and $9,000,000,000 in market values today. Added to that loss is to be reckoned the depreciation on issues on the curb market, in the over the counter market and on other exchanges.

But tonight the tide of optimism had risen again. It received its most important impetus from the bankers' group organized to support the market and reputed to have a war chest of 750 millions with which to operate.

Thomas W. Lamont of Morgan & Co., who heads the banking group, and George Whitney, another Morgan partner, said the feeling among the bankers was that the public is coming somewhat to its senses. This was shown. It was said, by the fact that there had been during the day a considerable amount of first class investment buying.

Large capitalists, they said, had been bargain hunting and there had been heavy purchasing by corporations of securities destined for employé stock funds and similar purposes. The resistance shown by certain groups, notably the rails, and the fact that in most cases closing quotations were above the low prices for the day, indicated, it was said, that a more promising situation had developed.

As an indication that the outlook for leading corporations is far brighter than the action of the stock market would seem to indicate, reference was made to the declaration this afternoon of extra dividends by the United States Steel corporation and the American Can company. A further constructive development of the day was the action of leading banking institutions in reducing margin requirements upon security loans to 25 per cent.

Pool Has 750 Million Fund.

According to the best opinion in Wall street, the banking group is amply able to deal with the situation, and it is clear that once the overwhelming deluge of scare and distressed selling has in some measure spent its force the resources of the group will be enormously effective in bringing order back into the market.

The fact that the leading stocks were able to rally in the final fifteen minutes of trading was considered a good omen, especially as the weakest period of the day had developed just prior to that time and the minimum prices for the day had then been established. It was a quick run-up which followed the announcement that the American Can directors had declared an extra dividend of $1.

Other Issues Snap Back.

The advances in leading stocks in this last fifteen minutes represented a measurable snap back from the lows. American Can gained 10; United Steel common, 7¼; General Electric, 12; New York Central, 14½; Anaconda Copper, 9½; Chrysler Motors, 5¼; Montgomery Ward, 4¼, and Johns-Manville, 3.

A few minutes before the close a vicious attack was launched on United States Steel to feel the temper of the market. Steel gave way to a new low record for the day, but, true to its name, failed to crack and snapped back in the last minute. Nevertheless, this bellwether of the market suffered a $12 loss, carrying it into new low territory.

Bull Rally Brings Results.

Stout resistance met the traders in other quarters as bullish news seeped into the turbulent market.

Sentiment changed suddenly on the floor, and there was a wave of optimistic feeling among the brokers. Old traders "felt it in their bones" the worst was over. Heavy buying for cash made its appearance and, although unexplained, helped to restore confidence. Brokers were declaring the frenzied selling had run itself out. Stocks rose easily for a time, but fluctuations at the close were still highly erratic and nervous.

The street does not expect to recover from such a devastating setback in a hurry. Bankers in San Francisco, following the lead of New York, formed a pool to support stocks. Reports from the central states cities indicated that bankers were taking steps to shut off some of the liquidation from the New York market.

Bargain Hunters Busy.

The optimists saw hope in the catch as catch can rally in the afternoon. Yesterday there was no rally. When a stock tumbled it stayed down. Today when a stock hit what should be bottom somebody was likely to pounce on it. There still are bank accounts in New York, and so long as there are cashier's checks there will be bargain hunters.

Leading brokerage firms in the financial district held special meetings of partners and considered the margin situation.

Several firms announced that "present prices of listed stocks justified a reduction in margin requirements," and accordingly margin requirements were cut to 25 per cent. Margin requirements in Wall street never have been uniform. They range from 25 to 65 per cent, depending on the customer, type of firm, and type of stocks traded in.

Curb Market Wild.

The tickers fell far behind, both on the stock exchange and the curb. The "wildest market ever seen" ushered the day in on the little exchange, and the ticker there was more than two hours late at the close.

Among the bad breaks on the curb were Electric Bond and Share, which tumbled 35 points, and Electric Investors, which hit the chutes for 50 points.

Bank stocks were weak as investors unloaded. National City bank stock dropped 111 points and Chase 45 points.

The big bankers met at noon and again after the market closed. The men who attended today's conference were the same who were present when the pool was organized last week. They were, besides Mr. Lamont, Albert C. Wiggin, chairman of the Chase National bank; Seward Prosser of the Bankers Trust company; George F. Baker Jr. of the First National bank; Charles E. Mitchell, chairman of the National City bank, and W. C. Potter, president of the Guaranty Trust company.

Little Bulls Turn Bears.

One curious feature of today's market was the reappearance of some of the "little fellows." Yesterday's drastic break was a rich man's market. This afternoon a group of small traders who never sold a stock short in their lives before turned bears and recouped at least a part of their modest losses in last week's crash.

It was in this new element that helped to upset the plans of the supporting bankers.

The break in stocks is the one topic of conversation everywhere, in the home, the shops, on the trains and in the offices. There is little whining among the stunned investors. They have gamely taken it on the chin. It is the rich men who have taken fright,

240 STOCKS GIVE PROOF OF TERRIFIC LOSSES IN VALUES

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—The drastic effects of Wall street's October bear market is shown by valuation tables prepared tonight, which place the decline in the market value of 240 representative issues on the New York stock exchange at $15,894,818,894 during the period from Oct. 1 to today's closing.

Since there are 1,379 issues listed on the New York stock exchange, the total depreciation for the month may be placed conservatively at several times the loss for the 240 issues covered by the table.

Among the 240 issues were the following stocks:

Group—	No. of stocks.	Decline in value.
Railroads	55	$1,128,686,488
Public Utilities	39	5,135,734,527
Motors	15	1,689,840,962
Oils	62	1,332,617,778
Coppers	15	824,463,820
Chemicals	9	1,021,697,297

The official figures of the New York stock exchange showed that the total market value of its listed securities on Oct. 1 was $87,073,630,423. The decline in the 240 representative issues, therefore, cut more than one-sixth from the toal value of the listed securities. Most of this loss was inflicted by the wholesale liquidation of the last week.

Down on the padded floor of the stock exchange there did not seem to be more than the usual clamor to show that the market was piling up its greatest volume in history. It was outside in Wall street, in the offices, in the homes and thousands of miles away in other cities that the collapse had become a reality. There was prosperity on the floor, for every time a broker sells or buys he makes money for his firm.

The visitors' gallery has been closed to casual spectators since last Thursday. Today it was filled with reporters.

A dull roaring burst into full throated cries as one stepped into the gallery. Down below on the floor crowds of linen coated "specialists" were grouped about the trading posts that so often have been described as miniature lighthouses.

A Crush and Clamor.

The scene resembled the crush on a subway platform on the crowded shoving of commuters as they make their way homeward on the 5:15. Men darted from post to post, waved papers, shouted at the top of their voices. Here and there an individual stood away from the pawing mob. These men seemed cool and apparently pleased.

The great telephone call board on the high domed wall had virtually every call signal lighted this afternoon. The illuminated ticker chased itself around the lower wall, its cryptic figures causing some to shout and others to groan.

It was in the outside world, however, that the real drama of the stock market was found today. In Washington the federal reserve board, in a special session, was watching the market. Down in the customers' rooms in the brokerage offices tired faced men and a few dry eyed women were watching the market.

Hysteria Starts Early.

The stock selling hysteria engulfed the market before the day got well under way. Before noon 3,278,200 shares had been dumped on the market. This was at the rate of almost 21,000,000 shares for a full day. It was apparent that a runaway market was in progress. The very best stocks in the world were being cast overboard, slipping downward from $3 to $5 a share between sales.

Trading in the first half hour reached the staggering total of 3,259,000 shares. The ticker was more than one hour behind at 10:30 o'clock. It was soon afterward that the bankers and investment houses threw their money bags into the breach.

The attempts to check the decline were evident in the violent fluctuations in some of the leading stocks. Time and again the bankers telephoned huge orders to the exchange, believing they would be sufficient to absorb all offerings and bring about a rally. Each time the buying was mopped up and the dam broken through again.

Use U. S. Steel as Buffer.

Selling became more urgent than at any time since the decline started and prices were forced lower and lower.

Then the bankers began to use United States Steel as a buffer and late in the afternoon a rally, erratic, it is true, but nevertheless a rally, began to take shape. Even the raiding bears seemed willing to call it a day. There was a lull. Then, just before the closing gong, the wolves came back into the market and began chasing bears and bulls to every corner. The gong gave traders a breathing spell, but there was little sleep tonight for brokerage house employés, buried under the biggest day in the history of Wall street.

Times Square felt the blow. As fast as newsboys could dump their papers into the 42d and Broadway region they were gobbled up.

Theatrical producers confessed their fear of the future. Their business already slipping, the stock market debacle will not add customers to the new shows. Luxury dealers already are feeling a slackening in trade. The high priced suites in some of the big hotels are being vacated and a current gibe to newcomers at these same hotels is "do you want the room for sleeping or jumping purposes?"

EDITORS THINK SPECULATORS HAD IT COMING

General Comment Is of Faith in U. S. Industry.

Editorial comment by the press of the country dealing with the stock market situation and gathered by the Associated Press, follows:

NEW YORK EVENING POST—The "feeling" is better. This is the "news" of the stock market situation. There is no doubt that the tension is lessened. Wall street has become acutely conscious of the west. It was the belated western selling that intensified the last hours of Thursday's break.

KANSAS CITY STAR—In a series of editorials printed in September the Star called attention to the precarious conditions of the stock market and to the heavy burden imposed upon industry and upon the farming west by the excessive concentration of credit on Wall stret. Now that the inevitable deflation has come, business conditions remain essentially sound with expanding demands throughout the world. With credit being released from Wall street, the way is prepared for a further advance in industry.

TULSA WORLD—The continuous performance in the stock market indicates that professional and amateur speculators refuse to be impressed by the uneasiness of business and the public generally. Allowing the craze to run its course may endanger the entire country. Governmental and fiscal authority may be forced to intervene.

BROOKLYN EAGLE.—The inevitable losses incurred by thousands of persons whose confidence in upward speculation exceeed their judgment are lamentable, but could not be helped, for the simple reason that no movement in speculation can live indefinitely on enthusiasm. It is to be hoped that any further liquidation will continue orderly and that nonholders of shares will soon make up their minds at what levels these warrant purchase on the basis of sound judgment.

NEW YORK NEWS.—The sagging of the stocks has not destroyed a single factory, wiped out a single farm or city lot or real estate development, decreased the productive powers of a single workman or machine in the United States. All those things are still there. Those things make money, make values, make prosperity.

NEW YORK WORLD. — However sour things may look to individuals at the moment, the country has not suffered a catastrophe. Its power to produce wealth is unimpaired; its power to consume wealth in unimpaired. In very large degree, the present excitement is concerned with a gambler's change of fortune in the distribution of the surplus luxury money.

LOUISVILLE COURIER JOURNAL—The commotion on the stock exchange has been long overdue, as the logical result of excessive speculation which has pushed up and kept up prices to figures which in many instances were artificial. Conditions will right themselves, without serious injury to the country or to the market.

LOUISVILLE HERALD-POST—While Wall street was getting rid of its weak holders to their own most drastic punishment, grain was stronger. It was the elder Morgan who observed that in the long run it never paid to be a bear on the United States.

BALTIMORE SUN—The stock market crash is the result of many forces, most of them transitory, and all of them combined incapable of upsetting the firm base of prosperity. The crash is an inevitable reaction to a consistent post-war Republican policy of pumping artificial stimulants into the economic system.

NEW YORK TIMES—The country's credit facilities have been frightfully mishandled by the reckless Wall street speculators, but at least the visible signs at the crucial moment do not indicate such spread of spectacular reaction from the stock exchange into trade and industry. If present indications are fulfilled sound and conservative industry will not be shaken as it used to be on such occasions.

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH—Since the stock market never did represent anything better than chance, it is not reasonable to suppose that the mischance of a day is going to make it very much different. There is always plenty of chance.

MILWAUKEE JOURNAL—We knew the market was too high. For many of the insiders this is the morning after.

ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS—Surely some responsibility for the debauch of speculation, with its disaster to thousands of small investors, must be assumed by the nation's leading financial institutions. There has been an absence of sound financial leadership on the part of the great banking groups of the country.

DES MOINES REGISTER—It was in the main paper wealth that was destroyed. The country is in reality no poorer than it was before the boom set in. We may look forward confidently to a much saner and much safer financial winter than promised a few weeks ago.

DAVENPORT TIMES—The nation is economically sound. Now, not a month ago, is the time to be bullish on America.

OMAHA WORLD-HERALD: Had Gov. Smith been elected last November, there would have been a stock market slump, but it would have come a great deal earlier and there would not have been such a long way to fall. No little blame rests with the Hoover administration. The treasury department and the federal reserve board lent support and encouragement to the gambling orgy.

High Spots in Third Sweep of the Great Bear Market

Sales of stocks on the New York exchange, for the second time within a week, broke a record yesterday. Total number of shares traded was 16,388,700. Last Thursday's mark was 12,880,700.

The New York curb also set a record with 7,096,300, as compared to the Thursday trading of 6,148,300 shares. The Chicago Stock exchange sales were 1,179,000 shares, slightly less than last week's big day.

Once more, as on Monday, the wheat pit showed a tendency to strength. After opening from 2⅛ to 6¾ cents lower, in sympathy with the extreme weakness in the security markets, large purchases by foreigners and domestic millers caused an upswing and net losses for the day were only 1⅝ to 2⅛ cents a bushel.

The United States Steel corporation and American Can directors each announced favorable prospects during the day and declared an extra dividend of $1 a share. Steel earned $15.82 in the first nine months of this year, against $8.17 in the corresponding period of 1928. In the face of this optimistic report the stock fell to a close of 174.

Losses in the early trading on the New York stock exchange ranged from ten to seventy points. A large number of the issues had later rallies, however, that cut the net declines in half.

Indicating a belief that a large part of the slump is over, one of the larger New York commission houses announced that its requirements for margin had been cut to 25 per cent. The call money renewal rate was reduced from 6 per cent on Monday to 5 per cent yesterday.

Proof that pool operators and the wealthier speculators have been hard hit by the market came at the opening, when huge blocks of stock were dropped in at prices less than the close on Monday. Among the big sales were 30,000 Radio, 45,000 Anaconda, 50,000 General Motors, 10,000 American Can, 50,000 Standard Oil of New Jersey, and 20,000 Du Pont.

The influence of the heavy selling in the United States extended to foreign countries again. Stockholm's bourse experienced a wave of selling, particularly in industrials. The Swedish Match trust's shares dropped ten to twenty-one points.

Proposals that the New York stock exchange limit trading to a two hour session today were disregarded by the board of governors. Had the arrangebeen made the Chicago exchange would have followed suit.

One trader on the New York curb was suspended yesterday when his firm failed to meet its obligations. This concern was not doing a commission business and the suspension had no effect on the trading.

London brokers again remained in their offices for the evening to care for customers dealing in American stocks. Montreal's exchange sold 525,000 shares, with a net decline in twenty representative issues averaging 7.78 points.

Bond sales in New York reached $29,868,000, a new record. Some of the convertible issues suffered heavy losses, ranging from thirteen to thirty-one points. Even the best grade of rail mortgages fell one to two points and government issues were weaker.

A banquet of the Association of Cashiers of Chicago stock exchange firms, scheduled for last night, was cancelled. The reason assigned was that the cashiers had been compelled to work far into the night to clear up the day's transactions.

On the Chicago exchange utility shares bore the brunt of the selling attack. Commonwealth Edison was down seventy-five points to 235. Middle West new closed at 21½, a loss of 6½.

A telephone caller asked THE TRIBUNE for information on Cities Service last evening. On being informed of 22½ close and the recent high of 68½ he remarked: "Our minister sunk $6,000 in that near the top and we are trying to figure some way to get him out, even if it costs us money."

A bookmaker, having gathered in the necessary $250 to meet margin call from speculators on the horse races, was on his way through the crowd in a brokerage office seeking a margin clerk when his pocket was picked. "One fellow in the house made some money today," was the bookie's comment.

Tiny Mouse Breaks Up Women's Political Meeting

BRADFORD, England, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A mouse made an unfair attack on woman suffrage tonight. A man pointed the rodent out to Mrs. Ethel Grundy, Laborite candidate for municipal office. She exclaimed, "O, it's a mouse," and nervously tried to continue her speech. But more than half her audience, largely composed of women, fled the hall.

MERCHANT KILLED BY FALL.

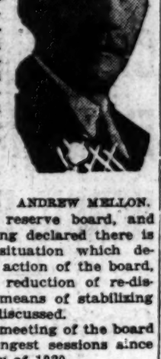
Edward Walter, 50 years old, 4550 Woodlawn avenue, a commission merchant, died late yesterday in the Chicago hospital of a skull fracture incurred Monday when he fell from the second story porch at his home.

RESERVE BANK DEBATES ALL DAY ON STOCK CRASH

Mellon Sees No Reason for Action Now.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Today's new disastrous decline in New York stock market prices provoked no apprehensive official comment, in spite of the fact that Secretary Mellon conferred for half an hour with President Hoover and the federal reserve board spent the entire day in a study of the situation.



ANDREW MELLON.

While both Secretary Mellon, who is ex-officio chairman of the reserve board, and Gov. Roy A. Young declared there is nothing in the situation which demands immediate action of the board, it is known that reduction of re-discount rates as a means of stabilizing the market was discussed.

Today's all day meeting of the board was one of its longest sessions since the financial flurry of 1920.

Debate Rediscount Rate Cut.

The Boston Federal Reserve bank directors are scheduled to meet tomorrow and the New York Federal Reserve bank directors will meet on Thursday, it was pointed out, and if either bank suggests the wisdom of a reduction, it is believed that the board may sanction the move.

Senator James Couzens [Rep., Mich.], expressed sympathy for those caught in the big squeeze, but declared he was glad that stock prices were coming down nearer where they belong.

Senator Millard Tydings [Dem., Md.] issued a statement through the Democratic national committee asserting that if a Democratic President and Democratic congress were in power, the panicky condition would be charged against the Democratic party "in accordance with the old election bugaboo that prosperity and wealth have been patented and trademarked by the Republican party."

"Sympathetic as every one must be with the losses falling upon those who can least afford it, in most cases there is the ironical realization that these great leaders, who a year ago were yelling 'prosperity,' are trying to find a scapegoat in the face of a 15 billion dollar loss in one week of American life."

RICH AND POOR ARE HIT ALIKE BY PRICE DROPS

Juror on Duty Waits for Bad News.

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Reverbrations of the stock market collapse reached far and wide today, echoing in every nook and corner of the city's feverish life, the din and confusion which reigned in Wall street throughout its history-making toboggan.

Jurymen were forced to sit stolid and silent listening to testimony while aware their fortunes were melting away.

One juror hearing the Frank H. Warder bribery trial in Supreme court admitted at noon that he was more than $70,000 poorer than when he entered the jury box this morning. Other members of the jury were in similar plight.

Theaters Are Hard Hit.

Beekman and Broad street hospitals, near the financial district, sent their ambulances on several calls to resuscitate exhausted brokers, clerks, and customers overcome by the tension of the market.

Theatrical producers, groaning already from the shock of the Thursday decline, figuratively tore their hair when news of today's debacle reached Broadway. Not only will many of the plays just on the danger line be imperiled by the break, but the big musical shows which draw their principal patronage from Wall street patrons willing to pay fancy premiums for good seats will be left to starve, it is feared.

Many Luxuries Affected.

Other luxuries, ordinarily bought in huge quantities by the good natured and flush speculative element along about the time of the holidays, are expected to be left severely alone because of the crash in the street.

That the ramifications of the present market reached into humble as well as wealthy homes was evident today by the suit of Mrs. Frances G. Wavra, charging Jack E. Wilson with grand larceny. He was held in $25,000 bail in Harlem court today for grand jury action.

Mrs. Wavra alleges she gave Wilson $70 and interest coupons worth $220 to get her ten shares of Bankers National Investment stock, but never received it or her money. On another occasion she gave Wilson $3,000 for stock that proved worthless, she said.

...OCK DIP CAN'T ...R PROSPERITY, ...OVER AID SAYS

...n Air Tells Public ...usiness Is O. K.

...Tribune Press Service.]

...gton, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—...withstanding conditions in ...w York securities markets, the ...al and commercial structure ...country is sound, according to ...Klein, assistant secretary ...merce. In a radio address ...night over a nation-wide ..., he painted a highly optimis... ...k for the future. It was ...s an expression of the admin...'s view.

...ing the stock market slump. ...n pointed out that probably ...ne per cent of the total ...lth of the country is directly ...ed by the crash of prices. After ...sisted, the securities slump ...d materially influence the buying ...r of the consuming public.

...Klein recalled that last Friday ...ident Hoover declared "the fun...tal business of the country, that ...production and distribution of com...dities, is on a sound and prosper...basis."

Not Major Barometer.

"There is no reason today to change ...y word of this statement of the ...dent," Dr. Klein said. "Stock ...ng prices have gone down ma...rially since Friday but the stock ...et is not the major barometer of ...ness, and a decline in security ...es does not greatly affect the buy...power of the community, on which ...ing power rests the activity of ...ustries, the earnings of corpora...s and other business enterprises, ...the employment of labor.

"No one knows the number of per...s engaged in this speculative ac..., but even if we accepted the ...st estimate of some nonofficial ob...ers, who place the speculative ac...ty at about a million, these still ...ld involve less than 4 per cent of ...e families in the entire nation. ...If we put it on the basis of indi...uals, the ratio would be less than ...per cent of the total population.

No Affect on Export Trade.

"I don't think that I am be...ing the hardships of even this ...all fragment of our people, but even ...f these speculators suffered—and ...ere were untold thousands who did ...—yet still would have a vastly pre...ponderant majority of the nation un...affected by these speculative gyrations. ...And remember, to cite just one cor...ollary of this situation, that these ...speculative accounts could be matched ...dollar for dollar by the more than 2,000,000 ...people who derive their livelihood ...from export trade, which is almost en...tirely unaffected by this movement."

"Stock prices have gone down sud...denly because over the last two or ...three years it seems to be generally ...realized that they had risen much too ...rapidly. Throughout the last eight ...years, with very temporary and minor ...exceptions, the production of goods ...and services in the United States has ...steadily, but on the whole very con...siderably, increased.

Adds to Business Profits.

"That is the same thing as saying ...that national income increased. This ...naturally added to the profits of busi...ness, especially as, at the same time, ...new economies in production meth...ods were introduced. The increased ...activity of business justified an advance ...in stock prices, but they did not jus...tify going up to the sky.

"It would have been proper, no ...doubt, for stocks to rise in price some...what faster than actual production of ...commodities because of the gradual ...growth among the people of confi...dence in the general future of Ameri...can business. Such a conviction might ...justify some discounting of future ...increases in earnings in the prices of se...curities. It did not justify carrying ...prices to such a level that in many ...cases only a good many years hence ...could one hope for corporate earnings ...to afford pay a fair rate of return ...on the prices paid for stocks.

A Boom Psychology.

"We have been under the influence, ...as regards stock prices, of a boom ...psychology. Many persons have ...bought stocks with little knowledge of ...the present or probable future divi...dend paying capacity. Many, more...over, have borrowed money to make ...their stock purchases.

"A reaction was bound to occur."

Conclusive evidence, Dr. Klein ar...gued, that the progress of industry ...and commerce in recent years is solid...based and is not "a mere inflation...ary boom," is found in the steadiness ...of commodity prices.

"Some of you," Dr. Klein continued, ...may be expecting me to tell you ...what is going to happen to stock ...prices tomorrow and next week. If ...I pause to think about it, however, ...you will realize that it would be quite ...improper as well as impossible for any ...government official to give out such an ...opinion.

"All of us are justified, in my opin...ion, in a profound confidence in the ...general economic future of the coun...try. The fundamental factor in the ...general situation of business is pur...chasing power. Real purchasing ...power is made up of wages, salaries, ...profits of farmers, merchants, profes...sional men, and others and the profits ...of industry. These factors have not ...been changed by the drop in stock ...prices.

Don't Cut Buying Power.

"The number of citizens whose buy...ing ability has been affected by the ...decline in the value of speculative se...curities is not large. Their purchases ...do not make up a very significant ...portion of the demand for goods. ...There is no reason why the 25 million ...persons, representing over 95 per cent ...of our population, whose incomes re...main undiminished, should cut their ...buying of commodities and there...fore industries should see any ap...preciable reduction in the sales.

"After all, the volume of our pur...chasing power measures the height of ...our living standards; it is the impres...sive manifestation of our high wage ...scale. And basically our normal pur...chasing power has not been appreci...ably impaired. Regardless of regret...table speculative uncertainties, the in...dustrial and commercial structure of ...the nation is sound."

INSURANCE CHIEF ADVISES FIRMS TO BUY STOCKS

Optimism Expressed by Business Leaders.

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—One of the many statements issued from influential quarters in Wall street in an effort to bolster public confidence on the stock market anew came from Albert Conway, state superintendent of insurance, who declared such a drastic reduction has been made in the prices of leading stocks that he regards them as suitable investments for large insurance companies.

His statement was issued after officers of the Morgan banking interests had met and declined to amplify their declaration of yesterday that they will work for "stabilization" of the market.

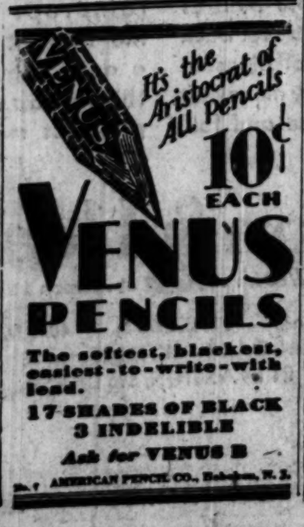
Mr. Conway called a meeting of the presidents of several important insurance companies in his office late in the afternoon to put his recommendation formally before them. He said he would advise them not only that certain leading issues are a suitable investment, but would recommend that they place "a substantial amount" of their assets into such stocks.

Another prominent business man to add his optimistic opinion as to the desirability of purchasing stocks at current prices was Robert S. Binkerd, president of the United States Shares Financial corporation, who said:

"We have been substantial purchasers in today's market. Among the stocks which we bought were American Telephone and Telegraph, Atchison, Atlantic Coast Line, American Can, American Smelting and Refining, Baltimore and Ohio, Delaware and Hudson, Electric Bond and Share, General Railway Signal, International Harvester, Montgomery Ward, New York Central, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Standard Oil of New Jersey, Trico Products, Union Carbide and Carbon, and Westinghouse Electric.

Market Victim Attempts Suicide in Kansas City

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 29.—(AP)—John G. Schwitzgebel, insurance man, fired two shots into his chest at the Kansas City club today in an attempt at suicide. "Tell the boys I can't pay them what I owe them," he told friends who rushed to his room. A brother said he believed Schwitzgebel "had been caught in the market like others."



JUDGES ASK SLASH OF $2,300,000 IN COUNTY FEE JOBS

Slashing the county pay rolls to avert another crisis in county finances next year was recommended yesterday by the Circuit court committee on employment, consisting of Judges Kerner, chairman; Klarkowski, and Feinberg, who fix the number of employés in fee offices. The judges requested officials to cut approximately $2,300,000 from employment estimates for the 1930 budget and to practice rigid economy in other expenditures.

The meeting was called by President Cermak of the county board with the approval of the judges. With Commissioners Newby, Whealan, and Busse, President Cermak argued against the increases in help asked by department heads. Judge Kerner appointed a group of fee officers to meet with other fee officials in an attempt to reduce employment estimates and suggest curtailment of other expenses. The officials on the advisory commission are Criminal Court Clerk Passmore, Circuit Court Clerk Wallace, Treasurer Harding, County Clerk Sweitzer, Recorder Smith, and Sheriff Traeger. The officials are to report their findings within two weeks.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 29.—Panic scenes resembling those of the first days of the world war in August, 1914, were being reenacted here today. Hundreds of suddenly impoverished Americans, ruined by the series of Wall street market crashes, are seeking financial aid and steamship accommodations home.

Various brokerage offices maintaining cable stock quotations from New York were jammed with crowds of men and women, helplessly watching the ticker whittling away the fortunes they had amassed during the upward drive of the market in the last couple of years.

Try to Cash I. O. U.'s.

Owing to the difference in time between New York and Paris, the brokerage offices here are open from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m. Men and women in evening clothes and décolleté gowns and fur wraps dash in from theaters and night life centers to get a last glimpse of the quotation board and to learn if they have sunk another step toward poverty.

Branches of American banks and travel agencies have been besieged by tourists seeking to cash checks, drafts, I. O. U.'s, or anything to raise money. All the banks and agencies have been instructed to be extremely cautious about advancing funds, and generally they insist on cabling banks in the United States for assurances that the checks are good before passing over the money.

Yankees Sell Jewelry.

Many American visitors are frantically trying to sell valuables which they purchased here a few weeks ago, when they were still comparatively rich. The Rue de la Paix and Place Vendome jewelers declare that more than half of their recent customers are desperately trying to return the gems purchased before the crash for half what they paid for them.

Classified advertisements in the local newspapers contain offers from formerly rich American women offering to sacrifice robes, coats, and even lingerie and hats purchased before they were wiped out by the market collapse.

Give Up Hotel Suites.

"Every suite in the house will be vacated within a week, and people formerly occupying several rooms, salons and baths have now moved to little hall bedrooms," said the manager of one of the largest hotels.

Last night a certain wealthy New York broker telephoned Ciro's restaurant canceling an elaborate dinner party of 30 covers ordered the day before.

"Our client could not even afford to pay $200 for the flowers and table decorations we already had ordered," said the maitre d'hotel.

Rush for Boat Reservation.

Speculators are desperately seeking reservations on the first boats, hoping to reach home in time to save something from the wreck.

Leading dressmakers are complaining at the numerous orders for gowns left on their hands by women customers who are unable to pay the balance due after the initial deposit.

Numerous American domestics brought over during the summer and fired since the market broke are demanding aid from the American consulate. Their former employers are unable to pay them wages, or even support them.

JOHN J. BELL & CO. IS SUSPENDED FROM THE CURB EXCHANGE

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—John J. Bell & Co. has been suspended from the Curb, having announced failure to meet engagements.

The announcement on the Curb Exchange ticker today said: "Members having contracts subject to the rules of the exchange with said firm shall without unnecessary delay proceed to close the same, in accordance with chapter 4, section 1, of the rules of the constitution."

John J. Bell & Co. engaged in a general commission business, although the floor member of the firm is reported to have handled accounts for his friends. In November, 1928, the firm encountered legal difficulties when the state's attorney general obtained an injunction against John J. Bell and others restraining them from doing business on the ground that Bell had participated in "wash sales" of the Shaw Mines, Inc., when the stock rose from 32 to 92 cents a share and dropped back to 12 when the selling campaign ended.

The Appellate division dissolved the injunction on the ground that Bell had no knowledge that the sales were illegitimate.

Seattle House Closed.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Frazier, Goodwin & Colver, investment brokers of Seattle, today asked that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the affairs of the company in a suit filed in Superior court. The complaint, filed by H. A. Colver, recited that the firm has been trading on a margin basis in New York stocks.

BOND COMPANY SUES DIRECTOR OF REVALUATION

Harry S. Cutmore, director of the reassessment, was named defendant in the praecipe of a $100,000 slander suit filed yesterday in the Superior court by the Consolidated Bond and Mortgage company. Attorney De Witt Cleland, representing the company, said that the suit is brought as an answer to charges of racketeering and thieving alleged to have been made by Cutmore at a hearing before the board of review earlier in the day.

The company represented F. J. Favner, owner of property at 1215-27 Lunt avenue, and Charles F. Henry, owner of the Highlands hotel, 7455 Greenview avenue, who sought reductions of assessments on their property because of an error in measurements. Cutmore is said to have accused the company of stealing a reassessment manual.

"I said something during the heat of the argument," Cutmore said when he learned of the action, "but I don't remember exactly what it was."

KILLS PROWLER IN LAKE VILLA.

A. W. De Groff, a railroad policeman, shot and killed an unidentified man whom he surprised in the act of robbing freight cars on a Soo Line train at Lake Villa last night.

BUSINESS SOUND DESPITE STOCKS, 98 LEADERS SAY

Sales in Many Lines Are O. K., They Declare.

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A symposium of opinion from 98 leading business executives, all of whom express confidence in fundamental strength of business, in contrast to the wild hysteria of stock selling, was compiled today by Louis Guenther, financial publisher. Excerpts from several of the statements follow:

WALTER S. GIFFORD, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph company—The business prospects of the Bell Telephone system are as good as they ever have been, and we look for continued growth and expansion.

H. T. PARSON, president of F. W. Woolworth & Co.—Business prospects, as far as F. W. Woolworth & Co. is concerned, are very good indeed for the balance of the year.

Like Sheep Stampede.

PAUL SHOUP, president, Southern Pacific—I remember, out west, as a boy, I acquired several kinks in my voice trying to save a flock of sheep from jumping into a ravine, one after the other, and was wholly unsuccessful. So far as the business along our railroad is concerned there is no more reason for people falling over each other in the stock market than the sheep had reason to jump into that ravine.

R. E. WOOD, president of Sears Roebuck & Co.—Our October sales are the largest on record. While the shaking of public confidence may impair buying power somewhat in the next few months, I see no grounds for any real depression in business.

Industrial Conditions O. K.

M. C. BRUSH, president of the American International corporation—The frenzied selling of high grade excellent investment stocks at present prices is deeply to be regretted. The country is in a more prosperous, safe and industrially sound condition than it ever has been before.

SAMUEL M. VAUCLAIN, chairman of the Baldwin Locomotive works—The business of the Baldwin Locomotive works is better at the present time than for several years. The future seems brighter than at any time since 1923.

Business Horizon Clear.

C. M. CHESTER, president of the General Food corporation, formerly Postum—"Our business horizon is clear, conditions are highly satisfactory, and the outlook for 1930 is exceptionally good."

J. J. PELLEY, president of the New Haven railroad—"On the basis of traffic offered, present and prospective business conditions in the territory served by the New York, New Haven and Hartford are exceptionally good."

K. R. KINGSBURY, president Standard Oil of California—"The prospect for effective conservation [of crude oil] which will result in balancing production with demand is brighter today than it has been at any time."

BUSINESS AS USUAL ON STOCK EXCHANGE DECREED FOR TODAY

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Business will go on as usual on the security markets tomorrow, the governing committee of the New York Stock exchange having decided, at a special meeting this evening, that the present emergency is not of sufficient gravity to warrant a suspension of trading.

Although the situation is concededly serious, the governing authorities determined not to make any alteration in the trading schedule. The exchange will open at 10 o'clock, as it usually does, and will close at 3, the regular time. For a time today it looked as if business might be confined tomorrow to four hours instead of five.

Members of the governing committee declined, after the meeting, to say what was discussed. Richard Whitney, the acting president of the exchange, issued the following statement:

"The meeting considered carefully the present situation, but felt no action was necessary and adjourned to its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon."

RASKOB BUYING STOCKS; CALLS THEM BARGAINS

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—John J. Raskob, one of the country's leading industrial and political leaders, declared tonight that many stocks are selling at bargain prices and that he and his friends are buyers of stocks. It may be stated in this connection that Mr. Raskob has been out of the stock market for many months and did not reënter it until he believed stocks had reached a level at which they could be purchased with safety.

"Prudent investors," he said, "are now buying stocks in huge quantities and will profit handsomely when this hysteria is over and our people have opportunity in calmer moments to appreciate the great stability of business by reason of the sound fundamental economic conditions existing in this great country.

"The pendulum has swung too far. The list is filled with bargains and my friends and I are all buying stocks."

Steel Founders Are Urged to Keep Abreast of Times

Granville P. Rogers, managing director of the Society of Steel Founders of America, yesterday told 150 members of the organization at their annual meeting in the Hotel Sherman that they were somewhat behind the times. "We must specialize more in advertising and publicity, and study cost accounting more closely," he said. J. S. McCauley of Pittsburgh was re-elected president of the society. Vice presidents chosen are: W. H. Worrilow, Lebanon, Pa.; John E. Galvin, Lima, O.; Arthur Simonson, Milwaukee, and E. H. Cornelius, Tulsa, Okla.

NATIONAL GRAIN CORPORATION ON ITS LEGAL FEET

Papers Proclaim Program of New Relief Body.

Wheat Prices Drop

Wheat prices on the Chicago exchange broke sharply yesterday at the opening, but heavy buying orders put them up again before the close, the loss for the day being only 1¼@2¼c.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—With the filing of papers for incorporation of the Farmers' National Grain corporation, a country-wide coöperative marketing agency, the federal farm board today brought into legal existence the agency through which it hopes to solve the wheat problem of the central states.

The articles of the new corporation, which will set up headquarters in Chicago, were filed at Wilmington, Del., by the officers of the incorporating board of directors. It will start functioning at once.

First Important Step.

Launching of the grain corporation, the first of a series of similar bodies to be organized for the coöperatives dealing in wool, live stock, and other farm commodities, was looked upon as the most important step yet taken by the board to carry out President Hoover's farm relief policies as written into the agricultural marketing act by congress.

Through this corporation, bringing the farmer owned sales associations together under one leadership, the board expects to disburse loans amounting to 100 million dollars, or more if necessary, from its five hundred million dollar revolving funds.

Upon the grain corporation will devolve two tasks, each of utmost significance to wheat growers—first, to give the farmers control of their marketing, and, second, to stabilize grain prices at a high level.

"Great Day for Agriculture."

"This, I believe, is a great day for agriculture," commented Alexander Legge, chairman of the farm board. "We have set out to help the farmers of this country get on their feet, and we are confident that this organization and others like it will go a long way in doing the job."

Plans for the new corporation were initiated in Chicago on July 26, when, at the call of the board, representatives of thirty-six coöperatives created an organization committee of sixteen members. This group selected a subcommittee of three, which drafted the articles of incorporation and by-laws, submitting its report to the committee of sixteen in Chicago Oct. 25, when it was given final approval.

Legge Explains Program.

Chairman Legge, on behalf of the board, issued a lengthy statement setting forth the purposes and program of the corporation in a cautious but optimistic vein.

"The Farmers' National Grain corporation is organized on a strictly coöperative basis, which will make use—to the greatest extent possible—of all existing farmer-owned grain marketing facilities," the statement asserted. "The organization will have adequate capital and if given the support of existing farmer-owned grain marketing associations will handle annually a volume considerably in excess of 500 millions bushels of all grains.

"Such an organization, if properly managed and properly supported by the farmer-owned grain marketing associations, should not only reduce local and terminal marketing costs and eliminate much waste in marketing but should also exert a strong influence toward greater market-price stabilization."

"Best of all," the statement continued, "it provides a means whereby the grain producers may help themselves through their own efforts rather than by receiving what might be termed a direct 'dole' out of public funds."

Purposes of Body Stated.

A summary of the provisions in the articles of incorporation, which were made public along with the announcement of their filing, follows:

NATURE, OBJECTS, AND PURPOSES.

To promote and provide a medium for unity of effort by farmers in marketing their grains and to reduce waste in marketing.

To buy grain from its stockholders and others and to sell the same, but it shall not deal in grain of nonstockholders to an amount greater in value than that handled for stockholders.

To lease, purchase, or construct elevators and other storage facilities.

To lend money in keeping with the farm relief act, to farmer-owned grain elevator associations, sales agencies, and pools.

To maintain a department of educational and publicity purposes and a research department.

To buy, hold and sell property, assume obligations, and carry on other business necessary to its operation.

SHARES OF STOCK.

The total capital shall be 100,000 shares of the par value of $100 each.

ELIGIBILITY OF STOCKHOLDERS.

Only farmer owned grain elevator associations, grain sales agencies, and grain pools organized under the Capper-Volstead law can be members. No stock can be sold or transferred except as authorized by the board of directors.

The territory within which stockholders are located is to be apportioned in five districts, which are: (1) Kansas, Oklahoma, Colorado and Texas; (2) Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Missouri, except Kansas City, Mo., which shall be in district 12; (3) Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana; (4) California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho; (5) Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska and Wyoming.

DIRECTORS.

There are to be twenty-nine directors, seventeen to be elected from the district named and one each from the American Farm Bureau federation and the National Grange.

Until changed, the number of directors to represent each district and classes of stockholders, will be as follows:

No. 1	1	2	2
No. 2	1	1	1
No. 3	2	1	1
No. 4	1	0	0
No. 5	2	1	1
Total	7	5	5

If at any time this apportionment of directors becomes disproportionate to the amount of grain marketed, the directors are authorized to make a reapportionment.

BUILDING SURPLUS.

No dividends are to be paid until the capital and surplus of the corporation have been built up to $20,000,000.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The corporation is to have perpetual existence. The private property of the stockholders is not to be responsible for the debts of the corporation. As long as the corporation is in debt to the federal farm board its policies must be satisfactory to the farm board.

"COUNTESS" SUICIDE THREAT LETTER READ TO CORONER'S JURY

A verdict of "suicide while temporarily insane" was returned yesterday by a coroner's jury investigating the death of Mrs. Evelyn Waddington Grealy, self styled countess, widow of a British army officer, whose body was found Friday in her apartment at 6618 Glenwood avenue.

Three letters written by Mrs. Grealy were read by George Helster, the policeman who found them.

In one, believed to have been addressed to John Maier, called "the handsome cop," the woman wrote: "When you receive this I shall be dead. I have reached the end of things. Forgive me and forget me. You have been very good to me in many ways but in offers you have made by life an empty shell. I am glad to die. I have got into trouble and cannot face the consequences. My dear, good-by.

GRUNDY TELLS BORAH TO KEEP SILENT ON TARIFF

Lobbyist Calls Idaho One of 'Backward States.'

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Eight or ten of the leading industrial states that pay the bulk of the federal tax revenues should be trusted to frame the country's tariff policy, according to Joseph R. Grundy, legislative representative of Pennsylvania manufacturers, who appeared today for the second time before the senate's lobby investigating committee.

Hectored and badgered by the senators for nearly three hours, the veteran lobbyist asserted his conviction that the "backward" states of the west and south which receive far more in appropriations from the federal treasury than they contribute should "talk pretty darn small" on policies affecting the states which form "the tax reservoir of the country."

Calls It Great Misfortune.

Grundy willingly conceded that the founding fathers had done "the best they could" in providing that each state should have two senators, but declared the provision is "a great misfortune" and added that if he could have his way the "obstructionist" senators from the "backward" states would be limited to discussion of "outdoor relief or Junior Red Cross projects."

Pressed to name the "backward" states, Grundy declared to Senator W. E. Borah [Rep., Idaho] that the latter's presence in the senate is proof enough for Grundy of Idaho's backwardness. Similarly, he bluntly told Senator T. H. Caraway [Dem., Ark.] that any state which, like Arkansas, showed such little interest in a senatorial election that only 30,000 votes were cast must be backward.

Senator T. J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.] undertook to cross-examine Grundy on tables submitted by the Pennsylvanian during his first appearance before the committee last week tending to show the great disparity in total taxes paid by Pennsylvania and seven "backward" states—Arizona, South Dakota, Mississippi, Arkansas, Idaho, Montana and Wisconsin—whose senators, Grundy asserted, "have been most vocal in the efforts to prevent industry from procuring any tariff benefits."

Would Need Amplifiers.

In a statement accompanying the tables Grundy asserted, "If volume of voice in the senate was proportioned to population, productive power, or the total sum contributed toward the national upkeep, some of those states which are now most vocal would need amplifiers to make their whispers heard." The truth, he added, is that the "backward" states do not pay enough to cover the costs of collecting the taxes and large tax paying states support them, "providing them good roads, postoffices, and other federal aid improvements, figuratively on a golden platter."

"Why," declared Grundy today, "when you come to analyze their part in the national system you find they haven't got any chips in the game."

"They found that out long ago," interjected Senator Caraway.

"And," continued Grundy, "if it wasn't for the constitutional provision giving them two senators they wouldn't be heard from at all. For all these men who represent so little to obstruct the preservation of this system which has built up the great reservoirs of taxation is a tragedy.

Question of Outdoor Relief.

"If it was a question of outdoor relief or Junior Red Cross activities in their states they might have a right to be heard. These states are the ones who have failed to take full advantage of their natural resources and the opportunities provided by the federal government."

"Well, then," said Senator Caraway, "your view is that wealth, and not states, ought to elect senators."

"I wouldn't go that far," answered Grundy. "But when it comes to the tariff and other subjects of importance to the great states like Pennsylvania I think the smaller states should depend on these large state senators for their views."

Wants Little From Idaho.

"Then in tariff matters, for instance," said Senator Caraway, "the people of Idaho ought not to say anything?"

"They ought to talk pretty darned small," declared Grundy.

In response to Senator Caraway's demand, Grundy listed among the senators who "shouldn't put up any roars," those from Arkansas, Mississippi, Georgia, North and South Dakota, and then promised to compile what Senator Caraway termed "Grundy's list of 'senators, preferred,' and 'senators, common.'".

Gets Laugh on Walsh.

"You would reform our system of government, would you?" asked Senator Walsh, after Grundy said he thought it "a great misfortune" that each state was allowed two senators.

"No," demurred Grundy.

"How, then, would you silence Senator Borah and myself?" asked Senator Walsh.

"I should think your intelligence would suggest silence on such matters," retorted Grundy to the delight of the hearing room crowd, which roared with laughter.

"What would you do with Wisconsin?" asked Senator Borah.

"O, senator, I'd hate to tell you," responded Mr. Grundy, and even the senators, apparently amazed at his doctrines, joined in the outburst of laughter at the sally.

Pressed by Senator Borah, the Pennsylvanian said Alabama "has been doing pretty well of late," Arkansas, Georgia, Mississippi, and Nebraska, he said, are all "pretty bad," and while Oklahoma has been "going pretty good lately," Kansas "is not as good as it was." South Carolina's position, he asserted, was demonstrated by the fact that only about 14,000 votes were cast in the last senatorial election.

Asks Silence from 38 States.

"Then, as you figure it," said Senator Borah, "all but eight or ten states should be silent?"

"Well, not silent," explained Grundy, "but they ought to have a proper appreciation of the proprieties."

"Why classify Idaho as a backward state and not put Wyoming in the same category?" asked Senator Walsh.

"I don't want to say," demurred Grundy.

"Let's be perfectly candid about it," interrupted Senator Borah, "it's because I'm from Idaho, isn't it?"

"Yes, partly," answered Grundy.

TRENCH MOUTH HITS SCHOOL; 70 PUPILS TREATED

Seventy pupils of the Spaulding School for Crippled Children were ordered isolated from their companions at meal times and instructed to use separate drinking fountains by Health Commissioner Kegel yesterday following the discovery of an epidemic of Vincent's Angina-trench mouth at the school.

Sir John Collier of England, who had experience with the disease during the war, accompanied Dr. Kegel to the school at Ashland avenue and Washington boulevard. He explained that a factor in spreading the disease is mouth breathing, which has the effect of drying the gums. The same condition was noted among the pupils at the school who had contracted the disease.

The children were treated by health department physicians and their families notified. A study of the habits of the pupils, of the water fountains and the method of feeding is being made to check the disease. The enrollment at the school is 750 and measures were taken to prevent the other pupils from being infected.

WRIT REFUSED TO HALT SALE OF STEEL COMPANY

Circuit Judge Philip L. Sullivan refused yesterday to grant an injunction brought by a stockholder of the Interstate Iron and Steel company to prevent directors of the company from transferring its $17,000,000 assets to the Central Alloy Steel company of New York in exchange for 318,750 shares of the New York company's no par common stock.

Attorney Benjamin B. Morris, who holds 65 of the 250,000 shares of Interstate common stock, brought the suit on the contention that the deal constituted a merger. The Illinois statutes prevent Illinois corporations of the Interstate class from merging with foreign companies of the Alloy class.

Judge Sullivan ruled that the attorney failed to produce sufficient evidence that the stock transfer was a merger. The attorney announced he would appeal the case. The Interstate company has plants at 79th street and Stony Island avenue, Chicago, and at 118th street and the Calumet river, East Chicago, Ind.

Secretary of Petroleum Corporation Asks Divorce

Joseph L. Stone, secretary of the United Petroleum corporation, yesterday filed a suit for divorce in the Circuit court against his wife, Mrs. Catherine Stone, 20 years old, 5527 Artesian avenue. The bill charges cruelty and improper relations with other men. The Stones were married on Aug. 26, 1926, and separated on Sept. 19, 1929. They have one child, Joseph L. Jr., now in the custody of his father. Attorney Frank McDonald, representing Mrs. Stone, announced that he would file a bill for separate maintenance in her behalf.

COUNCIL PONDERS HOW TO COLLECT FROM RAILROADS

Collection of $500,000 from railroads occupying city property without paying compensation was considered yesterday by the council committee on local industries, streets, and alleys as the result of information supplied by the city map department that some of the railroads have switch tracks on city property without council authority. A subcommittee was appointed to investigate.

The Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad alone occupies parts of thirty-four streets and thirteen alleys without permits, according to the report of the map department. The values of this property was computed at $250,000. Other railroads which have failed to pay compensation in some instances are the Baltimore and Ohio and the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, and Pacific.

Ordinances for the vacation of a number of streets by the city to the Burlington and for the payment of compensation by the railroad to the city have been pending in the committee for some time.

MRS. HARDINGE TAKES 2 YOUNG SONS BY FORCE

Mrs. Franklin S. Hardinge, wife of the Chicago manufacturer who figured in a sensational breach of promise suit last June, engaged in a tussle yesterday on a farm near Knoxville, Tenn., to regain custody of her children, Troy and Norman Weems, 8 to 6 years old. According to Knoxville dispatches last night she won at least a temporary victory.

The two boys, sons of Troy Weems, a soldier, were awarded to their father when the then Mrs. Weems obtained a divorce. Weems left his sons in care of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Weems.

Mrs. Hardinge, who with her husband had tried unsuccessfully to gain custody of the children last summer, went to the Weems farm yesterday to renew her efforts.

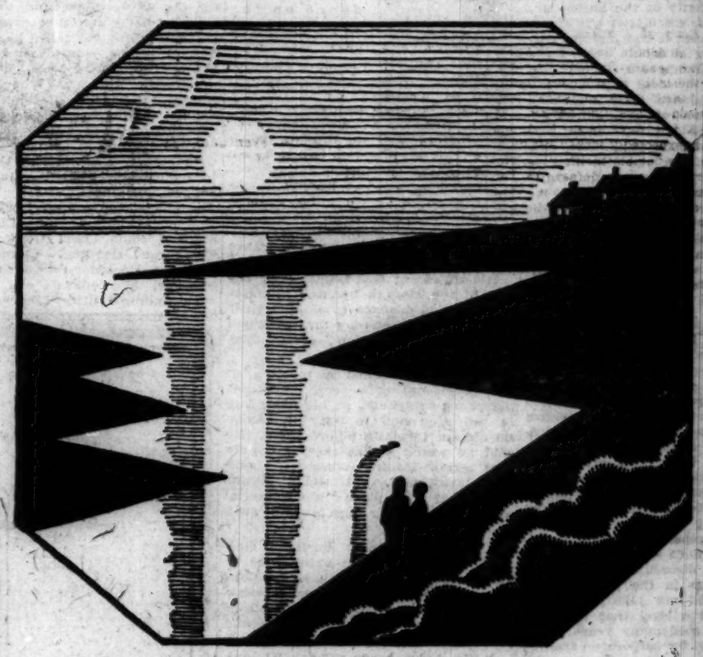
America's Great Music House



Re-live your dreams thru DUO-ART music

DUO-ART Music admits us to the whole world of thought and fancy and imagination. As we sit before its keyboard touched by the flying unseen fingers of Paderewski, Hofmann, Horowitz, Bauer, Elly Ney... we slip the cords that bind us to the earth and travel back in memory to far-off pleasant places washed by moonlight magic. Notes rise and fall. A pattern weaves itself into a silver thread of river that goes singing at our feet. Happy moments of the past surge back... our dreams, ambitions. We relax. The music moves once more into a softer tempo, like raindrops dancing on the roof.... hangs on a quivering chord.... then stops. Only the priceless mood goes on.

WATSON QUITS AS TARIFF SHIP DRIFTS ON ROCKS

Majority Leader to Take Sick Leave.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—More confusion was added to the already chaotic tariff situation. The two party leaders of the senate, it became known, are about to desert the ship.

Senator James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.], the majority leader, has been ordered by his physician to go to Florida and will leave Thursday. Senator J. T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.], the minority leader, will leave within a few days on a three weeks' visit to his home state. Neither would admit that his departure would sequalize the abandonment of all hope for the passage of the tariff bill by the senate during the special session. Neither would comment on rumors that an agreement had been reached for an adjournment by the middle of November.

The majority leader, it was disclosed today, has been under the care of physicians for a week or more and has been told he is on the edge of a nervous break. He will motor south with Mrs. Watson.

Senator Watson insisted that he would before leaving to pave the way for an agreement to debate and insure passage of the bill, either late in November or early in the regular December session.

McNary to Substitute.

Conferences participated in by Republicans led to the selection of Senator Charles L. McNary [Rep., Ore.] as leader ad interim to act during Senator Watson's absence. Senator McNary will cooperate with Senator Wesley L. Jones [Rep., Wash], assistant majority leader, who has been in ill health and is unable to assume the full duties of the leadership.

In some quarters there was a disposition to believe that while Senator Watson unquestionably is in bad health and needs to get away, various events in connection with the tariff bill have not been to his liking and that he is seizing the opportunity to drop the leadership, at least temporarily. It was even hinted that he eventually may resign the senate leadership entirely.

It is known that Senator Watson was averse to a special session and particularly to a tariff revision. He told President Hoover from the start that complications would develop which would lead to interminable delays.

Start of Trouble.

Early in the debate Senator Watson informed the senate that he had advised the President to keep his hands out of the tariff fight and that Mr. Hoover would follow his advice. It was only a few days later that the President unexpectedly issued his blast in favor of the flexible tariff. The Republican regulars met defeat on the flexible tariff issue, and since that time the coalition of Democrats and radicals has forced adoption of the export debenturep rovision and has reduced industrial duties and increased farm rates. As majority leader, Senator Watson has found himself an unsuccessful leader of a minority.

One of the latest of Senator Watson's troubles concerns the proposal of Senator George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.] for the adoption of a resolution censuring Senator Hiram Bingham [Rep., Conn.] in connection with the Eyanson disclosures in the lobby investigation. Senator Watson is the only one who has come to Senator Bingham's defense. When the Norris resolution comes up, probably Thursday, it is likely to be adopted, and Senator Watson, if he is present, will find himself unable to control the situation.

McNary Is Popular.

Senator McNary has been quite successful in handling farm legislation and has been able to keep on good terms with all elements. While closely identified with the farm group, he has usually voted with the regulars. Some of the senators think that Senator McNary may be able to accomplish something toward speeding up the passage of the tariff bill.

Regardless of the assertion of Senator David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.] that the tariff bill will never become law and the belief of other senators that it will be impossible to adjust differences between senate and house bills, it seems to be the opinion of most senators that the senate eventually will pass a bill. The death of Senator Theodore E. Burton means a loss of two days and increases the possibility that the bill may not be passed until the December session.

Senator George H. Moses [Rep., N. H.], one of the regulars, made it known that he expects to vote against the bill after the Democrats and radicals get through revising it. The old guard senators are inclined to think that the present tariff law is better than anything that can come out of the present situation. They are encouraging the talk of adjourning the special session by Nov. 15, regardless of progress made on the bill.

Senator F. M. Simmons [Dem., N. C.], ranking minority member of the finance committee, asserted that the Democrats and radical Republicans propose to go ahead with the rewriting of the tariff bill on the floor.

"There will be a vote on the tariff bill either during this extra session or the next regular session of congress and if it is killed in conference the responsibility will rest upon the house and the administration," he said.

CHARGE PASTOR WITH USURY IN MORTGAGE FIRM

Stockholders Ask Stay on New Bond Issues.

The Rev. K. G. Nilsen, pastor of the new Parkside Lutheran church without a salary, is charged with obtaining funds to support his pulpit activities on Sundays by practicing usury during the week as chairman of the board of the United States Mortgage company, 127 North Dearborn street, in a bill for an injunction filed yesterday in the Superior court. The bill is brought by ten stockholders, through Attorney Bernard J. Brown, to prevent issuance of two stock issues on the allegation they are being defrauded of ten years' dividends.

THE REV. K. G. NILSEN.

The company was incorporated in Delaware Jan. 15, 1916, with $6,000,000 authorized capital. The Rev. Mr. Nilsen has been president and chairman of the board since 1927. The petitioning stockholders own 89 of the 2,000 shares of preferred stock issued. They allege that no dividends have been paid since 1920 and that the accumulated dividends now amount to 40 per cent of the par value of the stock.

Declare Finances Falsified.

The bill avers that the pastor has elected his own board of directors whom he controls, and that he made false representations of the financial status of the company so that he could obtain proxies from the petitioning stockholders in an effort to prevent them from receiving dividends. The bill states that the Rev. Mr. Nilsen loans money at usurious rates of interest for the company.

Nilsen is said to have secured passage of a resolution creating the new issues at a meeting of stockholders Sept. 27. This move would not have been possible without their proxies, the bill states. The new issues will take priority over the preferred stock with the result that the new holders will be defrauded of their dividends, it is said.

Accept Financial Report.

The bill declares that the stockholders, who live throughout the midwest, were unable to attend the meeting and relied on the Rev. Mr. Nilsen's financial report in turning over proxies. They seek to stop the floating of the issues.

The Rev. Mr. Nilsen worked for three years without a salary to build the new Parkside church at Parkside and Barry avenues. On March 10 he laid the corner stone and later aided with his own hands in the erection of the building.

FEDERATION LAUNCHES DRIVE TO ORGANIZE DIXIE TEXTILE WORKER

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Heads of all international and national unions in the United States are to confer within the next three weeks on the labor situation in the south. A special organization campaign has been launched among the working people of the south.

Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, said today that William Green, president of the organization, would issue his call to the officers to meet in some southern city "in a few days."

While "all interested parties, regardless of craft or calling," will take part, labor leaders mainly are concerned with organization of the textile mill workers. They said the south is producing 65 per cent of the textiles manufactured in the United States, while growth of furniture, automobile, and fertilizer factories adds to the labor problem.

Federation officials said less than 10 per cent of 300,570 textile workers in the southern states were members of the United Textile Workers.

Morrison said that activities of communists at Gastonia, N. C., had impeded the work of organization of labor unions.

3 GIRLS PERISH IN FIRE; FATHER RESCUES SON

Mother Near Death After Kitchen Explosion.

Three little girls perished in a fire in the village of Hodgkins last night, despite the valiant efforts of their father, who saved his wife and son.

John Matijevich, engineer of a locomotive in the Hodgkins quarry, was puttering in the basement of his cottage last evening when an explosion occurred in the kitchen overhead. He rushed outside to the kitchen door and caught his wife, Mary, in his arms.

She had stooped to light the kerosene cooking stove to heat the evening meal when the fuel exploded, spreading fire over the kitchen. Her dress was aflame and her husband rolled her on the ground, putting out the blaze.

He rushed back in the kitchen and dragged outside his son, John Jr., 11 years old, who was cowering beside the ice box. He beat out flames on the boy's jacket, and once more started inside. The cottage by this time was a skeleton of blazing timbers. His three daughters, Mary, 5 years old; Gertrude, 3, and Virginia, 9 months old, had burned to death in their cribs in the front room.

Mrs. Matijevich and the boy were taken to the Hinsdale sanitarium. Her condition was described as grave and the boy's as less serious. The cottage burned to the ground.

ROBS CREAMERY TRUCK DRIVER.

A robber boarded a truck of the Lambrecht Creamery company, 10 East 70th street, yesterday afternoon in front of 5904 South Morgan street, compelled the driver, Joseph Gallagher, 6623 South Bishop street, to drive into an alley, and robbed him of $45.

TWELVE LOST, 60 RESCUED AS LAKE SHIP FOUNDERS

Captain Goes Down with Steamer Near Kenosha.

a bad one, and I called to a seaman to notify the captain.

"The water began to rise, but we kept firing the boilers. We set all the pumps aworking, and still the water came faster than it went. In order to give the pumps all the power we had, the main dynamos were shut off. The ship was plunged into darkness, except for the few emergency lights.

"It seemed that the ship was doomed. The captain lowered the anchor. This was so that the ship would hold without its engines going, and then we gave every ounce of power to the pumps.

"Still the water came higher and higher, until we stood to our waists in it. The ship was rolling. It seemed to be turning over and over. The cargo kept shifting about. The ashes from the coal hold were shifted by the tossing, and soon they were washing about in the hold itself. The pumps became clogged with the ashes and soon they stopped altogether.

"The water was up to the fires by then, and with a hissing sound they went out. The steam held out for a short time, but it went lower and lower until the dials dropped to zero. I groped my way to the deck."

The Radio Man's Story.

Capt. Morrison was on the bridge, shouting commands to his men. At times he picked up the ship telephone and sought information from Kenneth Carlson, youthful wireless operator on the Wisconsin.

"About midnight," said Carlson, who is 20 years old and whose home is at Madrid, Ia., "I was ordered to call the Illinois, our sister ship, in port at Racine. The operator must have been ashore, for I couldn't get him. We wanted the Illinois to put out to us, and to stand by us in case we couldn't make port.

"It looked as though with the pumps working we could make Milwaukee. I then called the Goodrich station at Chicago, and notified them we were in distress, and to call the Illinois. They did, and soon I heard from the Illinois, but it was disabled and couldn't come to us.

Calls for the Coast Guard.

"Then I asked Chicago to notify the Kenosha and Racine coast guards to come out and stand by. I lost track of the time, but I guess it was about 1:30 in the morning when the captain told me to send out an S O S. I was told that boats were coming from the coast guard stations, and from Racine.

"I stayed at the radio, sending S O S until the order came to abandon the ship."

With the ship anchored and tossing about, and the hull lowering in the water at the rate of about a foot an hour, the crew stood about, most of them unable to help at anything, waiting for rescue or death.

Bill Placeway, tattooed sailor whose only home is whatever ship he happens to be sailing, a grizzled veteran, told how he stood at the rail with his mates, waiting.

Sailor Looks at Death.

"Victor Estes, a kid who'd just shipped with us, asked me if I had a cigaret," said Bill Placeway. "I said, 'Sure, kid!' and handed him one. His hands were shivering as he lit it and he said, 'O God, Bill, this is the last cigaret for me.' I laughed at him, and hollered out that we weren't going to die. We'd be rescued, or maybe the ship would get in all right, I told him and the rest. But I saw Vic down there at the morgue. It was his last cigaret.

"Another chap, Walt Rein, was cursing the lake and the storm and all sailors, and he says: 'Jees! If I ever get out of this alive I'll never ship out again. Never!' And he never will, either. Poor Walt is down there with Vic and the cap'n."

"Was anybody praying?" Bill Placeway was asked.

"I wasn't," he said. "I didn't hear any."

Fred Treuber, lookout, of Milwaukee, was taking orders from the captain.

"When we didn't see any help coming," Treuber said, "I got out the red flares and set them off. It was about 1:30 o'clock. I kept sending up the flares until I saw the answering flashes from the coast guard station, and in a very few minutes we saw the light of their boat coming toward us.

"About 3 o'clock the water came rushing in the passenger gangway on the lower deck. This had been battened shut, but the force of the waves and the straining of the boat must have sprung it. The water was coming in in a torrent then, and it was plain we couldn't last much longer.

"A little after 4 the Kenosha coast guard boat arrived on the scene, but the lake was so rough it couldn't come near us. If they had tried to come alongside the little boat would have been broken to pieces.

Line Catches in Propeller.

"They hollered at us to throw out a line. We had hard luck, for the line caught in their propeller. Then the captain ordered the lifeboats lowered on the port side. The starboard side was high in the air and we couldn't have lowered the boats there.

"We never knew what a great man our captain was until this happened. He had always been considerate of the men under him, but in the crisis he was wonderful. He was calm, gave his orders in a clear voice, and inspired all of us with his courage. Without him on the bridge there, singing out orders, we probably would all be lost.

"He ordered four of us into the first boat, to see if it would lower properly. It was all right, it seemed, so fifteen got into the boat. While the boat was sliding down, a heavy wave struck the Wisconsin, and our boat smashed against the hull. My arm was caught between, and I thought it was gone, but they tell me it is just broken twice.

Saved by Coast Guard.

"When we got to the water and swung off the ropes, we saw a gaping hole in the boat. We all thought we were gone sure, but the coast guard vessel came up alongside, and pulled all fifteen of us aboard.

"I turned and hollered good-by to the captain and in a firm voice he called back, 'Good-by, men.' And it was good-by. He didn't show a sign of nervousness. Some of the junior members of the crew made wild gestures and statements, and threw things into confusion, but the captain, God bless him, kept order on the ship."

A cripple was pulled from a watery death. He is Thomas Wilson of 628 Briar place, head waiter on the Wisconsin. He was among thirteen survivors suffering from injuries and exposure, who were taken to St. Catherine's hospital in Kenosha. Eight others were taken to the Kenosha hospital.

"At 1:15 in the morning," said Wilson, "I was awakened by Jack McGowan, who shook me and yelled, 'For God's sake get up and put on a life preserver!' I wear an iron brace on my leg, and had to stoop to put it on. It was a job with the boat tossing as it was!

"When I stumbled up on deck and saw the terrible waves I thought I'd drop there and die. Then I heard the captain in a clear voice ordering everybody to go upstairs. I never saw any one so calm. I knew what he was saying meant that we would have to take to the boats.

"I was ordered into the third boat, and just as I was jumping for it—I couldn't move well because of my leg—I fell and was slipping down into the lake. Just then the second mate, Arthur Biehl, grabbed me by the pants and threw me head over heels into the lifeboat. I was the last one in the boat. It was cast loose, and how we danced in the waves! We got close to the coast guard boat and a guard weighing at least 225 pounds grabbed me and pulled me into his boat."

Coal Passer Falls into Water.

Reinhold Strafara, a coal passer, jumped for the same boat and missed.

"I fell into the water, and, Jeez, how cold it was!" he said. "I grabbed something, maybe wreckage, and I held on. I had on a life belt.

"I passed out and woke up in a hospital. I'm still terribly cold, shivering all the time."

Six boats had been lowered and their cargoes of sailors taken aboard the coast guard vessels from Kenosha and Racine.

John Denter, deck hand, told of the death of Capt. Morrison. The ship was rapidly sinking, but a dozen men were still aboard. The captain paced back and forth on the bridge, calling to the coast guardsmen when he noticed a man swimming alongside the ship or shouting to have a line cleared when the boats were lowered.

When the sixth and last boat on the port side had been lowered the captain ordered the life rafts on the upper decks cut loose and the remaining men, at their captain's command, climbed on the rafts and prepared to hold fast when the end came.

Still the captain was shouting orders and directions to the men and their rescuers. The ship began settling faster. At last the lower decks were submerged. Finally, with a last look about the tragic scene, Capt. Morrison started for the rafts.

Starts for Rafts; Too Late.

"We kept pleading with him to come," Denter declared. "He paid no attention. Then at last he started toward us."

But it was too late.

"Just as he moved toward us the ship took a sudden lurch," Denter said. "In a second, it seemed, the prow came up and then dove for the bottom. Two of the rafts floated all right, and some of those on the other raft swam to us.

"I thought I saw Capt. Morrison swimming toward us, but maybe I imagined that. The figure was lost in the mist, and when next I saw Capt. Morrison he was being brought in by the coast guard. Some said there was still a flicker of life in him when they pulled him from the lake, but he was dead when they got him in.

"He had a heavy bruise across his face, and I think a beam in the wreckage must have struck him unconscious as he tried to save himself.

"Never did a captain do more to save his men than ours did."

Paul Berg, member of the Kenosha coast guard, was the first man to see the distress flares sent up by the Wisconsin.

"The first one went up at 2:10," he said. "I could see she was in distress, so I called the captain and the men, and in less than twenty minutes we were on the way out in a power launch.

"The waves washed completely over our boat, but it plugged ahead. It took us better than an hour to reach the Wisconsin. We tried to get a line aboard her, but failed and finally they got a line across us. Just then a wave hurtled our boat under the bow of the Wisconsin, and I thought we were going down, too.

"But we managed to pull away, and then we heard the captain yelling to us that he was lowering the boats. We took twenty men aboard and had more than a safe load, so we made to shore. The coast guard crew from Racine came up just then.

Hard Fight to Get to Shore.

"The battle to get to shore seemed worse than the one to reach the Wisconsin, but finally we got in. We got the men out and folks were ready to help them, so we started right out again.

"When we got out the second time we ran into a lot of wreckage, chairs, mattresses, battered life boats, and other stuff. We could hear men calling for help, but we couldn't see them, although we played our searchlight about the scene of the wreck.

"We saw a man hanging on to a mattress and we threw him a line, but he was too weak to grab it. We got closer and held out a boat hook, but he couldn't even take hold of that. We were afraid that if we got too close the mattress would be crushed under us and the man lost, but at last we got hold of the mattress and pulled the man safely aboard.

Waves Pound Rescue Boat.

"Our motor stopped once and we had to clear wreckage away from the propeller before we could get it going again. All this time the waves were pounding away, tossing our boat around like a chip.

"We kept up the search for two hours, until we couldn't find any more men or bodies, and then we came back."

The members of the Kenosha coast guard crew were Capt. Alfred E. Kristofferson, William Pratton, Reuben Le Claire, Russell Watson, Fred Grapengieser, Clyde Sorenson, and Howard Messenger.

Capt. Kristofferson, a short, stocky veteran of lake battles, was on duty in Chicago when the Eastland tipped over in the Chicago river. He recovered 180 bodies from that ship.

The Racine coast guard crew, commanded by Capt. J. A. Olander, picked up most of the bodies of the dead after it had taken a load of living to Kenosha. Among the bodies picked up was that of Capt. Morrison. Reports that Capt. Morrison had lived until after reaching the shore and that he had been able to greet his rescuers before dying were denied by the coast guardsmen.

A fishing tug, the Chambers Brothers, put out from Racine and rescued fifteen men, including the dozen men who were the last to leave the ship and who had clung to the life rafts as the vessel sank.

U. S. Investigator Arrives.

Capt. Fred J. Meno of Detroit, supervising investigator for the federal steamship inspection service, arrived at Kenosha last night to take charge of the government investigation of the disaster.

Coroner Anthony Schmitz announced that under the laws of the state he will not conduct an inquest unless it appears from the investigation that a criminal offense was committed in connection with the disaster. If it appears that no one was criminally negligent no coroner's jury will be called, Dr. Schmitz said.

Seven of the rescued officers of the Wisconsin were asked to remain in Kenosha and hold themselves in readiness to testify at today's inquiry. Most of the other survivors, except those in hospitals, were brought to Chicago on a special car of the Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee railroad and bunked in hotels by the Goodrich officials.

Seven Officers Rescued.

The seven officers staying at Kenosha are Edward Halversen, mate; Arthur Biehl, second mate; John Rogers, Albert Rogers and William Strange, quartermasters; Harvey Lyons, purser, and Louis Larson, second engineer.

The Wisconsin received its annual inspection, required by the government, on April 14, at Manitowoc, the inspector's office at Milwaukee announced. Reinspections were made, in accordance with the law, the last one on Oct. 6, Capt. Meno said. On each of these inspections the vessel was found seaworthy, according to Inspector W. A. Collins.

Reports that the Wisconsin had limped into the port of Racine in the storm a week ago today, and that it had been damaged, were to be investigated. At that time the vessel listed badly to port, but the explanation given by inspectors was that the ship's cargo had shifted, and that when the boat was reloaded the list disappeared.

STEAMER WISCONSIN A HARD LUCK SHIP; WAS BURNED TWICE

Disaster had always followed the Wisconsin, one of the oldest vessels on Lake Michigan, which went down in a storm off Kenosha yesterday, since it was built forty-eight years ago. It was burned to the water's edge twice and rebuilt both times. On several occasions in its long career it ran aground in fog or was caught in winter ice, endangering passengers and crew.

Built originally for the Goodrich Transit company in 1881, it was swept by flames. Rebuilt, it was sold to the Grand Trunk lines and renamed the Naomi. Then it passed into the ownership of the Crosby Steamship company and was renamed the Crosby. Shortly before the war it again was attacked by fire and was rebuilt by the Crosby company.

During the war the government took possession of the ship and used it as a convalescent ship in New York harbor. It was then known as the Gen. O'Reilly. From the government the ship passed into the service of the Seymour line and was known as the Pilgrim. A few years ago the Goodrich lines bought back the boat and renamed her the Wisconsin, the original name.

In 1921 the ship ran aground off Racine in a dense fog. The passengers were rescued and the ship was refloated under great difficulties.

Again, in 1924, the boat became ice bound off Holland, Mich. A relief ship was sent to batter a way through the ice field and rescue the Wisconsin. Sixty men on board the latter were imprisoned for two days and then rescued.

THREE SHIPWRECKS ON LAKE CLAIM 89 LIVES IN FIFTY DAYS

Sinking of the steamer Wisconsin yesterday with twelve lost brought the death toll in three recent Lake Michigan shipwrecks to eighty-nine, all within a period of fifty days. In each wreck the name of the ship's captain has been included among the dead.

The gravel freighter Andasta, bound from Grand Haven to Chicago with a full cargo sank on Sept. 9 in the first bad storm of the fall season. Capt. Albert Anderson and his entire crew of twenty-four men were lost, their fate being unknown for five days until pieces of wreckage were found, giving mute evidence of the catastrophe. Later bodies were recovered near Grand Haven, Mich.

On Oct. 22 the Grand Trunk car ferry Milwaukee, bound from Milwaukee to Grand Haven, was wrecked with a loss of fifty-two lies. The big ship, loaded to capacity with twenty-seven freight cars and commanded by Capt. Robert McKay, a veteran of the lakes, left port in the face of a falling barometer and severe storm indications.

Two days later passing steamers found five bodies off Kenosha and Racine. Last Friday coast guardsmen from St. Joseph, Mich., discovered four more bodies in a nearly submerged lifeboat and a mass of wreckage 45 miles northwest of St. Joseph.

Oily Skin Physic

Makes old-looking, poor-color skin youthfully clear—refines away enlarged pores—corrects oily skin, heals eruptions and dissolves blackheads

Poor-color complexions, oily skin and blemishes are due to acid-skin impurities. And, everybody knows there is nothing like magnesia to neutralize acid. So, when the face is massaged with cremed magnesia the skin throws off even the most deep-set pore impurities. It physics the skin in the same easy way that milk of magnesia purifies the stomach. That's why magnesia is called the beauty miracle of modern science.

Physicing the skin rejuvenates the complexion so quickly that any face looks years younger in five minutes. It changes old-looking, poor-color skin to youthful clearness and fades out freckles better than a bushel of lemons. It's astringent; it reduces enlarged pores to the finest texture and smoothes out the tell-tale lines of age almost as if by magic.

It removes make-up better than soap or cleansing cream. And, because it's so mild, it's a blessing for fine, sensitive skin that soap so easily irritates and coarsens. That's why mothers use it to bathe infants. No wonder thousands of doctors urge their wives, patients and nurses to use nothing but magnesia to cleanse their faces.

Thousands of delighted women send letters of praise and say they did not at first believe anything so simple could be so wonderful. But, they were convinced when they saw so many friends suddenly get lovely complexions.

To get genuine cremed magnesia, ask for Denton's Facial Magnesia. When you use it you will at once see why druggists find it hard to get enough to supply the tremendous demand.

Physicing the skin beautifies any complexion in five minutes.

GUARANTEE

It's impossible for Denton's Facial Magnesia not to improve your complexion. But, should it fail to delight you, even after the very first application, your dealer is requested to refund your money at once without question.

DENTON'S CREMED

Facial Magnesia

NOTE: These facts about the amazing skin-beautifying virtues of magnesia were learned from the experience of the first hundred thousand women who bought it. Because of its superior skin-beautifying qualities, magnesia is rapidly replacing the use of soap and cleansing cream with millions of women who give intelligent care to their complexions.

NICKEL PLATE MOVES FREIGHT HOUSE TO I. C.

Action May Be Start of New Terminal Lineup.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

A galvanized iron freight house, on steel frame, with maple floor, about 100 feet long and 50 feet wide, will be finished today in the Illinois Central area north of Randolph street. After the building is christened with a Hallowe'en dance tomorrow night, the Nickel Plate railroad will move in as a tenant on Friday. It will transfer its freight from the La Salle street terminal.

Perhaps therein lies unusual significance. This may be the forerunner of a break up of the railroads now located in the Dearborn, La Salle and Grand Central terminals. Such a breakup would hasten the start on the proposed new south side terminal, estimated to cost between $148,000,000 and $182,000,000.

Transfers Freight Business.

The Chesapeake & Ohio moved from the Dearborn station on March 1, 1925. It took both its passenger and freight business to the Illinois Central terminal. The Nickel Plate is transferring its freight only. Its passengers business remains for the present in the La Salle station.

Both the Nickel Plate and the C. & O. have the same bosses, and that management also runs the Pere Marquette. The same control has a large interest in the Erie and has been casting covetous eyes at the Chicago and Eastern Illinois. These last two named railroads are housed in the Dearborn station. The Pere Marquette is a tenant of the Grand Central station.

Would Call in Van Sweringens.

The council committee on railway terminals has been considering for a long time a new terminal for the south side railroads which enter the central district between State street and the river. Some of its members want to call in the men who control the Nickel Plate, Chesapeake and Ohio and the Pere Marquette, who also have a large interest in the Erie and are seeking control of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois. In this way it is thought that a real start can be made.

These men live in Cleveland—not Chicago. They are aiding in building a $60,000,000 railway terminal in Cleveland. They are developing Cleveland. The men are the two Van Sweringen brothers—Oris P. and Mantis J.—who made $530,000 in real estate development of Shaker's Heights in Cleveland.

Testifies to Big Profit.

With that and mortgage money on their real estate and on an electric line they built to develop the real estate, they gathered together $2,000,000 in cash. With that relatively small sum and ten notes of $650,000 each they bought the Nickel Plate railroad from the New York Central. That was in 1916. In 1923 the Van Sweringens had the ten notes of $650,000 each paid off and were tacking other railroads on the Nickel Plate. Before the interstate commerce commission on May 29, 1925, O. P. Van Sweringen admitted that he and his brother had made a profit of $16,812,000 in the Nickel Plate consolidation.

The general office of the Nickel Plate railroad is in Cleveland. Twelve of the fourteen directors are residents of Cleveland. One of the exceptions is A. P. Span of New York and the other is P. Edson White of Chicago. The Cleveland directors are M. J. Van Sweringen, W. L. Ross, W. A. Colston, J. R. Nutt, F. B. Williams, John Sherwin, B. L. Jenks, J. A. House, George S. Ross, E. J. Arnold, P. N. Cristal, and J. P. Murphy.

Of the Cleveland group the Van Sweringens are the bosses, M. J. being chairman of the board. W. L. Ross is president, Colston is vice president and general counsel, Nutt is another vice president, Williams is treasurer, George Ross is secretary and assistant vice president.

C. & O. Run from Cleveland.

The center of the Chesapeake and Ohio activity is also in Cleveland, Terminal Tower. One may write to the general office at Richmond, but only W. J. Harahan, vice president, is there. The president of the C. & O., J. J. Bernet, is in Cleveland. O. P. Van Sweringen, chairman of the board of directors, is in Cleveland, and so is the majority of the directors. All the members of the executive committee reside in Cleveland.

The Hocking Valley, which does not run to Cleveland, and has a general office at Columbus, has an address at Terminal Tower in Cleveland. A majority of its directorate and all of its executive committee, both of which are presided over by O. P. Van Sweringen, are in Cleveland.

Père Marquette the Same.

The Père Marquette has a general office in Detroit, but in the Terminal Tower of Cleveland will be found "the works." At Detroit will be found only Frank H. Alfred, vice president. In Cleveland will be found O. P. Van Sweringen, chairman of the board; John J. Bernet, president, and a majority of the directorate.

It is apparent that the Van Sweringens are concerned with Cleveland, not Chicago.

Some of the aldermen would like to see whether these fast climbing brothers could be convinced that a new terminal for Chicago's south side railways is needed at once.

EXPECTS DIVORCE

CONNIE BENNETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 29.—The divorce of Constance Bennett, actress, and Philip Plant, wealthy American, will be granted here this week, the movie star said today. "Mr. Plant and myself are still on the best of terms," she said. Constance described as "foolish" the talk linking her name with the Marquis de la Falaise de la Coudray, Gloria Swanson's husband. She admitted that he had motored her up from Cherbourg Sunday after she arrived on the liner Homeric.

10 MILLION BOND ISSUE TO FINANCE 1933 WORLD FAIR

Progress of Plans to Be Told Tonight.

The arrangement for the sale of $10,000,000 bonds for financing the 1933 Century of Progress exposition is expected to be announced tonight by Gen. Charles G. Dawes, United States ambassador to Great Britain, who is chairman of the World's Fair finance committee. Gen. Dawes stated yesterday that the trustees of the World's Fair approved the bond issue at a meeting held Monday. Formal ratification by the founder members of the exposition followed yesterday.

A banquet to be given tonight by Gen. Dawes and Rufus C. Dawes, president of the Century of Progress organization, will be the occasion for these announcements. About 150 invitations have been issued to members of the south park board and the guarantors and trustees of the World's Fair. The dinner will be held in the Palmer house.

Announce Program Tonight.

Gen. Dawes yesterday indicated that tonight's announcements will climax the series of World's Fair developments during recent days by saying that a "full statement of the building program will be made by himself, by Rufus Dawes, and by Edward J. Kelly, president of the south park commissioners.

Discussion of the terms for the use of Grant park land for the exposition will be resumed today by the south park board. "The south park board is cooperating to the fullest extent in making the 1933 World's Fair the greatest exposition in Chicago's history," said Mr. Kelly. "The Century of Progress organization is now a going business concern. The fair will be a boom to Chicago business and prosperity."

Architects Are Chosen.

Three Chicago architects were delegated yesterday to design the administration and transportation exhibit buildings. This followed the conclusion of a two day session of the World's Fair architectural commission, which decided that the exposition's ground plan has been developed to a point where a divided layout into sections for detailed study is advisable. Edward H. Bennett, Hubert Burnham, and John A. Holabird were the architects chosen. The tentative site for the transportation building will be between 23d street and 39th street. Sketched plans will be reviewed by the architectural commission at its next meeting, on Dec. 19.

Teacher Accepts $200 in $10,000 Hotel Suit

Miss Rosalie B. Chivington, 1400 Lake Shore drive, a teacher in the Jackson public school, yesterday accepted a $200 settlement in the court of Superior Judge McKinley, where a jury was hearing her $10,000 damage suit against the Stevens Hotel company. Miss Chivington sued for burns she claimed to have received while taking a shower bath in the hotel on March 4, 1928. She testified that the water heat indicator was defective and that she was enveloped in a cloud of steam and deluged with boiling water.

LOSES HANDS IN HUSKER.

PITY PROFS ON JANITORS' PAY, SAYS HUTCHINS

Urges Higher Salaries for Better Colleges.

"Continue to pay janitors' salaries to college professors and you must be prepared to expect your children to receive teaching upon a level which will fit them to be janitors."

With this comment as the motif of his speech, Robert Maynard Hutchins, president of the University of Chicago, yesterday responded to a welcome extended him at a luncheon given in his honor by the Union League club. He made an earnest appeal for higher salaries for college professors.

Danger in Rapid Expansion.

Many dangers confront the American university of today, President Hutchins said. Low salaries for the faculty members, forcing the choice of low grade men, is only one danger. Another danger is the rapid expansion of student bodies until they are too large and unwieldy, hindering the professor from giving adequate attention to the individual, especially the talented student.

Still another danger is the mental attitude of the average American to the benefits of a college education. Far too many parents, he said, send their sons and daughters to college because of a vague feeling that their social position will thus be improved.

$2,500 Top in Many Schools.

"Low salaries limit the number of first rate professors," the speaker said. "There is prevalent the impression that this problem has been mastered and that all professors receive an average of $3,000 a year or more. The truth is that there are 500 colleges where no member of the faculty receives anywhere near $3,000 annually, and there are many important institutions today where the top salary is $2,500.

"I've been told that no man should become a professor unless he has prospects of being self-supporting, either through marriage or otherwise, until he is 45 years old. I can hardly regard with respect or approval professors who marry for money and teach for love."

PENNSY TO OPEN NEW 79TH STREET SUBWAY MONDAY

The first of five subways to be constructed by the Pennsylvania railroad in a $2,000,000 track elevation program will be opened on Monday. The new underpass is on the Panhandle branch at 79th street. It will eliminate a grade crossing. Two other grade crossings at 71st and 87th streets are to be replaced by subways, according to the plans, and two east and west thoroughfares opened through subways at 73d and 83d streets.

Elevation of the Panhandle tracks, which carry freight between Chicago and Cincinnati and Columbus, is already practically complete as far south as 69th street, according to H. E. Newcomet, vice president of the railroad. The 79th street subway was completed first, Mr. Newcomet said, because of the heavy traffic on the street, including a street car line.

Crossings of the Pennsylvania and Baltimore and Ohio with the Belt railroad and Wabash line at 75th street are eventually to be eliminated, according to the plans.

3 MEN AND GIRL TO BE INDICTED IN 'WHIM' KILLING

True bills charging murder were reported yesterday by the grand jury against three men and a girl in connection with the shooting to death on Oct. 6 by a "whim killer" of Lyle Perrenoud, a salesman residing at 7227 Cornell avenue. Those charged are August Vogel, his brother, George, 20 years old, Yeoman Curry, and Fay Allison.

August Vogel is now in custody at Canton, O., and admits being present at the killing, but denies firing the shot that killed Perrenoud. His brother, George, also is in custody, in New York. The Allison woman has been held in Chicago without bail since a day or two after the murder, and it was principally upon her statements that the Vogels and Curry were brought into the case. Curry is still a fugitive.

Perrenoud was killed by an intoxicated man with whom he had an argument over the right of way at a traffic light on 51st street.

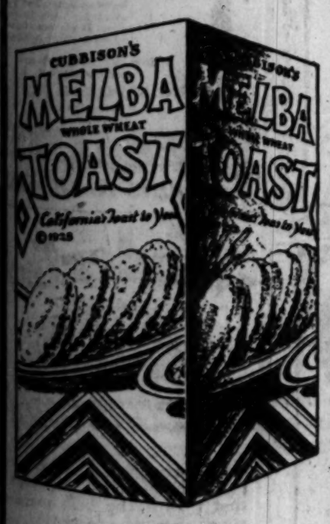
MELBA TOAST

"delightfully palatable with every meal"



From California we bring you Melba Toast. It is not new. On the Pacific Coast, where it was first introduced a number of years ago, it took people by storm. Its crunchy, delicious crispness, its purity, its high nutrition value won favor for it practically over night. Enlarged manufacturing facilities now permit of its marketing in Chicago, and we are privileged to introduce it to you at a very special price.

Melba Toast is made of high gluten entire wheat, milk and fresh eggs. It is thoroughly dextrinized, hence easily digested. It is rich in Mineral Salts and Vitamins A and B—the elements so desirable because of their body-building and health-giving qualities. It is high in caloric value, yet is almost entirely non-fattening. Because it is so easily assimilated, it is an ideal food for infants and children, who will prefer it to bread or ordinary toast, and derive greater benefit from it. During convalescence it is of excellent recuperative food value.

But most important is its delicious tastiness! Use it instead of bread or toast—you will enjoy the added zest it lends to your meals. You will appreciate the joyous welcome Melba Toast will receive at your table. Serve it at every meal.

MELBA TOAST, because it is non-fattening, is the basis of the 18-day diet which has met with such phenomenal acclaim the country over.

We shall be glad to supply you with a pamphlet giving the details. Step into the store and ask for the "18-day diet."

17 JUDGES KEEP FITTINGLY CALM IN IRISH RUMPUS

Brundage and Harry Kelly Exchange Swats.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

The Irish question swamped the judicial campaign for a time yesterday and the politicians made a Donnybrook fair of the day. Harry Eugene Kelly, chairman, and Boetius H. Sullivan, vice chairman of the nonpartisan campaign committee picked by the candidates on the Democratic ticket, including the 17 sitting Superior judges, addressed themselves to Edward J. Brundage's accusation that "Tony Cermak has driven the Irish out of the Democratic party."

The head cracking started at a Democratic noonday rally at the Garrick theater and it continued later in the day as the rival camp managers brandished typewriters at each other. The sitting judges sat on the Garrick stage in a dignified and imposing array, en banc, as it were, and they were introduced with sedate remarks by Floyd E. Thompson, former justice of the Supreme court and Democratic candidate for governor last year.

Mr. Kelly and the Irish.

Mr. Kelly took as his leading theme Mr. Brundage, who is godfather of the People's Ticket Against Coalition. He did not follow the advance copy on his speech with exactitude, due perhaps to the atmosphere of judicial calm.

The typewritten manuscript set forth, however, Mr. Kelly's official views on the Irish question, as follows:

"One might well ask Mr. Brundage when he has ever accorded the Irish any recognition in Republican party affairs. Whenever in past campaigns a Kelly, a Burke, a Shea, or a Sullivan has been on any political ticket that ticket has had the bitter, bigoted opposition of Mr. Brundage, who masks his real prejudices behind a plausible personality and a persistent personal ambition.

"So it is not strange that such men as Judges Marcus Kavanagh, Michael L. McKinley, John P. McGoorty, John M. O'Connor, Denis E. Sullivan, William J. Lindsay, and William H. McSurely now have this repudiated Republican leader's opposition for reelection to a judicial office which he himself was unable to attain when a candidate for Superior court in 1910 on a ticket picked by Jim Pease's 'kitchen cabinet.'"

Mr. Kelly reproached Robert M. Adams, secretary of the lawyers' group which picked the People's ticket, with having attacked him in "barroom language." He referred to him as "Robert Microphone Adams, Brundage's unbridled understudy."

"Tut, Tut," Says Brundage.

Mr. Brundage made brief comment. "Tut, tut," he said. "Naughty, naughty Kelly. Since when did this left-handed Irishman become so solicitous about the Irish Democrats, the brains of the Democratic party? I wonder who wrote Kelly's speech for him."

Boetius Sullivan, son of the late Roger Sullivan, benevolent boss of the Democrats, followed up the attack of his colleague on the nonpartisan committee, Mr. Kelly.

"The effort on the part of Brundage," said "Bo" Sullivan, "to inject a racial issue into a judicial campaign was something of a shock to persons who did not know Brundage's political record.

"When Brundage was managing the campaign of Lawrence Y. Sherman for senator when Sherman was a candidate against my father, Brundage flooded the state with copies of an organ filled with bitter attacks upon men of my father's and my own faith. Throughout the southern part of Illinois he placarded trees and posts with announcements: 'A vote for Sullivan is a vote for the pope.'

Cites Names on Ticket.

"In every campaign in which Brundage has been permitted to play an important part he has resorted to similar tactics. Meanwhile he is fooling nobody, with his shout that 'the Irish are being driven out of the Democratic party.' A glance at the Democratic ticket on which appear the names of Sullivan, McKinley, O'Connor, McGoorty, Kavanagh, and Finnegan, and the list of the Democratic executive committee of which John Clark is chairman, and James Bowler secretary and the managing committee of which Joseph McDonough is secretary, is sufficient refutation of what he says."

Wives of the candidates on the People's ticket held a noon rally at the Cort theater. Edward J. Hess, one of the candidates, was chief spokesman.

"The trouble in Cook county," said Mr. Hess, is that an idea has grown up that judges have a divine right to continuous service without reference to the quality of work performed. If the judges would work with the same vigor and diligence that they would devote to their own business, calendars would not be two and three years in arrears.

"The issue is, are you going to select your own judges or will you allow a machine dominated by Tony Cermak, to do it for you?"

BRIEFS OF CIRCUIT COURT CANDIDATES

This is the final installment of sketches of candidates in the Cook county judicial election next Tuesday. It includes the men who are candidates for the two vacancies in the Circuit court, one created by the death of Judge Victor P. Arnold and the other by the resignation of Judge John A. Swanson following his election as state's attorney.

TRUDE JUDGE 11 YEARS

Municipal Judge Daniel P. Trude, Republican, is one of the new Deneen candidates whose name is on the fusion ticket in the Democratic column. He is the nominee under that temporary label for the vacancy on the Circuit bench caused by the election of John A. Swanson as state's attorney. In the primary of the Chicago Bar association he ran far ahead of the Republican organization entry, Judge Jonas, his total of 1,760 votes being more than 60 per cent of the total cast by the lawyers.

In its report in advance of the primary the bar organization said of Judge Trude:

"He has served eleven years as a judge of the Municipal court. His administration of the office has been characterized by ability, fearlessness, and a sincere and earnest devotion to his duties. This has won him the respect and esteem of the bar. He is well qualified to be a judge of the Circuit court."

Crusader Against Fraud.

Judge Trude has been actively engaged in the fight against election frauds and allied evils ever since he was a candidate for county judge on the Deneen ticket in 1926 and contested the nomination of Joseph P. Savage, the Crowe-Thompson candidate. Following that battle he went vigorously into the campaign for Swanson against Crowe and was one of the principal speakers in the campaign.

Judge Trude was educated at Dartmouth, at the University of Chicago, winning his "C" at the latter institution as a member of the track team in the hurdle and relay races, and at Northwestern university from which he received his law degree.

He was one of the authors of the anti-pandering act and drafted the law for the imprisonment of brothel keepers. He also has been one of the supporters of the plan to establish a state colony for mental defectives.

FINNEGAN BAR'S CHOICE

Municipal Judge Philip J. Finnegan was the overwhelming choice of the Chicago Bar association for the Arnold Circuit court vacancy. He received 2,251 of the 2,899 votes cast in the organization's primary for this position.

"In the six years he has served as a judge of the Municipal court," said the bar organization's report issued before it took the poll of its members, "he has proved his fitness for judicial office. He is qualified to be a judge of the Circuit court."

P. J. FINNEGAN.

Was Candidate for Congress.

Judge Finnegan, 45 years old, is a native Chicagoan. He studied law at the Chicago Law school and was admitted to the bar in 1913. For eight years he was an assistant to Probate Judge Horner. For several years he was associated with the law firm of Thurman, Hume & Kennedy. In 1918 he was a candidate for congress from the Tenth district.

When he ran the first time for the Municipal court in 1922 the Chicago Bar association report pronounced him "energetic, patient and fairminded." In that election he won his seat only after a contest against Judge Emanuel Eller. In 1928 he was reelected, the bar finding at that time being that during his five years of service Judge Finnegan had "proved his fitness."

CURRAN CITY HALL MAN

Municipal Judge George A. Curran is the regular Republican or "city hall" candidate for the Arnold vacancy. He is a son of the late Thomas Curran, state representative from the Fifteenth senatorial district for twenty-two years and for many years Republican committeeman for the Tenth ward.

GEO. A. CURRAN. [Moffett Photo.]

In its finding concerning Judge Curran the Chicago Bar association used an unusual shading in its phraseology.

"He is fairly well qualified to be a judge of the Circuit court," was the verdict.

In the bar primary that followed publication of this report, Judge Curran received less than one-fourth of the vote cast on the office he seeks. He was voted for by 648 lawyers, while 2,251 voted for his Democratic opponent, Municipal Judge Philip J. Finnegan.

Appointed to First Bench.

Judge Curran is 39 years old and resides at 1103 South Ashland boulevard. He received his professional degree from Loyola university in 1912. From 1915 to 1923 he was an assistant corporation counsel under Mayor Thompson. He was one of the Thompson candidates for the Circuit court defeated by the coalition ticket in 1923. In 1923 Gov. Small appointed him to a vacancy on the municipal bench and in 1924 he was elected for a full term in that court.

JONAS REMAINS G. O. P.

Municipal Judge Edgar A. Jonas is one of the nominees on the fragment of the Republican ticket left after the withdrawal of all the sitting judges of the Superior court. He was elected by the city hall organization first for the Comerford vacancy, but when it developed there could be no election for that place and Elmer J. Schnackenberg declined the nomination for the Swanson place on the Circuit bench, Judge Jonas was given the ballot position originally assigned to Schnackenberg.

EDGAR A. JONAS. [Root Photo.]

He was defeated in the primary of the Chicago Bar association by Municipal Judge Daniel P. Trude, the vote being 1,136 for Jonas and 1,760 for Trude.

Jonas on Bench 6 Years.

"He has served as a judge of the Municipal court for six years to the general satisfaction of the bar," said the report issued by the lawyers' organization before the primary. "He is capable, studious, industrious, with a good background of public and professional service. He is well qualified for the office of judge of the Circuit court."

Judge Jonas is 43 years old, is a graduate of the Chicago Law school, and was admitted to the bar in 1909. He was first assistant to State's Attorney Crowe from 1921 to 1923 and in the latter year was appointed by Judge Small to fill a vacancy on the Municipal bench. The following year he was elected for a full six year term.

McDONNELL INDEPENDENT

Frank A. McDonnell, a Chicago practitioner since 1916, is an independent candidate for the Swanson vacancy. The Chicago Bar association says he "does not possess the requisite qualifications for the office." In the bar primary he received 69 votes.

Harry Cohen, 3228 Potomac avenue, sued the city for $20,000 in Circuit court yesterday for injuries he said he received when he fell into a manhole last June.

COMMONS OPENS WITH CLASH OVER UNEMPLOYMENT

British Labor Stalls Off Attack on Policies.

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 29.—The British parliament reassembled this afternoon for what is expected to be the most strenuous and momentous session since the war.

The Labor party, elected last May, was in command. Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, acting as prime minister in Ramsay MacDonald's absence, was cheered as he took his seat on the government bench. Mr. MacDonald, who is on the high seas on his way home from America, will land Friday and is expected in the house on Monday to make a statement regarding his negotiations with President Hoover.

Open Unemployment Battle.

Within five minutes after the house had assembled, it was apparent that unemployment and social legislation will be the chief topic. Skirmishing was started immediately on the unemployment problem by the opposition side. Nine questions were hurled at J. H. Thomas, lord privy seal and minister of unemployment, regarding what he had done to provide work for Great Britain's 1,250,000 unemployed. Mr. Thomas promised a full statement next week.

The rush for good seats started early this morning. The members began arriving at 6 a. m., to stake out claims to new seats. Lady Astor, former American, got an advantageous seat at the end of a row near the aisle. She beat Sir Frederick Hall out of this seat after a race.

All the Notables Present.

Members of parliament may wear their hats in the house, but must take them off when passing through the hall. Sir Austen Chamberlain sat rigidly erect, wearing his stovepipe hat while several of the Laborities wore old slouch felts slipping sideways over their ears. Stanley Baldwin, former prime minister, was lounging in his seat beside Sir Austen, while not far away on the Liberal benches was David Lloyd George with his flowing mane of gray hair. J. H. Thomas, John R. Clynes, A. Henderson, and Philip Snowden, Labor's big four, sat at the head of the government benches.

Questions about Palestine and Egypt wer raised but were sidetracked by the Labor ministers until the investigation committees have reported. Indicating uneasiness in the Tory ranks that the Labor party is about to weaken the British navy, the question was asked whether the naval personnel was to be reduced. Sea Lord Alexander replied that only 700 men had been let out in the last three months.

Philip Snowden announced that the government hoped to pass the widows' and orphans' pension bill, the unemployment insurance bill and the coal legislation before Christmas.

Al Kvale, Orchestra Leader, to Wed Ohio Girl

Alfred J. Kvale, jazz orchestra director, obtained a license on Monday to marry Miss Esther Mae Ransbottom, 23 years old, of Zanesville, O., it was learned yesterday. The marriage will not take place for a month or more, Mr. Kvale said. Mr. Kvale, who is 30 years old, was divorced in 1925, and Miss Ransbottom was divorced in 1927.

ALICE DUER MILLER'S new novel

"Age of Indiscretion"

Not a story of the wild, daring "younger generation." On the contrary—the central character is a grandmother! But she's the most dynamic, captivating grandmother in modern fiction.

As up-to-date as today's newspaper, the despair of her more staid descendants, she engineers their destinies and their love affairs. The account of her escapades is told in Alice Duer Miller's own sparkling, swiftly-moving style.

Stories like this one—utterly new, charming, out-of-the-ordinary—are really typical of American Magazine fiction. They explain why more than 2,200,000 families* read The American Magazine every month, and prefer it to every other magazine.

SETTLE $3,000 CLAIM AGAINST —THORNE ESTATE

The $3,000 claim of Miss Pearl Baremore, 26 year old proprietress of the Witches Tavern, a New York night club, against the estate of George A. Thorne, son of the late co-founder of Montgomery Ward & Co., who died in May, 1928, was settled yesterday before Probate Judge Horner. Attorney V. B. Adams, representing Miss Baremore, refused to release the terms.

In her suit brought a year ago Miss Baremore claimed to have been a close acquaintance of the broker for several years preceding his death. She said she had lent the amount to Thorne in Havana, Cuba, in 1927, when he became temporarily embarrassed after playing the races.

Thorne died after he was seized with an apoplectic stroke while playing golf at the Flossmoor Country club. Miss Baremore said that he had visited her apartment after his attack on the course and that she sent for an ambulance which took him to a hospital. She stated that while Thorne was in her apartment he declared his wish to amend his will to take care of the debt.

TENANT PAINTS NEW QUARTERS TO TASTE; FINED

Joseph Cavanaugh, 23 years old, a hoisting engineer with a flair for interior decorating, was convicted of disorderly conduct and fined $100 yesterday in Stockyards court.

Last Monday morning Mr. Cavanaugh rented a room at 626 West 56th street. Finding the wall paper too drab for his mood, he conceived the idea of brightening up his quarters and went out to a nearby shop for materials.

The landlady, Mrs. Jennie Lahber, heard the swish of her new tenant's brush all afternoon and was curious. She opened his door and swooned.

He had done a thorough but extravagant job, daubing the walls, furniture, bed clothes, and even the window panes with wavering stripes of green and red. When the other tenants revived the landlady she called the police.

McGOORTY ASKED TO AID HOOVER CRIME INQUIRY

Judge John P. McGoorty, one of the seventeen Superior court judges running for reelection on the Democratic ticket, has been asked to aid President Hoover's national commission on law observance and enforcement. George W. Wickersham, its chairman, in getting the inquiry under way is turning to the ablest jurists in various districts for their expert opinions. Judge McGoorty in a letter made public yesterday was asked by the commission to contribute his opinion on causes of crime, statistics of crime and criminal justice, prosecution, courts, penal institutions, criminal justice and the foreign born, and lawlessness by governmental law enforcing officers. Judge McGoorty ran first in the recent primaries of the Chicago Bar association.

PICKPOCKET WITH 35 YEAR RECORD IS FOUND GUILTY

CRIMINAL COURT.

Silvester Brown, attempt to commit burglary; sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary by Judge Harry B. Miller.

William Ward, 62 year old pickpocket, who has been dodging the penitentiary since he was sentenced to 18 months in 1895, just after he had started his long criminal career, was found guilty of larceny yesterday by a jury in Judge John J. Sullivan's Criminal court. He faces a one to ten year term in the penitentiary if Judge Sullivan overrules his motion for a new trial.

Ward was convicted of picking the pocket of John Pastorello, 2061 De Kalb street on July 6. Pastorello was taking his wife to a train in the La Salle street railroad station when Ward picked his pocket of $8. He was virtually caught in the act by his victim.

Crime Commission Aids.

Pastorello, however, discovered that he had a slippery customer, and it was only his perseverance that finally brought about the successful prosecution yesterday. The alertness of the Chicago crime commission was also a factor in bringing Ward to trial.

Soon after the arrest of Ward efforts were made to scare off the complaining witness. When this failed attempts were made to buy him off with offers of money and good political employment. Two minor 20th ward politicians were arrested in this connection.

The crime commission used every effort to bring Ward to trial, and when it was thought he had been forced to trial in Judge Harry B. Millers' court late in August Ward delayed matters by walking from the courtroom and allowing his $5,000 bond to be forfeited. Judge Miller issued orders that the forfeiture should not be set aside by any one or a new bond allowed without his sanction.

Allowed New Bond.

However, Ward slipped into the Criminal court with a new bond and had the old forfeiture set aside on the payment of a small fee. Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle entered the orders and allowed the new bond. The crime commission discovered the fact and notified Judge Miller, who insisted that Ward be arrested and his bond canceled and raised.

Ward's record is an unusually long one, but early in his career he apparently discovered how to dodge the penitentiary, as only one penitentiary sentence is chalked up against him. The rest of the time he always escaped with a fine or some small sentence in a workhouse.

BIG PLANE SAFE AFTER BATTLE IN MOUNTAIN SNOW

Arrives as Search Starts; Passengers Laud Pilot.

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 29.—[U.P.]—While airplanes and Indians were preparing to start a search through the mountains of western New Mexico late today for a transport plane with five persons aboard, the great ship casually landed here.

"We certainly had a hell of a good pilot," said Dr. A. W. Ward, nationally known dental authority of San Francisco, in telling of the ship's battle with snowstorms over the mountains.

While anxiety was being felt here for safety of the tri-motored ship, Pilot James A. Doles of Los Angeles succeeded in dropping the plane to a safe landing in a small clearing near Trechado, N. M., a tiny cattle village, yesterday. The plane had left Los Angeles early yesterday and was due here a few hours later.

Spent Night at Cabin.

After alighting a Trechado, the party explored the countryside and located a small cabin, which provided shelter during the night. Snow fell so heavily on the grounded ship that for a time it was feared it would be impossible to take off.

"The snow was knee deep where we landed," according to Dr. Ward, "but there was lots of timber and many hills with only a small place for us to land. I consider Doles' handling of the ship almost superhuman. It was wonderful."

The party stayed in the cabin over night, swapped jokes and worried considerably about anxiety they knew would be felt over the ship's long absence. There were no telephones or telegraph lines for miles around.

Flight Made Through Snow.

When the storm abated slightly today, Doles swung the great ship from the clearing, barely skimmed the surrounding trees, and flew through an almost blinding snowstorm to Albuquerque, arriving at 3:45 p. m.

After the crowd at the airport here had finished congratulating Doles, he said modestly:

"The storm was terrible. There was nothing else we could do except make a forced landing."

"When we got down there was nothing for us to do except sit there. It was so cold in the plane that we finally decided to find shelter and fire.

"It grew dark as we searched. We had to use flashlights to find our way in the darkness. We found a house. There was a woman there—Bessie Mason—and she gave us food and coffee.

"The night was bitter cold in this little cabin in the forest, but everybody stood it fine.

"All this morning we waited for the weather to break in order to get away. After noon today the weather cleared sufficiently to make a start for Albuquerque."

2 Passengers Aboard.

Trechado is a United States post-office and about 100 people live in the vicinity.

The two passengers and three members of the crew learned for the first time upon landing here of the extensive search being started for them in the belief that they had met the same fate as the City of Los Angeles, which crashed against a mountainside last month.

Dr. Ward and W. E. Merz, Mount Vernon, N. Y., were the passengers aboard. The crew consisted of Doles, Assistant Pilot Allen A. Barrie, 26 years old, of Burbank, Cal., and Steward R. L. Briten, 25 years old, of Los Angeles.

Air Mail Pilot Killed.

Aviation Notes

Rain and fog extending over the central west yesterday virtually put a stop to air mail and passenger movements. Only three planes left yesterday morning and later in the day all operations were called off. The Northwest plane to the Twin Cities and the Cincinnati and St. Louis mail planes made their scheduled trips in the morning. The mail on the other routes were "trained." All movements were at a standstill last night.

Frederick H. Snyder, self-styled air hobo, yesterday paid a fine of $25 and costs for disorderly conduct after confessing to Judge Herbert G. Immenhausen in the Grand Crossing court that he had never been in an airplane. He was picked up on suspicion Monday at the Municipal airport. He told police then that he was a government pilot.

Interstate Air lines expect to start night flying over their route to Evansville, Chattanooga, and Atlanta on Nov. 1. The new service is made possible by the lighting of the route by the department of commerce. When the night mail is inaugurated it will be possible for persons in the cities served by Interstate to post mail at 6 p. m. for the first morning delivery in Chicago.

geles to leave its home port and sail to the race meet. The crack outfits of all branches of the service also perform. It is the only time during the year that the public is given a chance to witness the skill and strength of the nation's air fighters.

"Each day during the races the army and navy pursuit and attack groups, flying in units of fifteen or eighteen, perform in formation above the crowd. The marine group and the big multimotored army bombers likewise perform. Jimmy Doolittle of the army and Al Williams of the navy usually stage a program of stunts and civilian pilots flying commercial planes go through their paces. Parachute jumping and glider contests vary the program."

Will Offer Prizes.

Prizes for the various events in the air race program will be offered by the air race corporation, manufacturers and other individuals. The corporation probably will select a managing director who will appoint a number of committees made up of Chicago men and aviation experts to plan the air tournament. This work will not start until the guarantee money has been fully subscribed.

Chicago's geographical location and its prominence in air transportation activities are believed to have influenced the contest committee in its favor. The city is advantageously situated for the cross-country Derbies. Pilots aiming for the big prize money will be able to fly from all corners of the continent to the finishing point in the geographical center of the country. During past races it has frequently been necessary for pilots to follow a roundabout route in order to add distance to the cross-country flights.

As part of the annual air races the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America stages an aircraft show in which are exhibited the latest developments in airplanes.

REFORM CITY OR VOTER, POLITICAL EXPERT ADVISES

Unless business changes its attitude of accepting perverted politics in Chicago as normal, and voters become less complacent toward the present method of city administration, the maladies of Chicago's city government cannot be changed, Carroll D. Wooddy told the Cook County League of Women Voters yesterday in the Harriet H. McCormick Memorial building. Mr. Wooddy is of the political science department of the University of Chicago.

"The structure of our city government is obviously bad," said Mr. Wooddy in speaking on the subject, "The Way Out for Chicago: Reconstruct the Mechanism or Reconstruct the Voter?"

"The city is enslaved by the state. Local administration is hopelessly divided among a tangle of agencies incapable of being held responsible. The party system is bankrupt for local purposes [witness the present judicial election], but the basis of all structural difficulties lies in the prevailing social attitudes."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 29.—"If the American state department did grant me a visa—and I have not yet heard anything about it—it is the result of certain documents I placed in the hands of the American consul here which proved that the charges of radicalism on which the previous application was refused were completely false." Count Karolyi, former president of the Hungarian republic, said tonight.

"I do not wish, therefore, to discuss my plans for an American trip, which are still very indefinite, until I have received official confirmation."

The count expects to produce a play on Broadway, based on a political plot.

"My play," he said, "was inspired by my own harassed political life. I have always been struck by the fact that popular leaders always have had to struggle with the conceptions others build up around them. So strong is this conception that in the end it invariably happens that the leader is forced to live up to his legendary character or lose favor."

AUTO KILLS FARMER.

EMBEZZLER OF $108,000 NAMED IN TRUE BILL

Frank Culliton, 32 years old, bank teller, who confessed embezzling $108,000 from the Madison-Kedzie State bank, was named in a true bill voted by the grand jury yesterday. He is charged with embezzling $108,000. His bond was fixed at $100,000. Assistant State's Attorney Frank Mast, who said that he doubted Culliton's story that the money was all lost on horse race bets, was unable yesterday to find any evidence that the bank teller had hidden any of the funds.

Mrs. Edna King Groh, daughter of a Wyoming millionaire, yesterday filed a bill for divorce in the Superior court against her husband, Phillip Groh, cleaner and dyer, and brother of Heinie Groh, former third baseman for the New York Giants. The suit is the aftermath of a raid on a near north side apartment, where Mrs. Groh charges she found her husband with another woman. The Grohs were married in a wartime elopement at Fort D. A. Russell, Cheyenne, Wyo., where he was stationed as a lieutenant. They separated a month ago. Mrs. Groh, who lives at 2555 Logan boulevard, asks custody of their son, 7 years old. tan, he was conspicuous and what he did and said was sensational.

Came to New York in 1918.

He came here in 1918 to expound the gospel in Calvary Baptist church. In the years of his pastorate he found it necessary to thunder against the theaters, card playing, divorce, poodle dogs, cocktail drinking, bad books, dancing, evolution, overeating, Clarence Darrow, nude art, greyhound racing and modernism.

Dr. Straton was born in Indiana in 1875, but in discussing his life he preferred to pass over a "sinful youth" and tell how he was "born again" under the spell of a revivalist, Dr. John B. Hawthorne, in Atlanta. Before that time he drank blackberry wine and gambled.

While teaching dramatic art at Baylor university, Waco, Tex., 25 years ago, he made a bedroom set for his bride, and ever after that passed spare time in the making of furniture. The furniture in his study was all of his own make.

Took Hand in Scopes Case.

Dr. Straton supported the late William Jennings Bryan at the Scopes trial in Dayton, Tenn. He debated with William A. Brady, Broadway theatrical producer, on a resolution that the modern stake was a menace to public morals.

He received his degree as Doctor of Divinity at Shurtcliff college, Alton, Ill., in 1906. He held pastorates in Chicago, Baltimore and Norfolk, Va.

Mail Plane Reaches Berlin from Turkey in Ten Hours

BERLIN, Oct. 29.—(AP)—A mail plane of the Lufthansa, piloted by Joachim von Schroeder and mounted with an American Hornet motor, today flew the 1,250 miles between Constantinople and Berlin in ten hours through stormy weather. Letters mailed in Constantinople early this morning were delivered in Berlin this afternoon.

NORRIS WILL ASK RE-ELECTION TO SPITE OLD GUARD

Hopes to Keep McKelvie Out of Senate.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Nebraska will furnish a battle ground for Republican regulars and radicals in the coming campaign. This was assured today when Senator George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.], leader of the radical group in the senate, formally announced his candidacy for renomination in a lengthy statement addressed to the voters of his state. Senator Norris, who is concluding his third six year term in the senate and who previously served ten years in the house, had indicated two years ago that he was ready to retire.

In his statement Senator Norris said that it is obvious that Samuel R. McKelvie, former governor of Nebraska and present wheat member of the federal farm board, is to be the candidate of friends of the administration against him. It is the understanding that Mr. McKelvie intends to resign in time to make the race.

"It has been my desire and my intention at the end of my present term to retire to private life and spend the rest of my days in Nebraska as a private citizen," said Senator Norris. "Recent events in the political world have destroyed those hopes and make it imperative that I enter the coming Republican primary in Nebraska as a candidate for renomination and reelection to the senate.

"It is now quite clear that Nebraska is to be singled out in the senatorial primary campaign as one of the chief battle grounds for the control of the United States senate. For that purpose a virtual alliance has been formed between the old guard stand pat machine inside the state and those who control that machine from the outside.

"The avowed purpose of this combination is to weaken and discredit progressive principles of government by driving me out of public life."

Mr. McKelvie, in commenting upon the Norris statement, would not admit that he is a candidate.

"As long as I am a member of the farm board I shall devote myself exclusively to this task without any political activity whatever," said Mr. McKelvie. "Whenever Mr. Norris or any of his followers undertake to interfere with my work here I will resent it. Whenever they attempt to step on me I shall step right back on them."

CHEBANSE (ILL.) FIRE DESTROYS BUSINESS AREA; LOSS $30,000

Kankakee, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Practically the entire business section of Chebanse, a town of 500 population ten miles south of here, was destroyed by fire today. Damage was estimated at $30,000.

With no water available for fire fighting, the fire, which started at 11:30 o'clock this morning in a vacant apartment over a grocery store, rapidly gained headway and soon spread over an entire block. Seven stores burned.

As night came the inhabitants, exhausted by hours of carrying water in buckets, stood on the sidelines watching their one-time Main street smoldering red against the sky.

The Kankakee fire department had rushed to the scene with the first alarm but because there was no water supply only could fight the flames with chemicals.

The fire climaxed a season of hardships for the village, recently hit by a bank failure and loss of crops.

The fire was believed to have been started by a short circuit.

WOMAN IS FOUND DEAD IN STREET; SUSPECT POISON

The Burnside police early this morning were investigating the mysterious death of a well dressed woman about 30 years old whose body was found in 95th street at Dorchester avenue shortly after midnight. There were no marks of identification in the woman's clothing or on two rings which she wore.

H. A. Kidson, 2013 East 71st street, and Miss Marie Pitts, 1464 East 69th street, discovered the body as they were driving along 95th street. They notified the police, who took the body to the Burnside hospital. At first it was believed that the woman had been strangled, but the police determined that marks on her throat had been caused by the beads of a necklace. Both police and hospital authorities were inclined to the theory that she was a victim of poison, self administered. The body was taken to an undertaking establishment at 9104 Cottage Grove avenue.

Find Bullet Pierced Body in Auto at Tourist Camp

Nashville, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—The bullet pierced body of an unidentified man was found late today seated in an automobile in a tourist camp one mile east of here by two boys, Wilbert McMillan and Ray Morton. The body was wrapped in a quilt. The man, who appeared to be about 35 years old, evidently had been shot elsewhere and the body placed in the car.

MOSCOW, Oct. 29.—The Workers' Gazette today prints a front page photograph of the red flag of the Russian revoluation and the Stars and Stripes flying side by side in amity in the cockpit of the airplane Land of the Soviets after its arrival in Seattle. A two column head proclaims: "Land of the Soviets in Chicago," and a four banner: "America Honors the Land of the Soviets."

"Twelve years ago, almost day for day," says the paper, "the American people learned that the workers had seized power in Russia, and immediately it was deluged by a flood of calumny and hate. It became an article of faith with the average American, that the soviet state was a horror of mud and blood, hopeless and lifeless. Now, twelve years later, to this America which disdised us, which refused to recognize our existence as a world state, come our 'unaccredited ambassadors,' borne on the wings of the wind, to show the American people what we have achieved unaided."

They were sentenced to serve three years each in the Anamosa reformatory and then were paroled to their parents.

JEWELER FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED, PISTOL IN HAND

Hyde Park police last night were investigating the death of William Sauer, 52 years old, 4933 Kentucky avenue, whose body was found in a sleeping room at the rear of his jewelry shop at 1039 East 47th street. There were no signs of violence or wounds on the body, but the victim clutched in his right hand a fully loaded 32 caliber revolver.

Failure on the part of Sauer's wife, Christine, to obtain a response when she telephone the shop from the Sauer home, lead to the finding of the body. Mrs. Sauer, accompanied by Hyde Park detectives, broke open the door to the shop.

Police were inclined to the theory that Sauer became alarmed at some noise and succumbed to heart failure while getting out of bed, gun in hand, to investigate.

A SOUND INVESTMENT.

The county board is asking $3,220,000 to finance the construction of grade separations at congested highway intersections. The proposition will appear on the Nov. 5 ballot.

Motorists, we believe, are learning the true value of the grade separation plan. They have voted funds for highway extensions and widenings and in Chicago they have been disappointed that the investments have not produced entirely the anticipated results. Traffic relief has been only partially satisfactory on the new and widened arteries. The reason has been apparent to highway engineers and critical drivers for several years. The rank and file of motorists and some public road building organizations, notably the county board, are now learning the cause and suggesting the logical remedy. Wide highways never attain their full usefulness so long as they cross other main thoroughfares at the same level. The speed and safety of the open road is largely nullified by the delay and danger at the intersections.

We have an available method in the grade separation for eliminating the delays and hazards of intersections. Once a number of separations are introduced, so that motorists may experience the advantage of the system, drivers will tolerate the present arrangement at intersections no more than they do an eighteen foot road as a radial highway. The program which the county board contemplates from the bond issue funds, together with proceeds from the gas tax, will give the motorists a taste for grade separations and an abhorrence of one level intersections. The motorist vote is very nearly the entire vote. Success of the bond issue at the polls will therefore bring greater use and enjoyment of the automobile to most of the citizens, a purpose for which we have rarely refused to spend our money.

THE TYPICAL AMERICAN GIRL.

A young lady who was selected as "the typical American girl" has been the center of considerable discussion in Europe of late. As long as she remained in this country she wore her crown in obscurity. Then she went to Europe and Bernard Shaw told her solemnly there was no such thing and could be no such thing as a typical American girl. She journeyed on to Paris, where Clement Vautel of Le Journal proceeded to discover in her a new American menace. The American people, he said, are obsessed with the notion of standardising the world. Having standardized their manufactures, they are now preparing to standardize their citizens. He anticipates the selection of a typical young man. Typical young people of today will produce all Americans of the future who will be as nearly alike as the laws of heredity will permit. He suggests that in a century we shall be as interchangeable as automobile parts.

Mr. Shaw and M. Vautel cannot both be right. In an aggregation of individuals no one of them can be said to be typical if typical is taken to mean exactly like all; but the differences between individuals can be greater or less. M. Vautel looks at America and thinks he observes a tendency toward the standardization of human life. He thinks the greatest common denominator among individuals is becoming a steadily growing fraction within the individuals and there is a good deal to support his view.

More than most people Americans are conventional. We discourage idiosyncrasy in dress, in manner, and even in thought. Sometimes we frown upon the heretic but more often we laugh at him, which is probably more effective in holding him to a type. The criticism of our conduct lies well in the mouth of a Frenchman. In France you may wear, do, think, and say about as you please and go your way rejoicing provided you do not interfere with the corresponding rights of fellow citizens. Frenchmen do more than tolerate the individual; they adore him. Our confrère, Mr. Rue, is of the opinion that French cooking lacks savor. When in Paris he goes armed with a bottle of ketchup. He will place his bottle in the center of the table in any restaurant and he will pour his ketchup liberally into the most subtle of sauces, sauces upon which family fortunes have been built. Mr. Rue has yet to be thrown out on his ear; he has been drawn into friendly discussion with waiters, maitres d'hotel and chefs, but he has never been reprimanded—except by Americans—for his pursuit of his own notions. A Chicagoan, by way of contrast, was set upon by four men and beaten within an inch of his life for wearing a straw hat after Sept. 1. Prohibition is more of the same.

Still, we do not agree with M. Vautel, who seems to think that standardization of manufactures is likely to lead to further standardization of the individual in this country. Certainly it need not do so. The fact that all of our electric light sockets are of the same size does not force us to identical forms of interior decoration. In fact, the more we standardize the products which we all must use the more time we should have left for the development of the individual and his tastes. All Fords are alike, but they do not all have to go to the same place on the same hour. Because they are alike they are cheap, and because they are cheap millions of people are free to pursue their fancies and their inclinations in deciding where to go and when.

All the same, this warning is worth heeding. There are some signs of a tendency to adopt false efficiency standards, and misapplied analogies from industrial life, in the cultural and even the scientific activities of our country.

MILWAUKEE BOILS ITS WATER.

Dr. John P. Koehler, director of public health for Milwaukee, has warned residents of the city to boil their drinking water. In its present condition the water is unsafe, he says.

Milwaukee boasts of its sewage disposal plants and Milwaukee's spokesmen have said that if Chicago treated its sewage in the same way Chicago would have no cause to fear an epidemic of typhoid fever. Chicago is building sewage disposal plants on a scale which dwarfs anything contemplated in any other city on the continent, but no one who knows the facts regarding large-scale sewage treatment thinks that the effluent can be poured back into the drinking supply without grave danger. When Dr. Koehler advises Milwaukeeans to boil their water he is telling Milwaukee that, though the effluent from the plants is crystal clear and odorless, it is, nevertheless, germ laden, and no community which values its health should permit such a source of contamination to flow back into the drinking supply.

The modern city treats its sewage and then discharges the effluent where it will do no harm. Chicago has the lowest typhoid rate of any large city in the world because it disposes of its wastes as they should be disposed of. Milwaukee should break away from the dominance of a few racketeering steamboat men who have misled her and do likewise. In the interest of health the city should construct a sewer from its treatment plants to the Chicago drainage system, in which the effluent could be carried away harmlessly. There would then be no need for frantic appeals to householders to boil their water to avoid a plague of typhoid fever.

AMERICAN TRIALS AND RUSSIAN MASSACRES.

A riot staged by British communists before the American embassy in London recalls the rumpus organized in many countries over the Sacco-Vanzetti trial. In this case the protest is directed at the trial of the communist agitators of Gastonia. It is a reminder of the world-wide organization for mischief making of communist partisans, with its central ganglion in the Red Internationale run from Moscow in the interest of world revolution. Doubtless the new activity will have the same support as the former from our parlor pinks, and it presents the same sardonic view of communist and radical consistency. In the same issue of the press which reported the protest of these friends of the alleged downtrodden against the South Carolina trial appears news from Russia of wholesale executions of peasants resisting the collection of grain by the soviet authorities.

Shall we hear any protests from our humanitarians and theoretical radicals against the soviet's measures? Not any louder than their protests against earlier massacres by the bolsheviks of Russian political heretics. Thousands were done to death for mere difference of opinion or theory. Thousands were massacred or executed merely because they were born in a social class. Our radicals and pseudo-liberals did not cry out against the murder of these thousands, but they made the welkin ring over the alleged mistrial of two individuals in capitalist America. Wholesale slaughter by the communist tyranny in Russia leaves our radicals complaisant. The punishment of half a dozen radicals by a capitalist government brings world-wide organized protests and cries to high heaven against the cruelties of capitalism.

Editorial of the Day

[Manchester (England) Guardian.]

A great deal has been heard during the last few months about the emotions of Paris journalists. First there were excitable comments on the behavior of Mr. Snowden at The Hague. Next came Geneva; and again there was a cloud of javelins. At the moment the Paris newspapers pause in their scathing comments on Anglo-Russian relations only to express skepticism about Anglo-American relations. French opinion is like April, and it is just as well to suffer her showers patiently. But there is surely no objection to arming ourselves with an umbrella. The most useful umbrella, in this case, is the knowledge that the Paris press is in many ways ruled by different customs, governed by a different outlook to our own. The French newspapers are not newspapers; they are political pamphlets. There is an astonishingly large number of them, each serving some particular cause. Sometimes it is a private cause. Sometimes too private, and there is a scandal. First and last the Paris newspapers are organs of separate factions. In an amazingly politically minded country editorial articles are given considerably more prominence than the news of the day. Often it is quite difficult to discover the news of the day. Thus, from the very start, the eye is trained to look for opinion rather than fact. And one must remember that each newspaper is fighting a battle on many fronts. A conservative paper, for example, may be skirmishing with a royalist on the right, a Socialist on the left, and two or three foreign countries into the bargain all at the same moment. It is hardly surprising that political passions run high. Let realization of these facts be our umbrella during the next downpour. And if we have need of a mackintosh as well, let us wrap ourselves up in the knowledge that Paris newspapers administer thrusts amongst themselves just as shrewd and merciless as any directed against this country.

LIKELY ERROR.

Watson met his friend Hodges limping painfully down the street one morning, hardly able to drag one foot after another. Giving Hodges his arm, he accompanied him along.

"What on earth is the matter, old boy?" he asked.

Hodges gave him a wan smile.

"I'm stiff all over," he said.

Hodges shook his head.

"Oh no, it's not that. But my wife has been interesting herself in art lately. She has persuaded me to sell all our furniture and replace it with this modern stuff."

"And what's happened?"

THE FIVE POUND LOOK.

Did you ever try to get a note—say a five or a ten pound note—changed in London? We did and it isn't so easy. We wanted to get small change for a five pound Bank of England note, and so we dashed into a bank on Oxford Circus. The teller looked at the bill, sniffed at it, gave us a dirty look—a five pound look—and muttered something unintelligible. We gathered he didn't want to change our five pound note and so we grabbed it back and raced for another bank. The teller looked at the note, held it up to the light, and then sharply demanded, "Are you a customer of this bank?" We admitted we had never traded with that bank before in our lives and probably never would. "Sorry," said the teller, handing back the note.

Then we went to two big restaurants, but they said we had best get the note changed at a bank. We found another bank. "Are you a customer of this bank?" demanded the teller. "Oh, aye," said we, earnestly, "oui, oui, and, indeed, yes. The first time our papa gave us a shilling we came right here and put it into this bank." "Name, please?" said the teller. We saw that wouldn't work, so we said that while we had never done any considerable amount of business with that particular bank we intended to. "Sorry," said the teller, and he handed back the note.

We were getting desperate; the boat train was due to pull out of Waterloo station in an hour and there we were away up in Manchester Square, and we had to tip the doorman, and the 'ousemide, and the witers and boots, and get our luggage on a motor and get to Waterloo station. So we stalked boldly into the next bank, handed the five pound note to the teller, and said nonchalantly: "Ten shilling notes, half crowns, shillings, and sixpences, please. I'm a customer."

"Name, please?" said the teller. "Well," we said, "our business with this bank is limited to letters of credit. This is our favorite bank for drawing money on our letter of credit." "Let me see your letter of credit, please." We didn't have it. The fool thing was back at the hotel. There was nothing to do but go and get it. We raced down Oxford street and almost knocked down a bobby as we turned into Duke street. We got the letter of credit and went back to the bank and handed it in to the teller. "And the other book, the one with your signature," said the teller. By that time we were mad. "Would you also wish," we asked, with horrible sarcasm, "to see our passport, out certificate of vaccination, and our steamer ticket?" "Not at all," said the clerk, "don't bother." "Or," said we, "would a letter from our pastor help any?"

"Don't bother," said the clerk, cheerily. "In what denominations do you wish change? And please sign this five pound note on the back with the name of your hotel."

We got the change, but the next time we go to London we will take our vaccination certificate and a letter from our pastor. We may want to change a five pound note again.

GOING DOWN! People are getting so jumpy. We noticed that every time an elevator man said that yesterday people turned pale and trembled and muttered something about wishing they had never bought a nickel's worth of stock in their lives.

LITTLE TUBS OF FAT.

THE small, yellow, raised tumor of the skin is called xanthoma. It is likely to appear anywhere, but the favored location is the loose skin of the lower eyelid. It is a tumor of middle life and beyond. While there may be but one, a half dozen or more is not infrequent. Xanthomas are not malignant and have no tendency to become so. They cause no pain, have no tendency to grow large enough to get in the way, they are not offensive in appearance and they call for no treatment. Then why devote any space to them? The reason is that they may throw some light on constitutional conditions.

Several years ago an investigator removed one, and, examining it chemically, found that it contained cholesterin, a substance akin to fat. Since many gall stones are made up of cholesterin it was concluded that such tumors might be a signpost meaning "gall stones inside." Since the white ring around the pupil of some old people, called arcus senilis, is also composed of cholesterin, it was held, too, that it might point to gall stones.

Drs. Curtis, Wile and Eckstein have a different explanation of xanthomas. They find them to be rich in cholesterin but no more so than the nearby skin. In their opinion they are small tubs of fat and not especially different in composition from fatty tumors called lipomas.

The fat in xanthomas is pretty much the same as that just below the skin elsewhere. Their theory is that a xanthoma is merely a deposit of fat resulting from eating too much and exercising too little. They are merely a part of the obesity picture. They go a step further and tell us how to get rid of them. One can get rid of a xanthoma just as he gets rid of too much waistline, by dieting to reduce. A man may acquire a few wrinkles in starving out his xanthoma. He may not keep his good looks. The game may not be worth the candle. If this theory proves to be correct xanthoma may still be found to have some relation to gall stones. Both are apt to be present in the same group of individuals—fat persons over 40 years of age.

SHOULD GET VARIED DIET.

Mrs. J. H. R. writes: Our 14 month old baby weighs 18½ pounds. He was breast fed but never got very much nourishment from that. We were afraid to feed him much during the hot months because he was teething [13 teeth]. He eats very little cereal and does not seem to care for it. We give him sweet milk, but he doesn't drink even a pint a day. He drinks lots of water and is very constipated. He eats dirt and picks putty off the windows and eats it; sometimes frets for salt. Please suggest a list of things he should have. I know he is very much underweight although he is very active.

REPLY:

A child that age should be eating bread, meat, orts, vegetables and soups, as well as milk, cereal and fruit juices. Can you get him to eat pot liquor and bread? Have you tried buttermilk, clabber with sugar, cottage cheese with sugar, milk to which orange juice has been added, milk soups, custards?

TEN TO TWENTY POUNDS.

H. G. writes:

1. I would like to know how many pounds overweight I am. I am 19 years old and 5 feet 3½ inches tall and weigh 139 pounds.

2. I eat a good deal of bread and potatoes, and people tell me to eliminate these things and to drink plain lemon juice every morning.

3. Would you recommend this? I like sweets and eat ice cream quite often.

REPLY.

1. The size of the bones and the conformation of the body have much to do with determining the proper weight. You are twenty pounds overweight.

2. Most fat people eat a good deal of bread, potatoes, sweets and ice cream and, what's more, they will keep on eating them regardless of what they say to you or you say to them. When they say they intend to diet permanently their fingers are crossed.

3. Yes, I recommend taking lemon juice in the morning. Dieting, also.

IT'S AN OLD TREATMENT.

Invalid writes: I have heard that tea made from pumpkin seeds will rid me of worms. Is this true?

REPLY:

MODEL OF CAR MISREPRESENTED.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I purchased a car from a used car dealer which was represented and described on the bill of sale and on the insurance policy as a 1926 model. I have since found it to be a 1923 model. Am I entitled to any damages?

A. E.

Section 14 of the sales act provides that where goods are sold by description there is an implied warrant that they shall comply with the description.

Section 15 (3) provides that if the buyer has examined, there is no implied warranty as regards defects which such an examination ought to have revealed. It is difficult to see how the date is material except for possible bearing on how badly the car is worn, or how much it differs in design from the present models, both of which are points on which under section 15 (3) the buyer should inform himself if the sale is by inspection as distinguished from description.

If there is an express warranty, sale of a different model would be a breach. (128 S E. 389.)

UNABLE TO MEET INSTALLMENTS.

Macomb, Ill., Oct. 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—About a year ago I contracted with a Chicago real estate company to purchase a lot. The terms were one-third down, with deferred payments on the balance. I have kept the payments up until I now have an equity of $1,661.25 in the property, but through ill luck I cannot continue. There is still a balance of $588.75 payable before I can secure title. 1. Will I lose my entire equity? 2. What effect would it have on the contract if the corporation who sold me the property is now extinct?

H. L. M.

1. If the buyer has merely a contract then the seller could forfeit it for default without allowing the fifteen month redemption period which is allowed in cases of foreclosure of a mortgage.

2. It seems probable that the contract would be assigned to some other person.

ADMINISTRATING ESTATE.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Two sons are administrators of their father's estate. What rate can they charge on personal property and real estate? Is there any difference in the power of the sons? R. F. P.

The Illinois statute authorizes a fee of not over 6 per cent of the personal property. This would be divided between the two administrators. 2. No.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

OCTOBER 30, 1864.

NEW YORK.—The Commercial's Washington special says President Lincoln is in a most cheerful mood in view of the military situation. It is thought there is good news in his possession, which will speedily be made public.

NEW YORK.—The Times' correspondent at Warren's Station says that just before the reconnaissance in force began on the 27th Gen. Grant arrived from City Point with four orderlies and two days' rations of sandwiches. He sent all his bodyguard of cavalry to join Gregg's division which was charged by the rebel cavalry but drove them off. The reconnaissance was a left flank movement toward the south side railroad and the Appomattox. It gained 15 miles of territory and 300 prisoners.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The suspicion that Price is making his way into Arkansas via Forsyth is confirmed. His demoralized forces were at last accounts between Lamar and Carthage.

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—A gentleman connected with the army has arrived here direct from Sherman's army. He gives an inspiring account of the situation and asserts that he never saw troops in a better condition than are those with Sherman. They are all confident they will soon overtake and utterly rout Hood, whose rear guard is often in sight of our advance. When he left Sherman our forces were in the vicinity of Galesville, a few miles to the north of the Cooza.

CHICAGO.—Hon. Salmon P. Chase will arrive in Chicago on Nov. 4 and will receive his friends at 11 o'clock a. m. at the Tremont house. At 7 he will make a speech to our citizens at Metropolitan hall.

OCTOBER 30, 1899.

LONDON.—Every indication points to a big battle in the vicinity of Ladysmith today. Gen. Joubert finally has succeeded in joining the Boer and Free State armies, and now has an army conservatively estimated at 17,000 men. To combat this army Generals White, Yule and Hunter have combined forces totaling 12,000. The British claim to have nearly fifty guns.

NEW YORK.—If there is any foundation for the report of Senator Mason's threatened resignation it lies in the desire of Col. Isaac L. Ellwood of De Kalb to go to the senate. A Chicagoan who knows said Col. Ellwood is imbued with the ambition, and being very rich is able to offer Mason inducements to retire.

CHICAGO.—C. V. Orvis, a prominent citizen of Pittsburgh, was arrested on forgery charges preferred by the authorities of Washington. The warrants allege the forgeries will amount to $30,000, and that the First National bank of Washington is the heavy loser.

CHICAGO.—After a brilliant season at Newport marked by the Grant-Cantacuzene wedding, Mrs. Potter Palmer returned to the city prepared to raise the social curtain with a series of extensive entertainments.

GENEVA, N. Y.—In the drowning of Edward Fairfax Berkeley of St. Louis a hard blow has been dealt college fraternities of the select stripe. Cornell undergraduates and alumni confess this, yet they assert the death of the young man cannot be attributed in any way to the Kappa Alpha society, to which he was about to be initiated when he was drowned. Berkeley was going through the preliminaries of the initiation when he met his death.

OCTOBER 30, 1919.

WASHINGTON.—Apprised of the determination of the miners to strike in defiance of President Wilson, the administration moved swiftly tonight with its plans to protect the public from a coal famine and to meet force with force in the bituminous fields. In accordance with the decision that the strike is unlawful and "would be a more deadly attack on the nation than an invading army," Attorney General Palmer announced that the persons responsible for it would be prosecuted for conspiracy. Other steps proposed include protection for the miners willing to continue work and allocation and distribution of coal to homes, railroads and essential industries.

INDIANAPOLIS.—The high executive council of the United Mine Workers refused to rescind the strike call for Oct. 31 at midnight and issued a statement saying, "A strike of bituminous miners cannot be avoided." John L. Lewis, acting president of the miners, gave an interview in which he criticized President Wilson severely. "The President prejudged the case," Lewis said. "He spoke without giving the miners an opportunity to state their side of it, and with only a very partial knowledge of the facts and that knowledge inaccurate."

CHICAGO.—Mayor Thompson's plan "for the people's ownership and operation" of the city street car system, carrying with it the pledge of a 5 cent fare, won the unanimous approval of the council local transportation committee. The committee recommended that the executive be allowed to spend up to $250,000 for engineers and experts to formulate the details of the scheme which would put the management of the car lines in the hands of five popularly elected trustees.

EXTERMINATING BLACK.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—May I enlist your aid in another great moral reform? The money given to Fall was delivered, according to the press, in "a little black bag." Records of the New Jersey bootlegging ring, seized a week ago, were in a "little black book." Stephenson's klan evidence in Indiana was found in a "little black box."

Why not prohibit black, and end all crime? Of course, it might be sufficient to bar its use on books, bags, and boxes, but why permit the majority to enjoy something that the minority will misuse? And, even though black is my favorite absence of color, I'll subscribe to a constitutional amendment outlawing it for the good of the cause.

JAMES MILLER.

PURE FOOTBALL BUT POOR.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—Is there any cleaner way for a lad to work his way through school than on the gridiron? If any one thinks that all there is to the game of football or any other sport is the cheering on the day of the game, then they need only follow the routine of a player to find that it is a long, hard grind with little glory attached.

A player must put in a strenuous spring training. Many of the boys give up opportunities for good white collar jobs and take hard labor to get themselves in shape during the summer. Then comes the fall practice in rain or shine. There is no cheering for the lads who have suffered injuries. After two or three years of faithful service a player may be benched for the whim of a coach, but they must be good sports.

My hat is off to the schools that do assist the boys and I feel that the boys earn all they get. Chicago is rated as having clean athletics, but look at the teams they are turning out. Chicago boosters would like to see some action even if we have to join the majority.

A FAN.

ITALY AND THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—The fears and insinuations that occasionally have arisen from the danger to the world and European peace by the Italian policy are now eliminated by the open and clear attitude taken by the Italian government in the answer given to the invitation by the British government to participate in the naval conference. In this answer, as in the comments of the Italian press, the royal government of Italy has proven how sincere and true are their intentions to cooperate with the interested nations to assure not only a limitation but an effective reduction in all armaments. MARCO ADROGNA,
President Italian Chamber of Commerce, Chicago.

RACKETEERING IN THE COAL BUSINESS.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—What is there about the coal business or the people engaged therein that makes it and them such attractive targets for your guerrilla band of editorial composers? For years you have intermittently drawn your bead on the coal business and its participants as though coal merchants were a class of degenerates assembled in one line of activity different from a like number of persons in any other vocation.

There is nothing mysterious about the financial end of the retail coal business in Chicago. Mine prices, freight rates and retail prices are published daily in such part of our city press as gives more attention to news of the business world than to scandal and muckrake.

Margins of profit [when, if, and as any] are perfectly obvious at all times and there is no evidence of profiteering to warrant your spasmodic aspersions. It is absurd for any one to state that present retail prices in Chicago could be reduced $3 per ton and the business survive. The only explanation for any one's giving credence to such a statement and actually using it is a newspaper editorial is either a viciously ingrowing disposition or pure ignorance.

I am not a spokesman for the Chicago Coal Merchants' association and I believe that organization needs no help from me, but I do resent the injustice and abuse of the coal trade that emanates at intervals from your editorial office. PAUL N. STRONG.

CRIMINAL ALIENS.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—On this day, the seventh anniversary of Fascism, I note an article in the Voice of the People by Marie Soravia, president of the Italian Woman's club. She brings up the point of the United States refusing citizenship to Italian criminals and their descendants. Why not? Why should the United States be the depository for the criminal class of all other nations? We offer considerably more freedom than their native countries as evidenced by the fact that we admit them to this country and permit them to work and worship as they see fit as long as they obey our laws, which, considering the advantages we offer them, is the very least that can be expected of them. Their liberties are no more curtailed than those of people who have always been law abiding.

Our country is run with less friction among ourselves than most countries-countries which are older and have fewer religious or nationality factions to deal with.

As for our wishing to conceal the nationality of Italians who have been granted citizenship, we do not. If a foreigner becomes naturalized he consents to revoking allegiance to his native country. Hence he is no longer Italian, but Italian born, and a naturalized American. He is still permitted Italian clubs and organizations which have government protection as long as they are law abiding. They need not be subservient.

I believe Miss Soravia has a mistaken viewpoint on this question. Why should not our government take all possible precautions to protect its people from dangerous newcomers? E. D. R.

EDISON AND THE RAILROADS.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—This morning at 7:51 o'clock a C., B. & Q. train, going east, sent out clouds of black smoke as it passed through, and at 8:25 another east bound train sent out another blanket of smoke.

I would like to assist the smoke inspector, who states this morning that the city will not relax enforcement of the anti-smoke laws.

Why not have all trains electrified? This is the age of electrification. Thomas A. Edison is our leader. Do we entertain him by the light of a kerosene lamp?

HOW TO CUT THE STATE BUDGET.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—THE TRIBUNE prints an article with this caption, "Award Contract for 25 Buildings to House Insane"—and this for only three places in Illinois. Cost, $2,500,000, to say nothing of cost of upkeep, etc.

If every insane man, woman and child were sterilized, in two generations, or possibly one generation, these buildings and the money necessary for upkeep could be put to other uses. This has been advocated before. Why allow senseless sentimentality to prevent such a reasonable and sensible solution?

A. B. FAHL.

UNION MEN URGED TO VOTE 'YES' ON W. SIDE HIGHWAY

Flynn Says Project Will Promote Prosperity.

BY HAL FOUST.

Thomas F. Flynn, president of the Carpenters' District council, last night urged organized labor to vote "yes" next Tuesday for the $20,000,000 bond issue for the construction of the west side elevated boulevard. He said the improvement will relieve unemployment by awakening building activity, just as the Michigan avenue link bridge was responsible for a hundred million dollars in property developments.

The labor leader spoke before a meeting of 450 members of the Carpenters union, local No. 13. They were assembled in Machinists' hall at 113 North Ashland avenue, which was the exclusive Illinois club thirty years ago when the west side held one of Chicago's most fashionable neighborhoods.

Tells of Unemployment.

"There are 200,000 unemployed in Chicago," said Flynn. "Of these, 30,000 are members of the building trades. There are 22,000 carpenters in the city, and 10,000 of them are looking for jobs.

"It is in such periods that public improvements should be started to relieve the unemployment. Labor and material are cheaper now than during a building boom.

"In addition to the men who will get jobs building this improvement, the elevated highway, with its facilities to accommodate fast and safe travel as well as adequate parking, will attract large hotels, big apartment buildings, and new stores along its route. There will be lots of jobs for skilled laborers and there will be a general prosperity on the west side."

Protest to County Board.

The opponents of the bond issue earlier in the day attracted public attention when thirty-five west siders, led by William J. Rathje, president of the Mid-City Trust and Savings bank, marched into a meeting of the county commissioners with a demand that the board keep its hands out of the fight that should be decided by the electorate of the west park district. The county has pledged $2,800,000 of its 1 cent share of the gasoline tax to augment the $20,000,000 bonds for construction of the improvement.

"What is your position on the highway issue?" Mr. Rathje demanded of Anton J. Cermak, president of the county board, and head of the Democratic county central committee.

"My position is my private business," Mr. Cermak answered.

"But what you say will pass or defeat the bond issue," Mr. Rathje persisted.

"I can't instruct the Democratic organization for or against the proposition," said Mr. Cermak. "My personal opinion is my own and the opinion of the Democratic organization is its own. The entire question is in the hands of the voters who will give their answer at the polls."

Suspects Whole Project.

More activity from the opponents of the bond issue was heard last night. Manuel Goldberger, a youthful organizer of community groups to fight the project, told a meeting of the Moreland club in Holter hall at Cicero avenue and Erie street, that "there is a nigger in the wood pile" in the promotion of the project.

"I want to call your attention," he said, "to the fact that Marshall Field is building a merchandise mart just across the river from the eastern terminus of the elevated boulevard. The Austin-Kinzie contraption was sponsored by the Chicago Plan commission. James Simpson is head of Marshall Field and is head of the plan commission.

"Then you may have heard that the plan commission later proposes that this superhighway should be extended across the river, over Illinois coast to the lake front. This will run close to the Tribune Tower. You will notice that THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE is the only newspaper that hasn't given a square deal in its columns to the opponents of the bond issue.

"There is a conspiracy between THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE to make the west side pay for a superhighway to serve their properties."

President John Dill Robertson of the west park board and Daniel Roberts, attorney for the board, explained the advantages of the elevated boulevard in safe and rapid transportation that will take 80,000 cars a day from the congested surface streets.

ALDERMEN ARE URGED TO KEEP WORD, ADOPT CHICAGO HARBOR PLAN

Adoption of a comprehensive harbor plan for Chicago, to keep a promise made to the federal government several years ago, was urged yesterday before the city council committee on wharves, harbors, and bridges by Rufus C. Dawes, W. Rufus Abbott, and Rufus Putnam. Their appeal was directed to aid the committee in reviving the harbor plan, prepared by the Commercial club at a cost of $50,000, which has been ignored by the council for two years.

"The city pledged itself to make a study of a harbor plan, and it was upon this promise that the government approved the plans for the La Salle street bridge," said Mr. Dawes. "The city could not spare the money to make the survey, and the Commercial club undertook the work. The report should receive consideration, or in the future it will be harder to obtain the coöperation of citizens in your work."

Mr. Dawes and Mr. Abbott are members of the committee of the Commercial club that prepared the plan with the aid of Maj. Putnam, formerly government engineer in Chicago. The committee indicated that it will study the report with a view pf adopting it or a modification of it.

CHINA BLAMES BATTLE LOSSES TO KELLOGG PACT

Says Treaty Ties Hands, but Not Russia's.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

FUCHIN, China, Oct. 29.—Two of China's most important commanders, who are defending an extensive sector, embracing Amur, Sungari and Usuri rivers, Admiral Shen Hung-leih, commanding the flotilla, and Gen. Lee Tu, commanding the ninth brigade front line troops, declared today that China has become an innocent victim of the Kellogg pact. They charged the treaty to outlaw war is apparently permitting soviet Russia to launch unrestricted military and naval attacks and raids upon Chinese soil, while China is prevented from adopting retaliatory measures, which are justifiable under ordinary war conditions.

Both Admiral Shen and Gen. Lee claim that their defeat with serious losses on Oct. 12 when the Reds captured the town of Lahasusu only to lose it again is attributable to China's desire to observe the Kellogg pact. Otherwise, they say, China would have long ago adopted a safeguard by advancing into the Amur river valley, possibly occupying Habarovsk. Habarovsk is now Gen. Blucher's headquarters for the Red army and from where he is directing the invasion.

Over 1,000 Killed in Battle.

In the battle of Lahasusu over 1,000 lives were lost. More than 400 Chinese soldiers and about 300 marines and 60 sailors were killed. The Russian lost more than 400 killed.

"While China has suffered military defeat and I have lost nearly one-third of my naval marine force," said Admiral Shen, "I believe that the entire world will support China's stand on trying to observe the Kellogg pact."

Admiral Shen stated that the Chinese defenses in the battle of Lahasusu only consisted of mining the mouth of the Sungari and the construction of a log barricade inside the Chinese territorial boundary which, according to the admiral, proved that China had no intentions at aggression, but was merely trying to defend her own territories.

China Innocent Victim.

"China is the victim of a new form of warfare," Admiral Shen continued. "She can't attack but is constantly subject to unrestricted attacks by armed forces of red Russia. I was in Europe during the world war and observed actual warfare, but the Kellogg pact has produced a situation here which is defined not to be war, but still is war.

"China has done everything possible to observe the letter and spirit of the Kellogg pact and has only been taking measures of legitimate defense of her borders, but soviet Russians, under lying pretense of Chinese aggression, are constantly attacking our border towns, looting the agricultural population and burning buildings and massacring our people.

"The present situation is rapidly becoming unbearable and is causing strong dissatisfaction both in the Chinese military circles and among the Manchurian peoples, who are the victims of red attacks. While the Chinese forces are trying to obey the government orders not to violate the Kellogg pact by advancing across the international border, we are suffering from these aggressions. Something must be done."

DALADIER QUITS JOB OF FORMING FRENCH CABINET

Socialists Turn on the New Premier.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Oct. 29.—Smacked in the face by the Socialists, whose national council, convoked from the four corners of France, this noon cast 1,590 votes to 1,450 votes against participating in any "bourgeois" government, Edouard Daladier, youthful leader of the more conservative radical Socialist party, gave up the ghost late tonight.

First he called on President Doumergue and informed him of his difficulties in forming a radical government, saying he would decide at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning whether or not he would drop the mandate. But after thinking it over the newly appointed premier later announced he had decided to abandon his efforts to form a cabinet.

The way, therefore, now seems to be open for the reestablishment of Raymond Poincare's old concentration cabinet, with either former Premier Briand or Andre Tardieu as premier and Henry Cheron back in his old job as finance minister.

Again See Briand as Boss.

The situation tonight, political wiseacres agree, is in the hands of M. Briand and he either can form a ministry himself, or let M. Tardieu, or some other center leader, take the responsibility of presiding over the cabinet, while he retains his old post in the Quai d'Orsay.

The vote of the Socialists against participation in a bourgeois government was a hard blow to M. Daladier and his radical Socialist colleagues, who had promised the radicals a revolutionary program if they took part in the government. He had pledged to lower the taxes of the poor, raise the taxes of the rich, cut down armament expenditures, raise expenditures for social welfare and release all radical political prisoners.

Predict Coalition Cabinet.

After his flirtations with the Socialists, the repulsed M. Daladier tried vainly to fix a combination with the center groups, but they would have none of him and his only recourse was to give up. Before doing so, however, he called at the Quai d'Orsay to see M. Briand, whom he helped overthrow last Tuesday, but the grizzly former premier gave him little encouragement.

Later M. Tardieu and M. Cheron called on M. Briand, which led to the belief that the trio will probably unite to form a coalition government to carry on for two or three months, until M. Poincare's health permits his return to power.

Eating ALL-BRAN Relieved Constipation

Everybody who is slave to cathartics and laxatives will be interested in this letter—

"I took cathartic pills every night and sometimes daily to relieve myself and take away the awful headaches I was subject to. Two months ago I started eating a large bowl of your ALL-BRAN with cream for breakfast and today I am in fine condition, better than I have been in three years. My bowels are regular every day. I have not taken one cathartic pill in two months."—Mrs. A. J. O'Connell, 52 Phelps Ave., Rochester, N. Y.

Constipation gets in its deadly work when bulk is left out of the diet. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, however, will supply this bulk. It sweeps the intestine clean and stimulates normal action. Two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal.

WIDOWED BY DRY BULLET, TELLS STORY TO JURY

Oklahoman Shot Down as He Begged for Life.

Chandler, Okla., Oct. 29.—[Special.] A frail widow took the stand in district court here today to tell how her husband had missed the bullets of the world war and returned home to his small farm to be shot down by a bullet from a gun in the hands of a prohibition officer of the same government which he had served on the battlefield for eighteen months.

It was the story of the killing of James Harris, husband of the woman, and Oscar Lowery, her brother, who were killed by Jeff Harris, prohibition enforcement posseman, at their home in the south part of Pottawatomie county on July 4.

The case was called for trial yesterday, coming to Lincoln county, on a change of venue. After examining 61 men a jury was finally selected at 6 o'clock this afternoon.

Called "Cold Blooded."

The opening statement was made to the jury by Randall Pitman, county attorney of Pottawatomie county, who is leading the prosecution. He asserted the state would prove the officer had shot down both men in cold blooded murder. His statement was followed by the opening statement of the defense, whose attorneys declared they would attempt to prove Jeff Harris shot the men only after such action was necessary to save his own life.

In direct conflict with the assertions of defense attorneys, Mrs. Harris, who was the first witness called by the state, pictured the actions of Jeff Harris at the time of the killing.

"He turned on my brother and shot him down while he had his hands above his head begging for his life," the widow testified as she broke into tears.

Didn't Identify Himself.

On cross-examination she declared the officer never told any one on the place who he was until after the shooting had occurred.

"My husband thought he was an outlaw," she said, "and went into the house to get his gun and run him away."

According to her testimony, Jeff Harris never served a search warrant on any one at the house at the time of the raid.

Jeff Harris, who was 65 years old Tuesday, is now standing trial on the charge of killing Oscar Lowery; he also is charged jointly with W. W. "Bunk" Thomason, federal prohibition agent, with the fatal shooting of James Harris.

On cross-examination the attempt to shake Mrs. Harris in her testimony was apparently of no avail. She reiterated her brother did not have a gun in his hands at the time he was shot.

Deputy Sheriff Is Freed.

Galena, Mo., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Fred Nelson of Elsey, a deputy sheriff charged with killing Purcell Allen, an alleged bootlegger who resisted arrest, was freed of all blame today at a hearing before three justices of the peace. Two of the justices declared the evidence of ten witnesses showed Nelson was justified in shooting Allen.

FINES MAN ACCUSED BY GIRL.

Charged with molesting a 9 year old girl, Nils Rieten, 45 years old, of the Monroe hotel, 1650 West Monroe street, was fined $100 and costs yesterday by Judge Samuel Alschuler in Grand Crossing court.

NEW ARMY RIFLE 3 TIMES AS FAST AS SPRINGFIELD

But It Must Undergo Thorough Test.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—A new model semi-automatic rifle, which can be fired three times as fast as the old Springfield service rifle with which the doughboy is armed, has been developed under the supervision of the war department, it was disclosed today. The weapon is referred to as model T-3 Garand, and was invented by an employé of the ordnance department.

On the recommendation of the semi-automatic rifle board, which has been testing out the merits of nine German, Belgian, Czecho-Slovakian, and American rifles during the summer, the war department has ordered the construction of twenty of the Garand rifles for extensive service tests. The board liked the performance of the Garand rifle better than that of any of the other weapons presented.

It recommended, however, against adopting any semi-automatic rifle as standard prior to comparison of the service tests of the Garand and the Pederson semi-automatic rifle, which until recently was regarded as the best weapon of its type.

Semi-Automatic, Lighter.

The Garand is a .276 caliber weapon as compared with the .30 caliber Springfield. Despite the fact that it is a semi-automatic, the Garand weighs slightly less than the Springfield, a circumstance that surprised the board members. The Garand fires ten times and reloads automatically. All the operator has to do is to pull the trigger for each shot and insert a new clip when the ten cartridges have been fired.

According to officers who followed the tests at the Aberdeen proving ground, the Garand can be fired ninety times a minute, as compared with thirty times a minute for the regular service rifle.

The recoil from the Garand amounts to but three-quarters of the kick administered by the Springfield.

May Increase Weight.

While all the tests this summer were with .276 caliber rifles, there are many indications that when a semi-automatic shoulder rifle finally is adopted by the war department it will be of the same caliber as the present Springfield. Adoption of a .30 caliber semi-automatic rifle would make possible the interchanging of ammunition for machine guns and rifles. Ammunition now on hand could also be utilized.

EDITOR LISTS 60 BOOTLEGGERS IN WASHINGTON CITY

But Reporters Refuse to Spy for Grand Jury.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Three reporters for the Washington Times were summoned before the grand jury today and ordered to divulge information about capital liquor conditions. After refusing to testify because of "newspaper ethics," the reporters were given a one day continuance by Judge Peyton Gordon.

Quizzing of the newspaper men was one of several events intensifying the turmoil over prohibition scandals in Washington which President Hoover recently proposed to make a model of law enforcement.

Senator Coleman L. Blease [Dem., S. C.] has described the capital as "honeycombed" with blind tigers, gambling and vice resorts and demanded that the President make a house cleaning of the police.

Wire Tapping Indictment.

Today's developments included the return of the first indictment based on wire tapping activities of federal dry agents and the capture of 90 gallons of corn whisky from a truck by the police. At the same time Dexter Dayton, 25, who confessed he strangled his sweetheart while in a drunken stupor, was indicted for first degree murder. The strangling, for which Dayton was nidicted, was the second killing of its kind here recently. The capital still is mystified about the pajama cord garroting of Mrs. Virginia McPherson six weeks ago.

The Times has been publishing an exposé of capital rum traffic, the last installment declaring that "the city is flooded with excellent whisky and fairly good gin," and that "there is more drinking here than in other cities."

Calls for Cleanup.

Called before the grand jury, Daniel E. O'Connell, city editor of The Times, presented reports of investigators listing 60 speakeasies and bootleggers and suggested the district attorney and the department of justice act on them. Testimony from the reporters, who supposedly purchased liquor, was demanded, and the three appeared today. But they refused to assume the rôle of dry spies. They will be questioned again tomorrow when the matter of their privilege will be argued.

The "wire tapping" indictment in the form of a conspiracy charge against five persons to violate the tariff act by importing liquor without payment of customs duties. The liquor came "off a schooner" in the Atlantic.

FIND $47,000 NAVY STOLEN PAY ROLL CASH IN PAYMASTER'S YARD

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A tiny tin box buried in a chicken yard yielded $47,000 to navy department searchers, who revealed today that this much of the $54,600 Lieut. Charles Musil is charged with stealing recently as navy paymaster at Charleston, S. C., had been unearthed in the exact spot to which he led them.

After naval authorities had sought the absconder in far corners, Musil voluntarily surrendered aboard the U. S. S. Seattle at New York Oct. 14. He turned $1,500 over to Capt. C. T. Owens and insisted he had spent the balance of the stolen pay roll.

Officers checked his movements since the disappearance Sept. 28. He acknowledged his visits to Washington, Chicago, Detroit and Canada. Conscience stricken, Musil finally informed the investigators he would show them where he had buried the money if they returned him here.

Musil was placed under close guard at the navy yard, and preparations for a court martial trial are being made.

Jury Refuses Damages in $50,000 Alienation Suit

A jury in Circuit Judge R. R. Fowler's court yesterday refused to award damages to Henry N. Majeres, 969 Edgecomb place, in his $50,000 alienation of affection suit against Daniel W. Stansbury, milling manufacturer, for the affection of his estranged wife, Mrs. Mertle Majeres. Majeres said that he found his wife in Stansbury's room at the Maryland hotel in May, 1928, a month before he obtained a divorce.

WALKER DEFEATS HUDKINS; KEEPS CROWN

ROCKNE TALKS ABOUT HIS LEG AND HIS TEAM

He'll Take It Easy Until Nov. 16.

BY ARCH WARD.

The authority is Mr. Rockne himself.

Exercised by stories coming out of South Bend that the condition of his injured leg was worse, Rockne last night called THE TRIBUNE to report that he is feeling fine and will be back at the helm of the Notre Dame eleven before it clashes with Southern California in an intersectional game that is expected to attract 120,000 to Soldiers' field on Nov. 16.

"I feel no different than before I went to Pittsburgh last week," Rockne said. "I could go to Atlanta if I chose, but I don't think it would be advisable.

Best Time for Rest.

"Doctors have told me that rest is imperative for recovery and it seems to me that this is the best time to take it. I am not underestimating Georgia Tech when I say that we ought to be able to come through that contest undefeated. Then comes Drake. We should get by that game too.

"After that we start a series of games as hard as any a Notre Dame team has ever tackled. Southern California, Northwestern, and the Army all are rugged foes, and it will require everything we have to turn them back. That's why I want to be in shape.

"We have defeated Indiana, Navy, Wisconsin, and Carnegie Tech in style. You'll see the real Notre Dame team the last three Saturdays in November."

Pleased by Carnegie Game.

Rockne seemed particularly pleased with the way his boys performed against Carnegie. This was the team that ruined an otherwise perfect season for Notre Dame in 1926. Last year the same outfit handed the Irish their first defeat on Cartier field in 21 years.

"There was nothing the matter with our defense in that game, was there?" Rockne inquired. "Any team that can stop a full back like Karcis, who operates behind an aggressive line, is all right with me. Our offense is still a little spotty, but we haven't attempted to teach complicated formations. We are saving them for those November foes."

IRISH VARSITY RETURNS

Notre Dame, Ind., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Norte Dame's first and second teams returned to practice today and went through a short dummy defense drill against Georgia Tech plays as executed by reserve and freshmen teams. The varsity also polished its offense under the eye of Assistant Coach Tom Lieb.

The squad is in good physical shape, none of the players having been hurt in the Carnegie game.

Much interest has been shown by southern fans in the work of Marchmont Schwartz, triple threat left half back on the shock troops, who hails from Ray St. Louis, Miss. A number of letter and telegrams have been received at the Notre Dame athletic office asking if this son of the south will be seen in action at Atlanta this week.

POLLACK BEATS O'HARA IN TEN ROUND FEATURE

Patsy Pollack, Canadian welterweight, won a ten round decision over Buddy O'Hara of Chicago in the windup featuring Promoter Mique Malley's boxing show at Guyon's Paradise last night. The decision met with the approval of the 1,489 fans, who paid $2,940.50 to see the bouts.

Joey Bosak of Blue Island, winner of the 112 pound title in THE TRIBUNE'S Golden Gloves tourney last year, won his first professional fight. He won by a technical knockout from Eddy Urban of the west side in the second round. Urban was knocked down three times in the opening session. After the second knockdown in the following round Urban's seconds entered the towel, conceding the fight. Each weighed 115 pounds.

In other fights Frankie Carr, west side 140 pounder, won a four round decision over Johnny Panek of South Chicago; Willie Pellegrini of the west side outpointed Fernando Gonzales of Mexico in six rounds, and Herschie Williams of Danville took the verdict over Jackie Moore of Chicago in six rounds.

CANZONERI 8 TO 5 FAVORITE OVER LOAYZA TONIGHT

Meet in Windup of Show at Coliseum.

Tony Canzoneri and Stanley Loayza, two young men whose talents are well and favorably known to Chicago prize-fight customers, tonight will display their wares to an assemblage at the Coliseum. The affair will be under the auspices of Mr. Jack Dempsey who currently is seeking to prove to the Chicago public that he is fitted by nature and experience to be one of the nation's leading purveyors of fistic entertainment.

Tonight's headliners assure an enthusiastic turnout, for both, especially Tony, have pleased the bugs on all previous appearances. Notable among these previous appearances was the occasion recently when Tony battled Sammy Mandell, lightweight champion, with such skill and determination that the referee awarded Tony the decision, although the verdict went to the champion on the vote of the two judges.

Punches with Either Hand.

Canzoneri will enter the ring an 8 to 5 favorite to win the decision, according to the prophecy of the betting element last night. His more ardent boosters, whose minds go back to his victories here over Eddie Mack, Ray Rychell, Armando Santiago and Joey Sangor, are predicting the New Yorker will be able to summon enough power to knock out Senor Loayza. As an incentive in this direction Dempsey plans an engagement for Tony with Bud Taylor on Nov. 13.

Louis "Kid" Kaplan, another former world's featherweight champion, and Eddie "Kid" Wolfe, hailed as the southern lightweight champion, will furnish the fireworks in the ten round semiwindup. Kaplan is one of the leading lightweight contenders and is eager to secure a match with Mandell. In one of his most recent fights Wolfe lost a close decision to Canzoneri in New Orleans. They will weigh 135 pounds.

Tony Hererra, the Mexican lightweight, and Irish Jackie Pilkington of New York will be the principals in the third ten rounder. Both are stiff right hand punchers and this fight may not go the limit. They have agreed to scale 135 pounds.

Joe Smallwood of Washington, D. C., and Eddie Ballatine, local welterweight, will meet in one of the four round openers and Al Donnelly and Smiley Springer, Chicago featherweights, in the other. The first fight will be staged at 8:15 o'clock.

DE PAUL BACK, OUT ONE MONTH, TO FACE LOYOLA

The big Rock Rapids (Ia.) boy, who has recovered from a badly bruised shoulder, figures to be Coach Eddie Anderson's choice as line plunger to aid his lighter mates against their heavier opponents. Johnson is the only husky in the De Paul back field, weighing 180 pounds. Clair Byers, whose speed offsets what he lacks in weight, scales 165; Capt. Phelan, 160; and Red Harrington, 158. Loyola's ball carriers, excepting Capt. Collins, average nearly 180.

Woe Is Kipke! His Stars Even Miss Trains

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—The griefs of Harry Kipke, youthful and sorely beset coach of Michigan's losingest football team, continue to pile up. It now develops that some of his boys, in addition to playing losing football, also miss trains, presumably on account of misreading timetables while blinded by the white lights of Chicago.

CAPT. TRUSKOWSKI

Coach Kipke was loath to discuss the train missing episode today when interviewed after rumors had indicated the train missers were in for disciplinary action. Kipke said the men—Capt. Truskowski, Gembis, Hudson, and Heston—had convinced him there had been no infraction of training rules in an unauthorized Chicago layover.

And Without Nighties, Too!

The train missing was executed Saturday night while the club was en route from its trimming in Champaign to a somewhat clammy reception in Ann Arbor, the home port. That the failure to board the home bound caravan was inadvertent was borne out by the fact that the boys' personal baggage was on the regular train. Sans nighties, the fellows were obliged to retire in a raw state, they claimed, recounting their suffering to their inquiring coach. Upon hearing this Kipke agreed the lads had suffered enough and that no suspensions would result from the incident.

Although lenient in the matter of train missing, Kipke's mood was something else again when activities turned to preparation for the Harvard game a week from Saturday. He set forth on a shakeup policy that is expected to be far reaching.

Simrall, Gembis Out.

Today was the first time this season that Simrall and Gembis have not been in the regular varsity lineup and Kipke's backfield was made up of four sophomores. Hudson was calling signals and punting, with Heston and Priest at the halves and Morrison at full.

While Morrison's work at tackle against Illinois was satisfactory, it was at a full back's regular post, backing up the line on defense, that the Royal Oak giant shone.

Ray Priest, heralded widely from his freshman year, has not looked right this fall until yesterday, but his showing then was enough to give him a temporary berth, shelving Dahlem. Truskowski has a boil on his neck which kept him out of work, but it is a question as to whether he will find a place when his ailment disappears.

The sophomore quartet used today is a more balanced back field than Michigan has had this year, Morrison being the one 200 pounder, while Priest and Heston, at the halves, are 170 and 163 pounds, respectively.

In the Wake of the News

OLD RIVER.

Used to be mallards, of pointed wing,
Cruising south where the willows grew,
And other features above the bow
Whose arrows sped from a birch canoe.
A ferry served for a crossing then—
Where now a monster of steel and stone
Bows and scrapes to a comic tug
All unaware of the traffic gone.

Used to be forests of masts and spars,
But the loaded docks of the Ancient Day . . .
These, and the commerce that choked the stream
With high adventure, have passed away.
Gone are the schooners from Manistee,
With fragrant cargoes of virgin pine . . .
Never a memory now we keep
Of the ships that followed the lumber line.

Stately towers that pierce the sky
Guard the brink of the Ancient Stream,
Caring not for the brave romance
That gave them place in a marble dream . . .
Used to be mallards, of pointed wing,
Going south on an autumn cruise . . .
I hear them call—where the willows grew—
Out of the picture the builders lose.

Eddie McGoorty, Ex-Middleweight Boxer, Near Death

Eddie McGoorty, one of the most scientific middleweights who ever pulled on a glove, is in a critical condition in a Milwaukee sanitarium. McGoorty is suffering from cancer of the throat and little hope is entertained for his recovery.

EDDIE McGOORTY.

McGoorty started boxing as an amateur in 1904, when he won the 130 pound championship of Wisconsin by defeating three opponents in one night. He turned professional the following year.

GRIFFITH HAS PLAN TO CURB ATHLETIC ILLS

Maj. John L. Griffith, western conference athletic commissioner, has a plan to rid college sport of some of the evils disclosed in the recent Carnegie Foundation report. It is the organization of a national committee to decide how far schools, alumni groups or others could go in assisting athletes through college.

Speaking before the Evanston Kiwanis club yesterday, Maj. Griffith compared the proposed supervising committee to the football rules committee, the clearing house for problems concerning play on the field.

Illinois Ring Commission Lifts Suspension on Tut

The Illinois state athletic commission yesterday lifted the suspension of King Tut, Minneapolis boxer. Tut was suspended for fouling Lope Tenorio at the Chicago Stadium recently but was returned to good standing when Stadium officials exhibited his contract to box again in an attempt to make amends for his disappointment to Chicago fans.

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Illinois, Western conference champion for the last two years, and Northwestern will meet before 50,000 in Dyche stadium, Evanston, Saturday in what should be one of the most interesting and hardest fought football games of the day.

Northwestern, although weakened by the loss of Hank Bruder who suffered a broken leg in the Wisconsin game, will be represented by a team which will fight from whistle to whistle. The Purple ran up 66 points on Wabash last Saturday. Any eleven which can score that many points is no setup for anybody.

Elevens representing these two institutions have met on the gridiron 23 times. Illinois has been the victor in 15, Northwestern in five, while three have resulted in ties. Northwestern's last victory over the Orange and Blue was in 1912. The score was 6 to 0.

Holmer's Threat Falls.

Illinois had to extend itself to win last year and also in 1927. It was homecoming at Illinois a year ago, and the Orange and Blue won by a 6 to 0 score. Near the close of the contest Capt. Holmer of Northwestern started to tear holes in the Illinois line and carried the oval deep in the downstaters' territory, but the threat failed. In 1927 Illinois was the victor, 7 to 6. Northwestern was the first to score by a line thrust by Tiny Lewis who failed to kick the goal. Illinois received the next kickoff and made a successful march of 70 yards, ending with a pass for the touchdown. The goal was kicked.

These Illinois victories were made possible by the brilliant work of four backs who again will be in evidence

Dekalb Hunter Bags Three Wild Geese; Three Shots

De Kalb, Ill., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Earl Bale this morning accomplished what has been the aim of local hunters for some time. He bagged three wild geese in a swamp ten miles south of this city. The largest, a gander, weighed six and one-half pounds. The average weight of the three was five pounds.

Bale went to the swamp in search of ducks. He heard the honking of the geese and crawled through the swamp grass toward the sound. While still 150 feet from open water the geese, six in number, took to the air. Bale got three in successive shots. He stopped, thinking the limit was three. The limit, he later learned, is four.

Local hunters cannot recall when geese were last shot in this vicinity, for they fly high and seldom land. Ducks, even, are scarce in the vicinity.

Three Maroon Cripples Back for Tiger Game

University of Chicago's football machine, which of late has been coughing and stuttering like an antiquated flivver on a frosty morn, promises to swing into high for its collision with Princeton Saturday.

RED BURGESS.

Two days ago it looked like the Maroons would go east without three of their leading ball carriers and a reliable end, Capt. Kelly. Two of the backs, Temple and Knutson, had responded so well to treatment last night that Trainer Si Benson said they would be ready to start. Kelly also will be in the lineup, Benson predicted.

Burgess, who was hurt two weeks ago, is the only player who will be unavailable.

Consequently the Maroon horizon was brighter last night. The Purdue rout is a thing of the past and a fighting crew will entrain for the east tomorrow noon. Without Temple or Knudson, the running attack would have had no chance. Stagg had planned on opening up with passes, hoping for an early score. Now he is brushing up his power plays that failed to function against the Boilermakers, and expects to present a varied attack of straight football and trick plays that will fool the Princeton team.

Work on Fundamentals.

A nonscouting agreement between the two schools leaves both in the dark as to what to expect. Either may pull a deceptive play that will decide the game in the first quarter.

Blocking and tackling again were stressed last night. The freshmen were called over and put on the defense against the varsity. The yearlings failed to stop the battering attack, and passes went for good gains on several occasions.

Petition to Stop Racing at Aurora Is Withdrawn

The petition filed by August Reding, Aurora business man, seeking an injunction to halt horse racing at the Aurora race track, was withdrawn yesterday by Attorney Frank Blain, counsel for Reding. The petition had been filed in the Kane county Circuit court. Reding had set forth that horse racing was unconstitutional and took money from business.

20,000 WATCH CHAMP BATTER CHALLENGER

Both Suspended

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 30.—(AP)—Following the Hudkins-Walker fight in Los Angeles last night Edward C. Foster, chairman of the championship committee of the National Boxing association, announced early today that both fighters and Jack Kearns, Walker's manager, stood suspended by the association.

The N. B. A. last month declared Walker's title vacant and will not recognize last night's winner as the champion. The suspension will be effective in 31 states and parts of Canada which have membership in the N. B. A.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles Cal., Oct. 29.—Mickey Walker removed Ace Hudkins as a serious menace to his reign as world's middleweight champion in a ten round battle at Wrigley field tonight.

Walker left no doubt of his supremacy in the opinion of Referee Jack Kennedy, who scored the rounds by pointing to the alternate corners. He awarded seven of the ten to the champion and only one, the eighth, to the challenger. Two were called even. Twenty thousand approved the decision.

The Nebraskan was a badly whipped young man at the finish, while Walker was unmarked, due to his success at standing back and rapping Ace's features with all of his 159½ pounds. Ace lived up to his reputation for boring in and absorbing punishment, but other than that gave his supporters little fo admire.

Micked had Ace reeling in the third, fourth, and ninth rounds, but his best punches were unable to floor the Wildcat.

Referee Warns Hudkins.

Hudkins was warned for hitting low in the third. This was the round in which Walker cut the challenger's left eye. He kept peppering away at the cut the rest of the fight.

Walker scored heavily in the first and second rounds with left hooks to the head. Ace took the blows in an effort to get into close quarters, but was unable to score effectively with his loopy swings. In the third Ace forced the fighting, driving Walker on to the ropes, where he shot a left to the body that was low. Walker was not hurt.

A hard right to the chin and a lot of vigorous cuffing in the clinches evened the fourth for Ace, but the champion continued to play for the challenger's ailing left eye and met Hudkins' plunges with solid smashes which won the fifth and sixth. Both tired in the seventh, which was even, and Ace won the eighth when he pinioned Mickey on the ropes and pumped rights and lefts to the body.

Walker in Distress.

When Walker covered up Referee Kennedy cautioned him to fight, and Ace had Mickey in distress for the only time when two of his hooks reached the champion's chin. Mickey came back strong and was marring Ace's features in the ninth and tenth.

After the decision Walker ran over to the radio microphone at the ringside and yelled, "I told you all how it would come out."

The crowd of 20,000 provided a gate of around $141,000 for Promoter Jack Doyle. The champion's cut of 47½ per cent netted him around $65,000; Hudkins received $16,000.

ARMY-NAVY GAME UNLIKELY BEFORE 1931 CAMPAIGN

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—With the way cleared for a conference tomorrow over plans for resumption of athletic relations between West Point and Annapolis, Maj. Gen. William R. Smith, superintendent of West Point Military academy, said here today that the football schedules of his school would not permit a game with the Navy during the 1929 and 1930 seasons.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Joe McCarthy, manager of the National league champions, came home tonight. The lad who years ago played ball in Germantown on lots now occupied by many fine residences came back to his old neighborhood to be fêted, lauded and honored by his old gang.

CHARLEY IRWIN SPOILS AURORA BETTING PARTY

BY FRENCH LANE.

A big betting plunge went amiss out on Aurora's muddy race track yesterday when Lead Gold, a 2 year old daughter of Transmute-Wickerwork, failed to finish in the money in the Garden claiming, a dash at a mile for 2 year olds.

Where all the money came from on Lead Gold no one seems to know, but the wires were burning up with it, and when the cry, "They're off!" finally came something like $7,500 in comeback money had reached the track, all to be wagered on Lead Gold.

This money, along with the other hundreds wagered on the colt by those at the track, made Lead Gold one of the heaviest favorites of the season. His price, which opened at 3 to 1, dropped and dropped until he was nearly an even money shot at post time.

Irwin Spoils It.

Charley Irwin, the Wyoming cowboy, spoiled the big party. He sent his filly, Star Mistress, a frequent winner here, into the struggle, and from the time barrier went up until they hung the numbers Star Mistress was always in front.

She wound up by beating Cabildo by three lengths with The One in third place. Lead Gold, at no stage of the struggle gave his followers much encouragement. He was running last for the first half mile. He moved up slightly on the last turn, but Jockey Critchfield tried to drive him through next to the rail in the most difficult going.

Star Mistress no doubt would have been the favorite but for the wild plunge on Lead Gold. As it was, her followers deserted her and in the mutuel betting she paid $14.56 to win. Cabildo was a long shot and paid $8.56 to place. The One wabbled in the early going but closed an enormous gap to get up for third money.

Alto Makes Good.

The sharpshooters were not down hearted after the failure of Lead Gold and they went right back to Alto in the fifth race, which brought the best field of the afternoon to the post. Alto found the Aurora mud to his liking and got a clever ride from L. Martin, who saved ground on the turn and got up to beat the early pacemaker, Chaff, by a little more than two lengths. The odds on choice was Salona but he ran third most of the way and never could improve his position.

The plunge on Alto didn't reach the proportions of the play on Lead Gold, and Alto paid his followers $16.12 after he ran the mile and seventy yards in 1.50 3-5, very good time when track conditions are considered.

November Best for Illinois Goose Hunting

BY BOB BECKER.

Late October has brought flocks of geese into Illinois from northern nesting and feeding grounds, according to reports from the Mississippi sand bar country above Cairo. Residents in that part of the state, site of annual visits by thousands of honkers, write us that prospects for goose shooting are A No. 1. The best shooting, however, will not come until November when thousands of white throated Canadian geese will have invaded the Mississippi river country for a long stay.

Hunters desiring goose shooting in southern Illinois will have a choice of "blinding" in a wheat field or going into a pit blind on a sandbar. Both produce good shooting. If there is any choice as concerns comfort of location it is in favor of the hunting in a wheat field. In such a location one is free from whirling sand clouds that winter winds stir up on the broad sandbars.

Although much of the best hunting land above Cairo [a favorite rendezvous of the honkers] has been acquired by groups of sportsmen, there still are a few so-called "open" hunting places along the river, or back from the river in the fields, where free lance hunters may try their hands by the payment of a fee to a landowner. Invariably the hunting is done over live geese decoys staked out near the blind. In Illinois, the daily limit on geese is four.

Undefeated Teams Meet Saturday.

Down east they're whooping it up about the Yale-Dartmouth game Saturday all because Albie Booth is going to play with Yale and Al Marsters will wear a Dartmouth uniform. Sports writers have been calling both "ghost," "flash," and "specter." Sixty thousand will crowd into the Yale bowl expecting them to live up to those names.

Of course, Mills stadium on Chicago's west side will not hold 80,000, nor as many prep fans as it will contain will see the west section battle when Austin and Marshall Saturday when the Booth and Marsters of the section meet each other for the first time. Marshall's star is Co-Captain Harry Projansky, while Austin presents Capt. Benny Sohn.

Decides Section Title.

The Austin-Marshall game will not only bring Projansky and Sohn together, but also will settle the question of the west section's representative in the City league semi-finals. Each team has won two league games. Aside from the two stars, both are well equipped with everything that makes a good football team.

And what of these two boys, Projansky and Sohn? The former's best contribution thus far was in the Marshall-Crane game. Harry made all of his team's 25 points, mixing up plunges, end runs and intercepted passes for four touchdowns and an extra point. He added two more against Harrison just when they were needed, and Marshall came from behind to win, 19 to 7.

Sohn All City Selection.

Sohn was an all city choice last year and in Austin's practice games with Oak Park and St. Mel earlier in the season demonstrated that he's still eligible for a berth on the all star team. He hasn't been called upon to do the ball carrying that Projansky has, but has proven himself most consistent. The Oak Park game was one that Austin meant to win; having lost but once before in 18 years. Sohn made it possible by scoring eight out of 14 points. The St. Mel-Austin battle looked like a scoreless tie until he made seven points in the last quarter.

Projansky is assured of capable interference Saturday with such backs as Fine, Barron, and Schwartz to aid him. And in the line he'll have Novak, a veteran end; Barry, Hirsch and Kleinstein for more support. Sohn is surrounded by a back field as capable as himself, including Callies, Armstrong, Valle, and Yergens. Manning, Koch, Brainard, Norton, and Dauer are the forwards who will attend to the Marshall line.

Austin Also Meets Harrison.

If Austin should win it has yet to meet Harrison eleven, which proved too tough for Marshall until Projansky started to do things. Harrison, which has a record of one win, one lost and one tied, had only three veterans. Jerry Dvorak, Irving, Kupcinet, and Frank Carek, to start the season. Rubec, Blek, Leonetti, Kvidera, Klein, and Krasinski are the boys who have aided the trio of Harrison veterans.

Crane and McKinley, each of whom has lost two games, will meet Saturday to decide the cellar title of the section. Crane, which tied Harrison last week and crowded the latter out of the title race, has a great pair of backs in Altiere and Musinski.

Carthage College Players Forego Dates This Week

MOON MULLINS—PERHAPS APPEARANCES WERE DECEIVING

WHEN MRS. SMOKEHOUSE STEPPED OUT INTO THE HALL TO CATCH A GLIMPSE OF THE INTRUDER THAT JAKE JUST TOSSED OUT, SHE GOT THE SHOCK OF HER LIFE.
WHY SYLVESTER SMOKEHOUSE!
WHO IS THAT MAN? ANSWER ME THAT!
WHY IT'S JAKE. MY COUSIN JAKE IRONHEAD, WHO RAN AWAY WITH THE CIRCUS WHEN HE WAS A LITTLE BOY, DEAR.
BUT SYLVESTER, WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN? WHY DIDN'T YOU COME HOME BEFORE?
I DID— THE FIRST TIME I CAME IN HE THREW A PAIL OF WATER ON ME, EFFIE. AND THE SECOND TIME HE THREW A LAMP. IF I'D OF COME IN AGAIN THEY'D BE THROWING DIRT ON ME BY TO-MORROW.
YEH-YOU SEE IT'S A LUCKY THING I THOUGHT HE WAS A NUT, EFFIE, AND DIDN'T LOSE MY TEMPER.

Phelan Sounds Warning; Beware of Wisconsin Backs

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Jimmy Phelan, Purdue's coach, as the Boilermakers practiced this afternoon admonished his charges that in Lusby, Behr and Hal Rebholz of Wisconsin they will find their most talented offensive opposition of the season thus far.

Purdue critics, while pleased with the general performance of the Boilermakers against Chicago, were impressed with the team's ineffectiveness on the defensive against the forward pass attack. It was announced that the practice tomorrow would be devoted to drilling in the art of knocking down or intercepting forward passes.

With the exception of Bill Woerner, 155 pound end, who is expected to start in Caraway's place at left end, no changes are anticipated in the Boilermakers' starting lineup against the Badgers. In tonight's offensive drill Phelan used the same well balanced back field that has scored 108 points in four games. The blocking of the backs, particularly that of Ralph Welch, who has made it possible for Glen Harmeson to get started on his long jaunts, has been pleasing to the Purdue coaches.

HAL REBHOLZ KEEPS IT UP

Madison, Wis., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Harold Rebholz, veteran full back, who has made more tackles this season than the entire Wisconsin line, was still at it tonight. As the Badgers primed defensively against the freshmen, Rebholz was at the bottom of nearly every pile.

Due to the activities of the elder Rebholz and the guards, Dave Tobias and Augie Backus, the frosh only were moderately successful as they attempted execution of Purdue plays against the varsity.

Sammy Behr again was absent with injuries. Ernie Lusby filled in at the quarter back position. The other backs were Nello Pacetti and the Rebholz boys. The Badger varsity's blocking was anything but impressive. Coach Thistlethwaite told them so, too.

Co-eds Take Up Football to Keep Tab on Boy Friend

Recently denied dates with players on the varsity eleven until the present season is concluded—the co-eds, some 60 strong, requested they be given a class in the game.

So today their request was granted when Coach Glen Filley assumed the rôle of professor to explain the meaning of the forward pass, end run and other football terms.

The co-eds explained their boy friends had better play well or they will be severely reprimanded—"For we will know now when he makes a mistake."

M'Larnin Pulls Punches? Well, Not This Time

The ten round decision fight involving Lightweight Champion Sammy Mandell and Jimmy McLarnin of California at the Chicago Stadium Monday night will be a battle from start to finish if the preparation of both battlers counts for anything.

McLarnin is not pulling his punches. Yesterday he sent his brother to the mat with a right cross. He then made Russell Whalen, local lightweight, step lively to avoid right hooks and swings. Because of his deadly punching, Manager Pop Foster finds difficulty in obtaining sparring partners.

It is doubtful if McLarnin knows how and when to pull a punch. Being a natural hard right hand puncher, he puts everything behind the blow. His manager frequently has instructed him to go easy with sparring mates, but Jimmy seems unable to follow directions. Manager Foster claims McLarnin does not care to get in the habit of pulling punches.

Mandell took on the stiff punching Danny Delmont of the west side for two rounds yesterday. Delmont had been told by Manager Eddie Kane to punch with his right hand all the time, but Sammy had little trouble keeping out of harm's way. Danny employs the same style as McLarnin and hits hard. Mandell ended his workout by stepping two rounds with Harry Dublinsky, who also throws a mean right hand. After the drill Mandell weighed 138 pounds. Manager Kane said he will enter the ring at about this figure.

Von Porat Ready to Box Scott at Charity Show

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Otto von Porat, Chicago heavyweight, today signified his willingness to fight Phil Scott in the main event of the annual New York American Christmas basket fund benefit show to be held in Madison Square Garden, Dec. 3. In the event he beats Scott, he in all probability will be picked to fight Jack Sharkey for the Madison Square Garden corporation in the second annual Biscayne Bay show in Miami, Fla., next February.

NORTHWESTERN SOPHOMORES TO PLAY SATURDAY

Northwestern's efforts to withstand the invasion of Coach Bob Zuppke's veteran Illini at Dyche stadium Saturday will depend largely on how the sophomore candidates in the Wildcat lineup perform.

In yesterday's practice Coach Dick Hanley had a first string eleven working together which appeared as the likely starting combination for Saturday. Numbered among this group were four sophomores, four juniors, and three seniors.

The Purple leader practically has decided on starting Sid Burnstein and Oswald Baxter at the half back assignments. The other first year men in the starting lineup are Jack Riley and Dallis Marvil, tackles. The three seniors are Anderson, guard; Erickson, center; and Bergherm, full.

Trying Out the Kickers.

Additional time was spent yesterday in bolstering the kicking game, a department which has been weak in the last two games. With the Illini boasting a trio of strong punters in Lanum, Mills, and Peters, the Purple will be hard put to even matters. Bergherm, Baxter, and Woodworth are the three leading candidates to handle the kicking assignment.

Hanley expressed pleasure at the performance turned in last Saturday by Paul Engebritsen, a husky sophomore tackle, and indicated that this youngster will probably see service this week-end.

Bill Calderwood's injured ankle continues to show improvement and he will probably be available. He may play full back along with Rus Bergherm. Calderwood played full back as a sophomore, but last year was shifted to half.

ZUPPKE INSPECTS ATTACK

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Two promotions from the B team to the varsity were made today at Illinois, where Box Zuppke is preparing the players for another severe test at Northwestern Saturday. Useman was promoted to quarter back on the second eleven and Huenergardt was moved up as a tackle.

Useman, a sophomore from Taylorville, was playing on the varsity squad as an end until Peters' injury sent Zuppke looking for reserve quarter backs. He had played in the freshman back field and is one of the fastest men on the squad.

In the B game against Michigan last week he ran 70 yards down the center of the field, outrunning the Wolverine tacklers for a touchdown. A short while later he returned the Michigan kickoff to the 25 yard line, but failed to score.

Teamed with Useman in the second back field were Evans and Root, halfbacks, and Lanum, full back. They worked behind a line which contained Mallin and Wolgast, ends; Lewis and Huenergardt, tackles; Roush and Huddleston, guards, and Schumacher, center.

Frosh Try N. U. Plays.

Pitting the reserves against his regulars, Zup sought to discover what is ailing the end runs which his fleet half backs used to make but which failed thus far in the conference. Time after time the reserve forwards broke their way through to spill the Illini interference and throw the backs, Timm and Walker, for losses. Freshmen wearing Northwestern jerseys and using the Purple plays later tried the varsity defense and occasionally would slip through for considerable gain.

The first string lineup included: Jolley and Steinman, ends; Gordon and Bodman, tackles; Crane and Weitz, guards, and Kawal, center; Mills, quarter back; Timm and Walker, half backs, and Humbert, full back.

Peters again watched practice, although he was in street clothes, and Burdick is due to resume work tomorrow.

41 Athletes Ineligible.

Among 41 athletes declared ineligible at the University of Illinois late tonight were 39 football players, four of them members of the varsity. The other gridders were freshmen. One cross country runner and a varsity soccer player also were named. The varsity footballers had not participated in a conference game this season. Names of those ineligible were not made known. Scholastic difficulties caused the action.

NELSON ROCKFORD GOLF PRO

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Gunnar Nelson of Olympia Fields, Chicago, has been appointed golf professional at Rockford Country club, succeeding William Gordon, who goes to Sunnyside club, at Waterloo, Ia.

Yale to Scrimmage Today; Saturday's Lineup Named

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Following a two hour signal drill by Yale players today, Head Coach Mal Stevens and his aides decided a short practice game tomorrow will go a long ways toward polishing the Elis for the all important game with Dartmouth Saturday.

With the exception of Jim Stewart, at left guard, the same Yale lineup will start against the Big Green as played for the New Haven school against the Army last Saturday. The veteran, Fred Loeser, will be sent into Stewart's place, Yale coaches figuring he'll add strength and experience to the line.

DARTMOUTH REVIEWS PLAYS.

Hanover, N. H., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—A review of Yale plays and a study in new intricate formations, all during a chalk talk, featured Dartmouth's preparation today for the coming grid game with the Elis.

HARVARD SPEEDS UP.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Drill of a more intensive nature today characterized Harvard's conditioning of gridders for the intersectional clash with Florida Saturday.

CORNELL POLISHES DEFENSES.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Cornell's varsity gridders today spent virtually the entire afternoon polishing its defenses in anticipation of a hard game with Columbia Saturday. Stress was laid on the aerial defense angle. Cornell's first string back field returned to action, Stevens, Handleman, and Scott being replaced as backs. Alexander also was back at right end in place of Rousseau.

on the week-end. In Mills, Timm, Humbert, and Walker, Coach Zuppke has one of the smoothest working backfields in the conference. They have played together so long they anticipate each other's movements and carry out their assignments perfectly.

Well Balanced Back Field.

They are not spectacular players but they can be depended upon to make short, choppy gains on nearly every effort. Each can hit the line, drive off the tackles or run the ends. They also are excellent blockers and equally effective on the defense. Because of their experience they know how to adjust themselves on defense and it rarely happens that they are lured away from the direction of the play.

In front of this back field Coach Zuppke will have a line from tackle to tackle which gives the ball carriers the necessary support. Gordon and Burdick will start in the tackle positions and Capt. Crane and Weitz will be the guards. Kawal will pass the ball from center. It is an experienced line which knows the various methods of charging and blocking. Wolgast and Steinman will probably be the starting ends.

Loss of Bruder has complicated Coach Hanley's task of finding a good ground gaining back field combination. Bruder was the mainspring of the Purple attack. His punting will be missed. Hanley, however, was pleased with the general play of some of his second string players against Wabash. Baxter, Hails, Burnstein, and Pritchard performed creditably and it would not be surprising to see Burnstein and Baxter in the half back positions when the Illinois game opens.

Hails is an elusive ball carrier who is dangerous once he passes the line of scrimmage. Bergherm, a plunging full back, will start the game, but may be relieved by Moore. Lee Hanley will be in the quarter back position. Riel and Haas are the reserve quarter backs.

Illinois must win to remain in the running for a third successive championship while Northwestern, although it lost to Minnesota, will be a contender if it is the victor.

GOPHERS FORCED INDOORS; NEED SCRIMMAGES

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Inclement weather, which the Gophers dodged during the bad spell last week, caught up with Coach Spears and his footballers this afternoon. The season's first snow drove the squad indoors for the first sheltered practice this year.

There was hearty wishing for at least two good days to enable the team to do some needed scrimmaging for the Indiana game. While Ripon was defeated decisively, some errors were committed that Spears desires to correct at the earliest possible moment.

Bronko Nagurski, the Gophers' all around star, still doesn't know whether he's a full back or a tackle. Spears wants to use him at full back, but about the time the coach's mind is made up something happens to cause notice to be served on Bronko to stand by for line duty.

INDIANA BACKS BUSY

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 29.—[Special.]—The light Indiana back field worked out today at blocking in preparation for the Minnesota game at Minneapolis Saturday. Coach Page realizes that his men will be outweighed from ten to twenty pounds to the man, so he sent his lightest backs against the heaviest Hoosiers to accustom them to handling larger adversaries. Cully, Faunce, Garrison, Crawford, Koenig, and Dauer are all members of the Indiana "A" varsity, weighing on an average of 150 pounds.

How often have you been disgusted with the filthy, germ-breeding places where some cigars are made . . . dark, stuffy factories . . . warm, dingy shops and windows . . . where cigars are rolled by careless, dirty lips and fingers and spit on the ends! What a far cry this is from the modern method of manufacture used by Certified Cremo.

F. & W. GRAND, SILVER STORES FORM MERGER

Consolidate Chain Business of 32 Million Yearly

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 29.—A gross chain store business of approximately $31,000,000 annually was brought together today with the merger of the F. & W. Grand 5-10-25 cent stores and Isaac Silver & Bros., Inc.

The merger was announced in a joint statement by Adolph F. Stone, president of the F. & W. Grand stores, and Nobel Crandal of George H. Burr & Co., bankers for both organizations, following approval of the board of directors of both chains.

Will Form Holding Company.

A new holding company which will be known as the F. & W. Grand-Silver Stores, Inc., will be formed to operate 140 stores specializing in merchandise ranging in price from 5 cents to $1 in all parts of the country. The holding company will issue its securities in exchange for the outstanding securities of the two companies to be included in the merger, on a share for share basis in each case.

The new company will continue under the management of the executives of the present operating company. Mr. Stone will be chairman of the board of directors of the new holding company. Harold F. Stone, executive vice president of the F. & W. Grand company, will be president of the holding company, and Isaac Silver, president of Isaac Silver, Inc., will be chairman of the executive committee.

Plans Stock Dividend.

The F. and W. Grand company announced that, prior to the consummation of the consolidation, it will declare a stock dividend of 5 per cent in common stock in order to make the necessary adjustments for the transaction.

Payment of this dividend, however, will not affect the ratio of conversion of the preferred stock outstanding, which is convertible into common stock, but holders of 6 per cent debentures of F. and W. Grand Properties, a subsidiary, it is said, will be protected from dilution of their rights to convrtrt into common stock of the company, through the necessary readjustment of prices at which such debentures may be converted.

The management of the Grand company also announced that it intends to place the common stock of the new holding company on a basis of 4 per cent annually, payable in common stock of the company, and that any cash dividends paid in the future will be in the form of extra dividends.

Chicago Curb Market Stocks

Investment trust securities crashed on the Chicago curb yesterday as their holdings slumped. Losses in the trust issues ranged from 5 to 37 points. Other groups followed suit to a lesser extent, utilities, radios, industrials, and specialties slipping from 3 to 15 points. The finish was generally better than the lowest levels reached.

U. S. STEEL CORP. TO PAY EXTRA DIVIDEND OF $1

Directors Report a Prosperous Year.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The United States Steel corporation, traditional bellwether of the New York stock market, late yesterday declared an extra dividend of $1 on the common stock, in addition to the regular quarterly payment of $1.75 a share. At the same time the directors made known that the big company is having one of the most prosperous years in its history.

Consolidated net earnings for the September quarter were $70,173,713, compared with net of $71,995,461 earned in the June quarter and with $53,144,476 net earned in the September quarter of 1928.

The balance available for dividends at the end of September was $51,575,-956. That compared with a balance of $53,825,543 reported for the June quarter and with a balance of $29,886,259 reported for the September quarter in 1928.

Balance for September.

The balance for the September quarter was equivalent to $5.62 a share on 4,564,827 common shares, which the directors announced are outstanding today, after allowance for preferred dividends.

Net for the June quarter available for dividends was equivalent to $5.91 a share on 5,030,304 common shares outstanding at the end of the June quarter. The difference in shares outstanding since that time is due to the fact that certain stockholders who subscribed to the offering of new common stock the company made last spring elected to pay for their shares in two installments. Those who paid in installments were not entitled to the dividend declared in the June quarter. The second installment was paid Oct. 1, and all stock issued is now fully paid for and entitled to dividends. In the September quarter, 1928, the corporation earned $3.31 a share on 7,-116,225 common shares then outstanding.

Net profits for the first nine months after charges and federal taxes amounted to $147,586,640, compared with net of $77,086,083 earned in the first nine months of 1928. That net was equal after charges and federal taxes to $15.82 a share on the stock outstanding.

In the first nine months of last year the corporation earned $8.17 a share on its common stock, of which 7,116,-225 shares were then outstanding.

Surplus Shows Increase.

Surplus after dividends for the September quarter was $31,040,516, compared with a surplus of $33,467,892 for the June quarter and one of $11,127,-889 for the September quarter of 1928.

Unfilled orders on hand on Sept. 30 totaled 3,902,587 tons. The corporation plants are operating at 82 per cent of capacity at present.

The Inland Steel company reported net income of $3,158,966 for the September quarter, which was equivalent to $2.63 a share on 1,200,000 shares of no par common stock outstanding, against $3,126,909 net, or $2.61 a share, earned in the June quarter this year, and $2,089,430 net, or $1.74 a share, earned on the same share basis in the third quarter of 1928.

For the nine months to Sept. 30 net income was $9,293,117, equal to $7.74 a share, against $6,931,161 net, or $5.63 a share, earned in the same period of 1928.

Other companies also contributed cheerful dividend news. The stockholders of the Home Insurance company approved a proposal to increase the authorized capital stock from $12,-000,000 to $24,000,000 in preparation for a ten for one split-up of the stock.

American Can Extra.

The American Can company declared an extra dividend of $1 on common today and a quarterly dividend of $1, thus placing the stock on a $4 annual basis. Previously the stock paid 75 cents quarterly. Schletter & Zander declared an extra dividend of 13½ cents on common stock voting trust certificates. The Northland Greyhound Line declared an initial dividend of 70 cents.

The American Multigraph company declared an extra dividend of 12½ cents and the regular quarterly dividend of 62½ cents on the common.

LEADING ISSUES INCREASE YIELD AS PRICES DROP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 29.—The decline in stock market prices in recent trading periods has increased the yield of leading issues from levels which, in some cases, ranged around 1 per cent to as high as 11.11 per cent.

The development is significant in the light of the statement by Arthur W. Loasby, president of the Equitable Trust company, that as a result of the deflation of prices investors would begin purchasing yields "instead of quotations."

How the value from the investment viewpoint of stocks has been enhanced in paradoxical fashion by the decline in open market price is illustrated in the case of Anaconda Copper, one of the issues to suffer severely. At today's close this stock yields 8.24 per cent.

There are some striking comparisons in yields among stocks in the same group. At today's close Bethlehem Steel yields 7.14 per cent, whereas United States Steel yields 4.60 per cent.

Baltimore and Ohio now yields 6.11 per cent. New York Central, which declined less, yields 4.22 per cent, although its dividend is $5 against $7 for B. & O.

Luxuries May Be First to Feel Slump

BY SCRUTATOR.

If the present wave of selling in the security markets eventually does have an adverse effect on general business the first and possibly the only lines to suffer will be the luxuries.

In previous periods that followed such descents, it has been noted that relatively cheap or small priced articles showed little or no loss and often a positive gain in sales. The makers of the lowest priced automobiles had a fine year in 1921, a time of real depression.

New York merchants dealing in standard makes of goods were reported in good spirits despite the market's gyrations. One declared that he would sell more neckties and books than he had in the peak of the bull markets, because people were too busy to bother with such things when they were dreaming of millions or tens of thousands of easy profits.

Exist Chiefly on Paper.

As a matter of fact, it is unlikely that the markets have turned any large sums into general trade as prices went up. Little of the profit ever existed anywhere except on paper.

The winning customers, instead of taking the money that they might have had, remained in the speculative marts too long. They still have the money they work for as spending funds, and that was about all they had in the recent past.

Americans, contrary to belief, are not a spendthrift race. They protest and with effect when even the small purchase must be made at an increased price. Municipal governments have risen and others have fallen on whether car fares should be five cents or six or seven. Electricity is comparatively cheap, yet few families that pay their own bills are wasteful of light.

The postoffice department learned a few years ago that there was such an aversion to the payment of more than two cents for a first class letter or one cent for the mailing of a postal card that these rates were put back into effect.

Postal Deficit Noticed.

Today the deficit in postal revenues, extending over a period of years, is attracting the attention of President Hoover and efforts are being made to get the service on a self-supporting basis.

Raising of the postal rates would seem a logical solution, except that if they were raised the mails would lose in volume and possibly in net income. Business is good now with the present rates. Last year the postoffice receipts exceeded 693 million dollars and the expenditures 725 million dollars. The revenue is enormous, especially when it is considered that most of it comes in one and two cent items.

The prophets who see great gobs of gloom in the present situation may have been deceived. They may not realize that the populace is nearer now to conservatism than to wild extravagance. It was nearer this last state in 1920 and 1921. Then it was remarked that teamsters went to work in silk shirts and riveters wore $18 patent leather shoes on high buildings.

Commodities Not Inflated.

This time commodity prices have not been inflated; they have even been on a slight downgrade since 1922. There is little water to be squeezed out of the merchandise; seemingly there was a great deal that had to come out of the securities.

Events that look cataclysmic have the unhappy faculty of promoting beliefs that other disasters are following. But the volume of general trade in this country, according to the best estimates, shows no more than 5 per cent difference between peak years and low years, and the line of increase has been almost unbroken since the civil war. Even the stock market, unless all historical precedents fail, will stabilize itself on a level higher than that of 1925.

ILLINOIS FIRE INSURANCE FIRMS MAY BUY STOCKS

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Millions of dollars of reserves of Illinois fire insurance companies may be used to buy common stocks of industrial concerns, C. J. Doyle, associate counsel to the national board of fire underwriters, said late today in commenting upon a recent change in Illinois law in view of the crash of values on stock exchanges.

"Under the amendment effective July 1 last," Mr. Doyle said, "fire insurance companies are permitted to invest in common stocks of companies which have paid an average dividend of 5 per cent over the last four years. Casualty companies, however, are barred in this state from investing their funds in this manner."

Doyle declined to estimate the amount of money which would be invested by Illinois fire companies, but said, "There never was a better time to take advantage of prices for an investment account."

Says Rail Earnings Fail to Keep Pace with Service

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Railroad earnings have by no means kept pace with the improvement in service, according to the Index, economic publication of the New York Trust company, which adds that "Not once in the last eight years have the railroads as a whole equaled the return of 5¾ per cent established by the interstate commerce commission." Rather, the review states, the average earnings have been less than 4½ per cent.

(New York curb list page 26.)

New York, Oct. 29.—Trading hit an unprecedented pace on the Curb exchange again today, sales reaching the record total of 7,096,300 shares. This is the second record for volume set within a week, the previous one of 6,337,418 having been established last Thursday.

As on the big board, prices crashed with a violence that startled even the professionals in the early trading and it was not until the late afternoon that any semblance of a rally developed.

The extreme low levels of yesterday were broken through with ease and prices plunged headlong to new depths with many of them several points between sales. Buying which developed following the announcement of the bankers' conference stimulated a long list of issues to more or less impressive recoveries, but a large number wound up at or near the low levels of the day.

Much Forced Selling.

There was naturally forced liquidation in many stocks, due to the heavy losses sustained since last Thursday and the sellers had no choice except to take the nearest bid they could reach.

Utilities were among the weakest features, losses of 20 to 50 points being numerous; but there were some sharp rallies after wide declines. Electric Investors dropped 50 points to 75, rallied to 90, and finished at 85. Electric Bond and Share in the morning sank to 50 and closed at 59½ for a net loss of 25½. Commonwealth Edison had a loss of more than 40 points. The heaviest trading was again in Cities Service, over 700,000 shares being traded in during the first few hours. This stock regained 2½ points of its loss at the close. The total turnover in this issue was 1,105,900 shares. Middle West Utilities old, which fell 119 points yesterday, slumped 85 points to close at 190.

Blue Ridge Off 5.

Niagara-Hudson Power closed at 13, off 3¼; Middle West new, 18, off 9; American Superpower, 19, off 6½; Associated Gas, 35½, off 10½; American Cities A, 34, off 11; Allied Power, 31¾, off 11⅝; Central States, 29¾, off ¼; Electric Shareholders, 14¾, off 8½; United Light A, 24⅞, off 3½; United Gas, 18½, off 6½, and Associated Gas A, 35½, off 10⅞.

The investment trust shares were about the hardest hit. Blue Ridge, sponsored by Goldman Sachs and publicly offered at 20, dropped below 5 and closed at 7⅝ for a net loss of 5 points. Goldman Sachs finished at 35¼ for a net loss of 14⅞. Fourth National Investors, publicly offered at 52, closed at 26, off 16. Lehman, at 82, was off 10. Shenandoah, a Goldman Sachs trust, wound up at 11, off 6.

FOREIGN MARKETS HIT

London Is Excited.

Scenes which amazed old timers here were witnessed during the final hour of business yesterday in the London stock exchange, which has been following closely the New York market. During the final hour all shares in which London and Wall street are both interested were marked down heavily. Because of the difference in time between London and New York prices on the New York stock exchange were still pouring in and the London traders still kept at it. Prices were shouted from two windows. Arms were raised above the crowd with fluttering paper forms. Clerks struggled in and out, harassed on every side. As the minutes passed and more news was received of the New York break the excitement became more and more tense. Fortunes were made and lost in a few minutes.

Amsterdam Steadies.

After a weak opening the Amsterdam market steadied yesterday, although prices were well below those of yesterday. Americans, mostly steels and Anaconda, were generally much weaker. Mining shares remained very weak.

Montreal Losses Heavy.

Losses all along the line, ranging from $65 downwards, further reduced price levels on the Montreal stock exchange yesterday. The close showed no firmness and most stocks ended the day at prices near their lows.

Toronto in Turmoil.

With the appearance of some buying support half way through the session, prices on the Toronto stock exchange yesterday rallied slightly. However, the battle for control between the bears and the bulls was still in favor of the former.

Black Day in Stockholm.

The Stockholm bourse experienced a "black day" as stocks went down yesterday coincidentally with slumps in Swedish shares on the New York and London exchanges. Industrial shares lost heavily. Shares on the Swedish Match Trust, headed by Ivar Kreuger, dropped 10 to 21 points. Kreuger debentures dropped 43 points.

Berlin Regains Confidence.

For a few hours yesterday the Wall street panic spread through the Berlin bourse, but before it closed Berlin had reasserted its independence in stocks which had dropped 20 per cent climbing steadily back to normal early in the afternoon.

Paris Bourse Weak.

The prolonged government crisis was reflected on the Paris bourse, which, with the added momentum of the Wall street collapse and crisis, caused one of the weakest and dullest days of this year.

Investment Buying Crops Out; Chicago Bank Stocks Recede

Chicago bankers and wealthy individuals bought stocks yesterday. Investment trusts and corporations which have held aloof from the market also made purchases. And the big banks loaned money freely for the purchase of securities to borrowers who could qualify.

It was investment buying by hard headed financiers and business men who have waited for months for the speculative bubble to burst and for securities to reach price levels that hold out prospects for both reasonable return and future appreciation. The aggregate of such purchasing ran high into the millions of dollars.

Cite Cash Purchases.

One La Salle street broker cited the fact that a customer who had made large profits but who had been out of the market for months bought blocks of 2,000 shares each in four stocks listed on the Chicago Stock Exchange. It was a $250,000 cash purchase. Other brokers had similar stories to tell.

Purchasing of industrial and railroad stocks by Chicago bankers proceeded in the face of sharp declines in the prices of stocks of their own institutions. Some of these stocks dropped more than 100 points yesterday and some have depreciated several hundred points in the last month or two.

Drops 115 Points.

Continental Illinois shares were quoted last night at 685 bid, 700 asked, a decline of 115 points for the day. The price last Saturday was 880 bid, 885 asked. First National shares dropped about 90 points to 790 bid, 800 asked, which compared with 912 to 917 on Saturday. Foreman National and State Bank of Chicago stood around 925, or about 75 points off, and comparing with 1,075 on Saturday.

Central Trust of Illinois was down 120 points at 480 to 490, compared with 610 to 620 on Saturday. National Bank of the Republic sagged 20 points yesterday to 170 bid, 175 asked, compared with 228 to 230 on Saturday.

LOSSES IN NEW YORK.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 29.—Bank stocks were smashed down to new lows today in demoralized trading over the counter. Losses ranged from 30 to 1,400 points a share. First National bank was bid $1,400 a share below yesterday's close, this decline being a record breaking drop for a bank stock.

Breaks of 100 points were numerous. One issue, Manhattan company, dropped 200 points. Guaranty, another high priced stock, lost about 180 points at its low. Equitable Trust shares fell 130 points, Straus National bank 100 points, and National City 115 points.

Bank stocks were sacrificed by their owners in many instances in order to raise cash to protect other commitments. Another reason for the wide declines was the more limited market which prevails over the country. The breaks were in no cases taken as reflections upon the banks themselves.

CHICAGO STOCKS WIDEN BREACH IN PRICE LIST

BY GEORGE HAMMOND.

Chicago stocks cracked again yesterday as another selling wave engulfed the market. Prices sank from one to seventy-five points as large blocks of stock were thrown into the melee. Total sales exceeded 1,000,000 for the second time in the history of the exchange.

Commonwealth Edison took the brunt of the battle, as it sold off to a low and close of 235 after sales of 3,500 shares, a decline for the day of seventy-five points. Middle West Utilities registered the biggest individual turnover of the day with sales of 156,-700 shares. This stock closed 8½ points lower.

Stages Late Recovery.

The market held a ray of hope in the last hour, when seventy-six issues closed higher than the lows for the day. The recoveries from the bottom prices ranged from one to twenty points. Three stocks finished with net

REALTOR'S WIFE PURCHASES SITE FOR TALL FLATS

Mrs. Wilbur Branigar to Build on Jarvis.

BY AL CHASE.

Elizabeth Branigar, wife of Wilbur Branigar of Branigar Bros., subdividers of Ivanhoe and other properties in Chicago and Gulf Hills on the Mississippi gulf coast, yesterday purchased a residence at 1427 Jarvis avenue from Thomas F. Molyneaux, a Board of Trade operator. It is understood that the new owner contemplates erecting a twelve story apartment building with stores on the first floor next spring. No architect has yet been selected.

The property purchased by Mrs. Branigar fronts sixty-four feet on Jarvis avenue with a depth of 150 feet. It is 190 feet east of Greenview avenue. She gave in part payment the nine room residence at 219 Leicester road, Kenilworth. C. J. Bassler was attorney in yesterday's transaction.

Drexel Avenue Sale.

John Palmer has sold the six apartment building at 8539-41 Drexel avenue, lot 50x125, to John Flanagan for a reported consideration of $60,000 subject to a first mortgage of $32,000. Mr. Palmer accepted as part payment the four apartment building at 6523 South Throop street at a reported $28,000. Glatt & Price represented both parties in the transaction.

John F. Kuehl has bought the leasehold and furnishings of the Whitcomb hotel at 5107 Kenmore avenue, from Mimi Hofseth and George N. Dean. The lease runs until 1939 at a reported annual rental of $16,000. Steinbock & Alexander were brokers.

Buys Rogers Park Flats.

Title to the property at 1142 Pratt boulevard, improved with an apartment building containing upward of thirty flats, has been transferred by Abraham Kupersmith of Los Angeles and Morris Hurwitz to George Bass for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $91,000. The property is immediately to the east of the Rogers Park hotel. The land is 90x181 feet.

OUTPUT OF OIL.

BUILDING PERMITS

There were nine building permits issued yesterday and their total cost amounted to $112,600. Those over $10,000 are:

RENT TO GO UP IF U. S. FALLS OFF THE WAGON

If Uncle Sam ever falls off the water wagon the Fifty-first and Calumet Building corporation will have to pay an annual rental of $6,000 for the ground at the southwest corner of 51st and Calumet. While prohibition is in effect, whether actually or merely technically, the yearly rental will be only $4,500.

All this came out with the sale of the ninety-nine year leasehold on the property dated Feb. 19, 1914, by Mrs. Gertrude Bohan to the building corporation. The building corporation proposes to raze the old improvements on the land immediately for replacement with a one or two story building to contain three stores on the ground floor. The cost is estimated at $80,000. The Jacob Adler Sons Family Fund is the principal in the building corporation and Irving Alter will have the management of the new building. Fischel, Kahn, Heart & Epstein were attorneys.

Leases Berwyn-Kenmore Corner for Restaurant

John Batsis has leased from the Independence State bank, trustee, the two stores at the southwest corner of Berwyn and Kenmore avenues, for a term of ten years, at a term rental reported to be $49,000. I. Whiteson, broker for all parties, states the lessee will spend $15,000 in remodeling the property into a Spanish style restaurant.

Irving Park District to Extend Mayfair Pk. Area

The Irving Park district has acquired the property at 4528 North Kilbourn avenue from Joseph Firrone to be used in connection with the enlargement of Mayfair park now occupying the half block bounded by Sunnyside, Kilbourn and Kenneth. The park is being extended 200 feet north along both Kilbourn and Kenneth.

MAKES FIRST REPORT.

In the first earnings reports which it has issued since it began operations on May 23, 1929, the Ungerleider Financial corporation announced that its earnings in the period ended Sept. 23 amounted to $1,236,927.

SELLING MOVE EATS INTO BOND MARKET GAINS

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—Heavy inroads were made today on the gains which the bond market had painstakingly accumulated since early in the month. The wave of selling that struck the country's security markets was felt in all groups of bonds listed on the New York Stock exchange and combined average showed a decline of three-quarters of a point.

Bonds of lesser grades broke sharply. Utilities and industrials were dumped for some large declines, and even the first grade rails, which have been leaders in the October advance, suffered from the panicky condition of the public mind, although to a lesser degree.

U. S. Issues Firm.

Only the United States government issues showed any degree of steadiness. There was enormous buying in the Liberties, the fourth 4¼s turning over to the extent of more than $1,500,000 principal amount for a small net gain. It was learned that the Federal Reserve bank had been a liberal purchaser of governments to supply funds to the money market, thereby enabling New York member banks to replace moneys called by corporations and individuals.

Convertibles and all issues with stock features took some enormous losses. American Telephone 4½s sold as low as 115, compared with the previous minimum of 119¼ and the high of 227, but rallied 10 points to show a net loss of 25 points. International Telephone 4½s closed at 119⅜, after selling down to 116, for a net decline of 13¼ points. Public Service of New Jersey 4½s lost 31½ on a small sale. Losses of 1 to 13 points were borne through to the finish by American I. G. Chemical 5½s, Allegheny corporation 5, American International 5½s, Atchison 4½s, General Public Service 5½s, Missouri Pacific 5½s, New Haven 6s, Pan-American Petroleum 6s, Texas corporation 5s, Southern Pacific 4½s, with warrants, and Walworth 6½s, with warrants. Sales of the American Telephone debenture totaled nearly $4,500,000 principal amount.

High Grade Rails Off.

Among the higher grade rails there were losses of nearly a point in Baltimore and Ohio first 5s, Chicago and Northwestern general 5s, Rock Island 4½s, and Big Four 5½s. Drops of 1 to more than 3 points appeared in Boston and Maine 5s, Canadian National 4½s, Central Pacific first 4s, Big Four general 4s, St. Paul 5s, Erie 5s, Missouri Pacific general 4s, New Haven 4½s, and debenture 4s, Pennsylvania 4½s, Norfolk and Southern 5s, Southern Pacific refunding 4s, and St. Louis San Francisco 4½s and 4s. Losses in numerous speculative issues ran higher. The St. Paul adjustment 5s crashed 9 points to a new 1929 low.

RIGHTS HOLDERS PERPLEXED AS STOCKS SLUMP

New York, Oct. 29.—The collapse of prices on both curb and stock exchanges has driven a number of stocks far below the figure at which stockholders were given the right to purchase new shares before the rapid decline set in. A dozen companies or more have been placed in the somewhat embarrassing position of deciding what to do in the unusual situation.

A notable example is Cities Service, now selling around $30, with rights to subscribe at $45. North American company is another case in point. The stock has been offered for subscription at $100 a share, compared with a price of $82 today. As an outcome of its predicament the Cities Service company today announced that a meeting of directors has been called for tomorrow to withdraw the offer of rights to buy additional shares.

BANKS CALL 150 MILLIONS IN LOANS AS MONEY EASES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Oct. 29.—Unusual and unprecedented procedures were resorted to in the money market today, the most spectacular of which was the calling of $150,000,000 loans by banks, despite an unprecedented renewal rate of 5 per cent for call money. The rate was later advanced to 6 per cent, however.

Time money prevailed at 6 per cent for thirty days, and a purely nominal market of 6½ per cent was quoted for all other loans.

Coincidentally with this development rates on all classes of bankers' acceptances were slashed ½ per cent all around, the fifth reduction in less than two weeks, and intimation was plainly given by the market that the federal reserve bank shortly would reduce its buying rate to conform more closely to the open market, which is now ½ per cent below the present buying rate for ninety day bills.

Inquiry at several banks in regard to the enormous loan calling brought forth the statement that it was mostly for the account of trusts, corporations and others who desired either to place their money elsewhere or to buy stocks instead of lending on them.

Leading banks estimated that some 30 per cent of this money was going directly into the purchase of stocks.

Philadelphia Exchange Experiences Wildest Day

Philadelphia, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Philadelphia stock exchange today passed through the wildest session in its history. The total shares traded in was 514,341, a new record for the local exchange. Forty-four stocks sold at new lows for the year. American Stores closed at 49, off 10 3-8; American Superpower Corporation, 19⅞, off 7⅝; American Telegraph and Telephone, 211, off 21; Atlantic Refining, 30, off 10⅝; General Food Corporation, 35⅛, off 13; General Motors, 41⅝, off 5⅞.

COTTON ACTS WELL

The cotton market acted comparatively well yesterday, considering the demoralization in stocks and the unsettled feeling in grain. Trading was not heavy, with hedge sales and general selling well absorbed within a range of about 20 points at the extreme in all markets. There was scattered buying at times on unsettled weather conditions over the belt, restricting picking.

Every little decline ran into buying orders but the finish was only slightly above the bottom for the day, with a rather better feeling. Net losses in Chicago were 15 to 16 points and in other markets 14 to 18 points. Spots lost 15 points, with New York 18.18c, and sales 1,100 bales. New Orleans was 17.70c, with sales 4,895 bales; Houston, 17.90c, and sales 623 bales; Galveston, 18.10c, no sales. Liverpool closed 12 to 13 points net lower, with spot sales 6,000 bales.

Bids on December at Chicago were 17.75c; January, 17.83c, with December offers at 18.15c and January, 18.23c. Weekly bids were 50 points under and offers 95 points over the market for next week for December delivery.

Trade sentiment inclines to the buying side on breaks but the volume of speculation is not large and price fluctuations are influenced to a considerable extent by the action of the stock and grain markets. Prices follow:

SKELLY OIL CO. EARNINGS SHOW LARGE INCREASE

New York, Oct. 29.—(AP)—The Skelly Oil company of Tulsa, Okla., announced today that its net earnings for the nine months ending Sept. 30, amounted to $4,813,451, equal to $4.40 a share, as compared with $2,462,388, or $2.34 a share, in the corresponding period a year ago.

The United States Dairy Products corporation for the six months ending June 30, had net profits of $763,659, as against $495,546 for the corresponding period last year, a gain of 54 per cent.

Net profits of the F. G. Shattuck company for the third quarter amounted to $475,603, equal to 43 cents a share on 1,050,000 shares, which compares with $326,713, or 31 cents a share, for the third quarter of 1928.

News and Gossip of Stock Markets

Rate Cut Almost Certain.

Wall street is almost as sure of a discount rate cut this week as it is of a tremendous reduction in brokers' loans. Many are inclined to criticise the federal reserve board for not dropping the New York bank's rate last week. Such action would have helped to steady frazzled nerves and would have fallen a long, long way short of stimulating a fresh speculative endeavor by the bulls. However, the authorities evidently thought the market should be allowed to follow its course. This week the case is different. Not only has the money market left the discount rate almost out of sight, but there is not the remotest possibility of a reduction undoing such good work as may have been accomplished by the market deflation.

Views on Margins Vary.

Sharply divergent views are expressed in Wall street on the subject of margin trading methods. Some hold that the market would have been steadier had brokers been less pressing in their margin requirements after the selling became so disorderly. It is argued that each sale to satisfy the margin clerk depresses prices and brings another margin holder into the market, and so on down the line. On the other hand, had enough margin requirements been still more stringent speculation probably would not have gone so far as it did. When the debris is cleared away it doubtless will be found that for the next few years at least margin trading will be much lighter than it has been in the past few years.

Blame Mob Psychology.

Nash Motors, in spite of the fact that it is an automobile issue, might serve well as the first illustration that the decline in prices has gone beyond all reason, and is due to mob psychology. Nash, which closed Monday night at 60, opened Tuesday 10,000 shares at 40. This brought the yield to 15 per cent on an annual basis, a 5 per cent increase overnight. Nash pays $6, will earn close to $8 in 1929, and from point of cash resources is the strongest of the independent automobile manufacturers.

General Motors' Position.

Then there is General Motors, the recognized leader of the industry, paying $3 in addition to extras and selling on better than 6½ per cent basis. General Motors will earn about double dividend requirements this year.

Break in Rails.

Railroad stocks, generally regarded as prime common stock investments, showed many sharp breaks yesterday. The yields from railroad stocks are never as great as those obtainable elsewhere and these securities, at the peak of the bull market brought only from 10 to 15 times their net earnings as compared with 15 to 35 times in the case of numerous industrials.

High Yields in Copper Group.

Turning to coppers, a group which many regard as among the most stable in the country and luxury proof, there are number of other illustrations of high yields and earnings. Anaconda, which opened 45,000 shares at 82, down 11⅛ overnight, was yielding better than 7.25 per cent. Anaconda pays $6 and is expected to increase its dividend shortly because it is earning at the rate of $11 to $12 a share. Kennecott, another representative metal issue, opened at 69. This stock pays $5 and is earning about $8 annually. The yield is better than 7 per cent. Other coppers around present prices are yielding from 6 to 15 per cent.

COTTONSEED OIL.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(AP)—COTTONSEED OIL.—Market was quiet and weakness of stocks and lard influenced speculative liquidation in the nearby positions, while the later months receded on a renewal of hedging by refiners against purchases of crude oil. The buying power was light and scattered. Sales, 7,700 bris; prime crude, 7.55c; prime summer yellow spot, 9.06c; December closed 9.06c, January 9.15c, March 9.27c, May 9.41c.

FRISCO STOCKS RALLY SHARPLY AFTER PLUNGE

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 29.—(AP)—Caught in a whirl of frenzied selling, stock prices tumbled headlong in early transactions on the San Francisco exchange today and then rallied sharply around noon as hysteria gave place to bargain hunting. No basis for the widespread alarm shown by traders was manifest in Montgomery street outside the action of the market itself.

Transamerica, bulwark of western finance, no longer supported by its president, A. P. Giannini, dropped more than 12 points, cutting its market quotation in half, then recovered 18 points, settling again and steadying around 41 as 74,000 shares changed hands in less than three hours of trading.

A statement signed by six leading San Francisco bankers and read on the floor of the San Francisco stock exchange added impetus to the recovery. The bankers said that business conditions on the Pacific coast and throughout the country are sound and they recommended cool judgment of values. Stock that had plunged down 10 to 30 points regained a large part of their losses toward noon. Some issues that droppped 4 to 30 points and later made recoveries of 2 to 18 points included Transamerica, Caterpillar, Pacific Lighting, and a number of the oils, notably Standard of California, Union, Union Associates and Richfield.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw, was quiet today, but the undertone was easier and uncontrolled sugars were offered in increasing volume and at lower levels. Buyers, however, showed little interest, and the only sale reported was about 10,000 bags Cuban from store at 3.83c. Weakness in Wall street led to active general selling in raw futures and prices were easier from the start, closing with net declines of 3 to 4 points. Approximate sales were 88,450 tons. WHEAT MARKET RALLIES AFTER 6 CENT DROP

Corn Prices Show Resistance to Pressure.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Demoralization prevailed in wheat for a brief period at the opening yesterday when a wave of general selling swept over the market. Prices dropped as much as 6⅝c from the finish of the previous day, the drastic liquidation in securities being the dominating influence.

The market, however, failed to get as low as it did last Thursday, and heavy buying orders appeared, partly for foreign account and values responded quickly, with a rally of 4⅜@5½c from the bottom, and the finish was at net losses of only 1⅝@2¼c.

There was heavy buying of wheat futures on the break by millers who were removing hedges against flour sales, and the latter are said to have assumed enormous proportions in the last few days, the statement by the farm board that they would loan money to cooperatives in order to hold grain off the market having a great deal of influence.

There were also intimations of a large export business, with intimations that exporters would pay 1c under Chicago December for No. 1 hard winter at the gulf, the best basis in a great many weeks.

Cheer Rally in Stocks.

Except for the brief period at the opening, when the market hung in the balance, there was nothing spectacular in the trading, with brokers apparently more concerned over the action of stocks than they were in wheat, and when an announcement was made in the smoking room that steel had rallied sharply there was a burst of cheering, and wheat jumped 1c almost between trades. At times it was possible to fill 1,000,000 bu orders at one price, and at others small orders had considerable effect on values.

The action of the wheat market itself inspired buying operations and houses with eastern connections were heavily active on that side, as were shorts and holders of bids.

When everything was considered the rank and file of traders regarded the market as having given an excellent account of itself, and there was a rather general belief that a turn upward in stocks would be reflected in a sharp advance in wheat.

The pool was credited with having supported the Winnipeg wheat market, with net losses there of 2¼@2¾c, while Buenos Aires was off 1⅞@2¼c for the day. Liverpool, while breaking early, rallied toward the last and finished 2¼@2¾d lower with frost damage reported in New South Wales. Liverpool May was 3⅝c over Chicago at the time it closed, about the widest difference in weeks. Exports in all positions were estimated at 500,000 bu, largely hard winters. It was impossible to secure figures on the amount of flour sold.

Wet Weather Helps Corn.

Despite the bad break in the security and wheat markets, corn showed stubborn resistance to selling pressure, with scattered commission house buying in evidence due to the wet weather over the belt which may curtail the movement of new grain, and the close was only ⅝@⅞c lower. Shipping sales were 61,000 bu with charters for 200,000 bu to Georgian Bay. Buenos Aires closed 1⅞@2⅛c lower.

Liquidation was on in oats and rye at the start, mainly in sympathy with wheat, but both grains rallied sharply from the inside figures, and closed well toward the best figures of the day with oats showing net losses of ⅝@⅞c, while rye was 1⅝@2¼c lower.

NEW LOW ON BUTTER

After touching a new low for the last five years at 38¼c, December butter futures on the Chicago Mercantile exchange yesterday made a good recovery but lost ground again at the close. The range between the previous settlement and the day's low amounted to $216 a car. Liquidation stimulated by margin calls on other investments in the security markets seems to have been responsible for the descent, while liberal buying by big local interests gave support to the rise. December closed ¾c lower at 39¼c, and January was off ⅝c at 39¾c. Sales were 263 cars, the heaviest of the year, and receipts 11,819 tubs. November egg futures dipped ½c to 38½c and December were up ½c to 39¾c. Sales were 296 cars and receipts 4,262 cases.

REACHES AGREEMENT.

The Republic Iron and Steel company of Youngstown, O., announces that it has reached an agreement to acquire the Union Drawn Steel company of Beaver Falls, Pa.

CASH-GRAIN NEWS

While foreign demand for wheat was curtailed to some extent by the uncertainty regarding the market there was a fairly good business put through, largely in hard winters, with intimations of around 500,000 bu sold in all positions. The Canadian pool failed to offer abroad Monday night. Local shipping sales were 20,000 bu wheat, 61,000 bu corn, 98,000 bu oats, and 5,000 bu rye. Charters were for 200,000 bu corn to Georgian bay.

Top yesterday, $13.00; average, $12.70.

Estimated receipts at Chicago today, 10,000 cattle, 20,000 hogs, and 19,000 sheep.

A dull, top-heavy opening in the hog market yesterday was followed by active buying on all sides and bulk of the supply changed hands on a stronger basis, with slight gains cited toward the close.

Shipping orders were largest for Tuesday since July 2, taking about 6,500, and with larger houses ready buyer of good hogs at $9.35@9.45 in midsession and later; only 6,000 were estimated left at the close. The extreme top reached $9.50, with the general average price up 5c at $9.20, comparing with a top of $10.00 and average of $9.60 at the high time of last week.

Comparison of Averages.

Prices, however, are above 1928 and 1927, the general average comparing with $8.95 a year ago and with $9.15 two years ago. A year ago prices were at the lowest level in October, 1928, and lowest from March 9 to Nov. 13, 1928.

In spite of continued large supplies, demand for cattle narrowed further yesterday, resulting in one of the most unsatisfactory markets of the season at barely steady prices.

Hundreds of medium to good grades went into the afternoon rounds without obtaining reasonable bids. Several thousands were carried over for today's trade in hopes of some improvement in the condition of the trade.

Beef steers comprised the bulk of the supply which added to the depression and held the extreme top down to $15.85, equaling the lowest top since June, barring Fridays and Saturdays when top quality is usually absent. Good 1,048 lb. yearlings reached the peak price, while prime 1,368 lb steers sold at $15.75. Bulk sold at $11.50@14.75, against $12.00@15.00 the previous Tuesday. Cows and heifers were not as plentiful and held about steady at the recent decline. Calves ruled strong to 25c higher, in sympathy with the upturn in lambs. Stockers and feeders were unchanged.

Lambs Score Advance.

Gains of 15@25c were scored in better grades of fat lambs yesterday, while others met early clearance on a strong to steady basis, closing at the high point of the day. Larger houses were active buyers and some city butchers ran short.

Good to choice light and handy weight natives brought $12.50@12.75, with $13.00 paid for several loads of the best selections. Receipts are running 11,000 ahead of a week ago, but carry a much smaller proportion of lambs suitable for slaughter. There was a big selection of feeding lambs at generally steady prices. Aged sheep and yearlings ruled stronger.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 20,000 hogs, and 19,000 sheep, against 11,391 cattle, 22,119 hogs, and 16,704 sheep the previous Wednesday and 12,202 cattle, 21,477 hogs, and 17,730 sheep a year ago.

EAST SELLS MAY LARD

Selling of May lard credited to eastern holders was a feature yesterday, bringing out offerings from other quarters, and carrying prices down about 30c. Buying of December credited to foreigners was responsible for a rally and a close with losses of 7½@20c, distant futures leading the break. Liverpool lard was 6d lower and export clearances 2,797,270 lbs. A little business was on in bellies with the close 16@22½c lower. Exports of bacon were 355,000 lbs. Cash trade was only fair, with shipments of lard and meats in excess of last year.

Hog supplies were liberal but materially less than last week and a year ago. Prices follow:

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

There is a disposition to buy wheat on all sharp declines on the part of milling and speculative interests. The former has bought enough wheat of late to be a factor in the market and cause moderate rallies. In the speculative trade a mixed feeling exists and price fluctuations are influenced materially by action of the stock markets. Regular trade news has no influence so long as nervousness exists in the security markets. Breaks for the past week have brought in the best kind of buying and it has had its influence on the market in general.

Corn is considered largely a weather market for the present. Rains over the greater part of the corn belt have checked husking and cribbing and brought in more support on all breaks. A disposition to take profits on bulges was responsible for a lower close and the impression prevails that corn at the present prices will not bring short sellers much profit unless there is an increased country movement and a decreased consumptive demand.

Bradstreet's world's available supply of wheat has increased 25,000,000 bu in the past two weeks, with a total supply of 472,000,000 bu against 345,000,000 bu last year. The trade has become so accustomed to talking big figures as regards supplies that they are only given a passing thought.

HIDE VALUES OFF SHARPLY

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Hide futures closed 20 to 54 points lower on the hide exchange, the market breaking in sympathy with the securities markets. The market opened off 20 to 80 points. Trading was largely speculative with shorts credited with the bulk of the selling. The day was the second largest in the history of the exchange, with a turnover of 3,240,000 pounds. Prices follow:

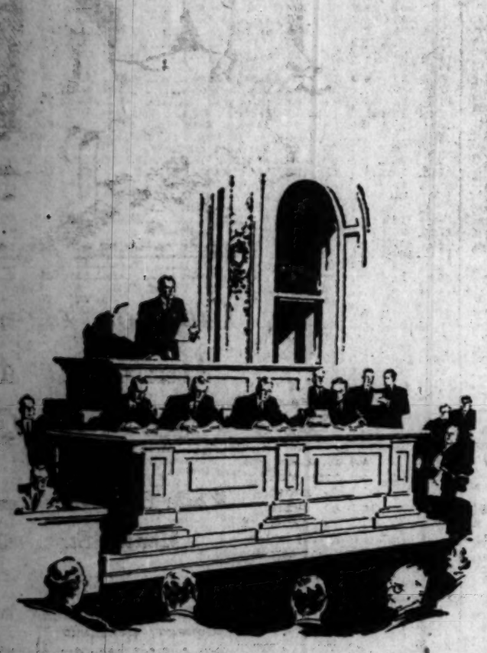
SUPREME AUTHORITY

49 GOVERNMENTS—the Federal Government and the governments of the 48 States—are expending by far the major part of their labors in the service of business.

What they do is of primary moment to business. Theirs is a sovereign power, a supreme authority in the various spheres of their activity. Business must know—and must conform.

Beyond the Federal news of The United States Daily, business men now have through the new State news of The United States Daily, a prompt and accurate record of Government activities within their States—and within other States where the actions taken govern their business.

And so, The United States Daily, reporting the work of government, becomes itself a supreme authority—compulsory reading to those business men whose affairs are affected, whose decisions must be made in the light of these other decisions made by the powers of government.



Legislatures in 48 States and at Washington pass laws—

Courts issue decisions, orders, decrees—

of moment to business

State and Federal Bureaus and Commissions report findings, issue orders—

OUT OF SUPREME AUTHORITY—SUPREME ADVERTISING FORCE

THE UNITED STATES DAILY reaches an audience of 34,000 powerful and influential executives—men who lead the destinies of American industry.

The United States Daily reaches those men who, out of the breadth of their responsibilities must be wholly broad-gauged, must be promptly and certainly informed of what government does.

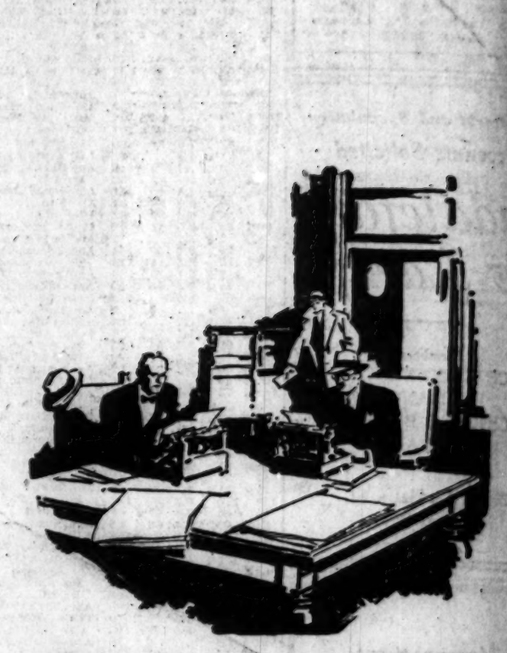
Advertising that reaches them through The United States Daily carries at once the action value and the immediacy of the daily newspaper and association with the force and authority that government carries to business.

This power of the government is considered important in high places. The greatest figures in industry and finance go to Washington or go to their State capitals at a moment's notice if it is suggested that they should go. Those who are used to absolute authority and full command in their own field are respectful and willing to cooperate in the presence of the authority that reposes in government.

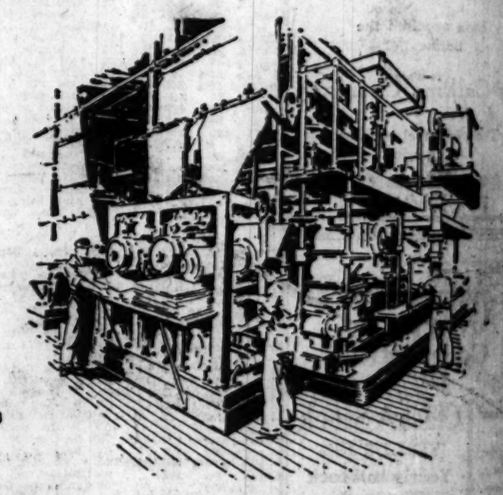
Here, then in The United States Daily, is a publication which penetrates the consciousness of its audience with a power, a finality and an ultimate authority that is born not alone of its own publishing resources, but out of the dignity and majesty of government in America.

What an Action Value to Employ In Your Behalf!

Fifty-two full page advertisements in The United States Daily will penetrate into every wing of American business where great things are done, and reach those great figures who mold the affairs of American business; reach them with an authority, an immediacy, and a visibility that is wholly individual and unique.



Reporters at the National Capital and in the 48 States write or wire news to The United States Daily in Washington—



The presses of The United States Daily at Washington overnight print 34,000 sixteen-page newspapers.

Trucks, trains and every kind of carrier carry The United States Daily into the hands of 34,000 important business executives.

THE HAWK

By ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.

Douglas Dorling, a young British peer, is sent to Dartmoor prison on the perjured testimony of Cora Sefton, an unscrupulous woman in love with him. Dorling is a famous aviator, but to keep this knowledge from his mother and spare her worry, he has been using the assumed name of Douglas Harris; and as Douglas Harris he is tried and convicted.

He is rescued from prison in spectacular fashion, and driven to the Gunter hotel where, to his amazement, he is greeted by Cora. She has registered as his wife. Cecily Warren, the girl Douglas loves, is also staying at the Gunter. She sees Dorling followed by Cora on his arrival and jumps to the conclusion he must be secretly married. Dorling escapes from Cora, leaving a note. Immediately she wires Jabez Malleron, well known amateur connoisseur of the arts and a neighbor of the Granstons. As Malleron is reading the wire, Marthe Perralle, Cecily's maid, calls. She is obviously in his employ. He directs her to bring her mistress within a few days to a town called Mortvaig, in Scotland.

That night, while Dorling is dining with the Granstons, Cecily calls, not knowing Doug is there. She greets him frigidly, and creates a sensation by announcing she hears he is married.

Doug goes to see Cora and asks her to explain all the mystery. She refuses, but tells him he is to go to Mortvaig, Scotland, to meet her chief. He agrees, but first visits his father at Dorling Towers. Cecily's father, Charles Warren, who lives on the fringe of the Mortvaig millionaire's house. Doug is struck by the coincidence in names.

At Mortvaig Doug can only learn that, in return for his freedom, he is being blackmailed into a mysterious service as an airplane pilot. He takes off for his first trip little knowing Cecily is on board, drugged.

Landing at his island base, Doug is shown about by another pilot, Lieut. Beresford. In his return to Mortvaig he is permitted to go down to London for a few days and he decides to shake himself free of the gang. He calls on Cecily to explain everything to her but is told by Mr. Warren that Cecily has disappeared from Mortvaig. Her maid returned without her and could shed no light on the disappearance. When Douglas sees Cecily's maid he remembers that he had seen her at the Mortvaig airdrome and suspects that she is one of the gang. He decides to return there at once, but he does not tell Mr Warren of his suspicions.

Arrived at the island he asks to see Miss Warren and greatly to his surprise he is allowed to see her.

He arranges for her escape and manages to land her in England. Later he hurries to London expecting to see Cecily but is amazed to learn that in some way his plan miscarried and that she has again been captured by the gang.

Hoping to obtain news of Cecily, Dorling, at Cora's request, meets her at a night club. He is drugged and wakes up the next day on a boat at sea. Cecily is also on board. There is something very peculiar about the boat and its passengers. The captain professing his innocence allows Dorling to use the small sea plane carried by the boat. The fuel gauge registers a full tank, but in reality there is not half enough fuel to carry him to land. Dorling sees a navy destroyer, comes down on the sea and requests to be taken aboard. He explains to the commander of the boat and they go to Cecily's rescue.

On his return to London Dorling tells Mr. Warren that he will guide government planes to the island and they go up to Mortvaig with Detective Inspector Eason and Malleron.

INSTALLMENT LVII.

TRAPPED.

Warren, unused to bloodshed, felt a wave of physical nausea pass over him. He clung to the rail for support, while in his confusion a thought slowly formed in his brain.

The raider had come from the north.

Before anything had happened, Malleron's glasses had been directed to the north as if he had expected to see something there.

At that moment some one lurched heavily against him.

"Can we have some brandy?" he said to a junior officer. "Mr. Malleron has fainted."

Dorling, all unconscious of the grim drama that had been enacted behind him, flew on. Lockhart's instructions as to the speed he could hold had been quite clear. He obeyed them with the utmost precision and, knowing that he had done so, assumed that Wreford was maintaining his distance behind him.

Hour succeeded hour. He was just beginning to grow anxious as to his course when he caught sight of the island fifteen miles ahead.

Later, as he spiraled down on to the island, he tried to catch a glimpse of Wreford and failed.

As he landed, he noticed that the mechanics who generally stood by were absent. From the landing ground he could see no sign of life on the island and had almost formed the opinion that in some mysterious way it had

The man was approaching. Dorling searched the sky rather anxiously for Wreford.

"Ah, Harris, my dear fellow! What a delightful surprise! Do tell me—what is the chief's little idea in sending you here at such a time?"

It would hardly be playing the game, thought Dorling, to quarrel with his fellow now that he was about to be arrested.

"Can one ever tell what is in the chief's mind!" he answered civilly enough. ['It's jolly queer,' he thought, 'that Wreford should be so far behind.']

"Your leisureliness is a positive tonic," drawled Tredegar. "Here we've been working like galley slaves—myself included. But you didn't by any chance spot the Cornelia when you were up aloft, did you? She's about due now and ought to be in sight."

"Cornelia!" echoed Dorling. "No."

"You haven't come to tell us that she—she can't come?" pressed Tredegar.

"I know nothing whatever about her," answered Dorling. The problem of the Cornelia did not interest him. His whole mind was concentrated on the more urgent problem of what Wreford was doing.

"I seem to have trodden on it!" said Tredegar humbly, and returned to the messroom.

Dorling slipped off his flying kit where he stood and lit a cigaret. By the time the cigaret was finished he knew beyond doubt that some disaster had overtaken Wreford. He remembered that he had seen two destroyers in the course of his flight, and muttered a prayer that Wreford had been picked up.

Next came another reflection of a different kind. Whether Wreford were alive or dead, the plan had failed. The wireless with which the government airplane was equipped was useless to him. He had never studied telegraphy. In short, he was on the island, unprotected, at the mercy of the gang he had betrayed. If they knew he had betrayed them he must find that out at once.

"There she is!" he exclaimed, his good temper restored. "Barely five miles away, I should think."

"Who? What?" asked Dorling sharply.

"Why the Cornelia!" replied Tredegar. "And I'm not half through with my share of the job. You might come and lend a hand, if you're not too busy up."

Dorling went into the messroom and smothered an exclamation of surprise as he noticed that the table and most of the floor was covered with drawings filled with documents of various kinds and sizes. He was to learn afterwards that these had all been brought from Mortvaig.

The task, it appeared, from Tredegar's grunted comments, was to transfer the documents to packing cases—to ship them, presumably, on the Cornelia.

"There's not a man I can take off anywhere to help with all this!" exclaimed Tredegar. "If they can get the plant ready it's about all they can do."

To refuse to help would be to awaken suspicion. Whereas by helping he would, at least, have time to reflect on his position. It was hot work and he took off his coat. Now and again some man would appear and put a question to Tredegar, who would constantly have to leave the room. In one of the intervals came the sound of a siren and a moment later Tredegar returned.

"She's alongside now." He panted as if he were out of breath. . . . There's a bulletin from the chief and I'll have to decode it."

He took a small book from his inner pocket. Then with pad and a pencil he knelt on the floor and began to decode.

Dorling, in the meantime, had made up his mind. The Cornelia, obviously, was directly or indirectly controlled by the chief. They were all to escape from the island on the Cornelia, taking the plant and the documents from Mortvaig with them.

That, at any rate, was simple enough. He would go on the Cornelia as one of the gang. Sooner or later the Cornelia would have to put into port.

He was startled by an exclamation from Tredegar. He had his back to him and turned around.

There was something queer, something menacing in the man's expression, in his whole pose. He was crouching on hands and knees like an animal within a few inches of him on the floor lay Dorling's coat.

Tredegar, like Dorling, was in his shirt sleeves. He looked from Dorling to the coat—and then laughed.

He caught up the coat—felt in the pockets and, laughing again, drew out Dorling's revolver.

"So you thought you were clever enough to play the spy!" said Tredegar. "Don't move. Just put your hands up."

Mrs. Sprague.....Louise Carver

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

For about five reels Mr. Horton is seen as a jobless gentleman who spends some of his futile hours inventing worthless articles and liquids. The rest of his time is occupied in dodging and unsatisfactorily replying to the verbal attacks of the relatives with whom he and his wife live and who can see no good in him, because he contributes nothing but language and "marvelous" ideas to the upkeep of the household.

"The Sap" (Mr. Horton) is a lovable cuss and his wife (Patsy Ruth Miller) is loyally for him. She stands by, bravely taking his part when sister and brother-in-law (a bank teller) nag and neighbors jeer and point the finger of scorn. But there comes a day when even her patience and belief in him fails . . . !

In about the sixth reel "the sap" shows signs of promise. Comes the finale with Bill the Big Man of the small town he inhabits acclaimed another Lincoln by his fellow citizens, fawningly deferred to by brother-in-law, who he has rescued from—what the film will show you, flattered and kowtowed to by big Jim Belden, cashier of the bank, who also has reason to be thankful for such a friend, and the husband of a Little Woman who is PROUD of him.

This is a well acted, satisfactorily directed and photographed and fairly amusing production adapted from a stage play. There have been somewhat similar stories, as you have gathered by now.

However, "The Sap" is a film that will pleasantly while away an idle hour for you. See you soon.

Presbyterians Meet, Celebrate Founding of McCormick Seminary

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

The Presbyterian Theological seminary has arrived at its century of progress exposition four years ahead of Chicago's celebration set for 1933. Churchmen from all over the world gathered yesterday at the campus of the seminary, 2330 North Halsted street, to recall the contributions and growth of the institution, as well as to give direction to its work for the second hundred years.

Festivities will extend over three days and will come to a climax with the inauguration of Dr. John Timothy Stone as president. In the "old timer's" discussions yesterday many stories of pre-civil war days were retold, when the population of Chicago was less than 100,000. The late Cyrus H. McCormick, whose name the seminary bears, was responsible for bringing the seminary to Chicago.

That Chicago of 80 years ago was not much different from the Chicago of today as far as certain phases of its reputation are concerned. This fact was revealed yesterday when one of the McCormick letters was read. It stated that there was a pressing need for a training school for ministers in this neighborhood because he was "distressed about the crime and rough living of the pioneers." The first $100,000 the reaper king gave was a result of his view of Chicago. According to James G. K. McClure, president emeritus, the McCormick family since has made contributions totaling $4,000,000.

The corner stone of the new commons was laid yesterday afternoon, and a reception for faculty, alumni, and students was given last night in the new gymnasium by President Elect John Timothy Stone. Today's sessions will be devoted to Christian education with conferences led by college presidents from different parts of the country. This afternoon Dr. Cleland B. McAfee, moderator of the general assembly of the northern Presbyterian church; Dr. W. R. Dobyns, moderator of the southern Presbyterian church, and D. L. S. Mudge, stated clerk of the northern denomination, will deliver addresses in the seminary chapel.

Dr. John Grier Hibben, president of Princeton university, will speak this evening at the seminary church, Halsted street and Belden avenue.

"Future of Stage Rests on Talkies"—Hammerstein

Arthur Hammerstein, New York theatrical producer, passed through Chicago yesterday en route to Hollywood. There he will put on some of his stage successes as talkies. His wife, Dorothy Dalton, will be in the cast of "Bride 66," the first to be produced for United Artists. He declared that the future of the stage probably will belong to the talking and singing picture, and quoted box office prices for the legitimate stage as too high for the general public.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send your name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question Pearl Bebman, 1352 West 64th street, was awarded $5.

The Question.

Are you in sympathy with kids who play Halloween tricks?

The Answers.

Charles O. Brown, 2051 Ohio street, pharmacist—I am in favor of the boys, and in these days the girls, having a good time. Halloween or any other time. Let them tear down old sheds, clean up the old back yards and other unsightly vacant lots, but have a good, sane time. I wouldn't take a great deal for the fun my Halloween pranks furnished me.

Miss Harriet E. Udelowish, 848 Ainslie street, home girl—I certainly am in favor of fun—provided they don't throw beans at me. Boys should not be too rough; some of them do tricks they think are funny, but which are not so funny for the victims. Otherwise, the show starts at eight and lasts until the spooks pull them in.

Gordon Reeder, 1117 North Dearborn street, accountant—To a certain extent; if they don't destroy property. Have a lot of sensible fun, that's the way to do it. Halloween was a great day for me when I was a kid. We chose our gang, planned our line of action, and we had a great time.

Miss Laura M. Barker, 3052 Logan boulevard, real estate—If they don't go beyond a reasonable limit. Costume parties are to be encouraged, because of their possibilities for real Halloween diversion. Parents should do all possible to make their children's holidays enjoyable. That's what my parents did for me. The idea of mischief could be trained out of children.

I. M. Bailen, 616 South Michigan avenue, furrier—Kids should be kids—they are built that way—and they should be permitted to have fun on occasions like Halloween. They have to let loose their enthusiasm and have boyish pranks. It is presumed that they will not frighten people nor damage property.

Ohio Museum Restores Stolen Cathedral Relic

Cleveland, O., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A little ten by twelve inch panel of ivory that some medieval artist, possibly at the time of Hugh Capet [late 10th century] in France, had carved in rich relief to depict the life, suffering, and death of Christ, started back to Jugo-Slavia today at the conclusion of an international drama here.

Amid formal ceremony, Frederic Allen Whiting, director of the Cleveland museum of art, handed it to Leonidas Pitamic, Jugo-Slavian minister to the United States. The envoy, with an escort, had arrived by automobile from Washington. He received the panel and left immediately after praising the museum for its action.

The carving is believed originally to have been a panel for the cover of a religious book. A jewel was set in the center. Most of its history is obscure, but it is believed to have come originally from a medieval atelier in Liege, Belgium.

The ivory, extremely valuable to the collector, had been reported stolen from the cathedral of Agram, or Zagreb, in Jugo-Slavia. The report was the subject of an international investigation carried on during several weeks, including the Jugo-Slavian government and dealers in the United States and Europe.

Several stories, conflicting as to detail, had circulated, nearly two months ago, in newspapers of Europe regarding the alleged theft, causing considerable comment. Some of the stories referred to it as a painting and others as a diptych and mentioned its purchase by an American museum.

The ivory was purchased for a price said to have been $10,000 from De Motte, Inc., of New York, in good faith. July, 1928, the museum putting it on display and publishing a descriptive account of it. The museum's publication connected it with the Jugo-Slavian cathedral, whose inventory taken as far back as the fourteenth century, had mentioned it. De Motte, in turn, had bought it in good faith.

Last month the Jugo-Slavian minister came to Cleveland and stated to the museum that he had received advices from his government that the panel had been stolen from the cathedral although the theft had not been reported until the summer of 1929. An imitation of the carving had been put in its place.

Whiting notified William M. Milliken, curator of decorative arts at the museum, who was traveling abroad, asking him to investigate. Whiting also immediately withdrew the panel from exhibition, locking it in a museum vault.

The investigation, made in coöperation with the house of De Motte, disclosed the passage of the rare carving through the hands of four dealers, but the unnamed person from whom the first of the four had bought it was traveling, whereabouts unknown. Hitting the blank wall, the investigators halted.

Star Becomes Mother; Chow Bites Actress; or Hollywood News

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 29.—Among today's news were the following: Caryl Lincoln, auburn haired beauty of the 1929 list of wampas "baby" movie stars, is mother of a bouncing boy baby. Off the screen Miss Lincoln, who is 21, is the wife of George Brown, motion picture publicity man. They were married Jan. 7, 1928.

Alice White, movie star, was bitten in the left hand by her pet chow dog. She fainted and Dr. Carl Conn was called. She failed to appear today at her studio.

Garfield Park Show of "Mums" Opens Nov. 10

Thousands of Chicago school children will visit the annual chrysanthemum show in the Garfield park conservatory between Nov. 10 and Dec. 1, according to Superintendent of Schools Bogan. Botany classes will be allowed time off to attend the show.

THEATER

SATURDAY NIGHT will be marked by, among other things, the final performance in the Goodman of the revival of "Romeo and Juliet," with its excellent utilization of the "unit" idea in stage-setting, its alternating Juliets, and the sprightly Mercutio of B. Iden Payne. Chiarelli's "The Mask and the Face" will be revived there Monday night. This piece was made known in Chicago two seasons ago, when it fared none too well at the hands of the cast; but it was inherently amusing. It may be recalled as the comedy wherein an iron-willed husband took undue and undeserved credit for murdering his wife, who, like the Playboy's dad in Synge's comedy, was not only not murdered, but wasn't even dead.

"Thunder in the Air" will be moved, after the Chicago performances of November 9, to New-York, where it will be shown the night of the 11th. It seems to be a matter of both duty and obligation again to tell readers of THE TRIBUNE that "Thunder in the Air" is something well worth seeing by persons who do not regard Ted Lewis as the world's foremost actor, by persons who did not go into mourning for Valentino, and by persons who like plays that are at once unusual in theme and thought and good in quality.

And I note that the Dramatic League of Chicago, to which we owe "Thunder in the Air" and are about to owe "The First Mrs. Fraser," is adopting the sensible plan of offering subscriptons for four-fifths of its first season to those theater-goers who did not apply in time to include the first play. That is, the subscription is offered pro-rata for the four plays yet to come, starting with Miss Grace George's engagement. The Chicago Opera long since put into practice this device for disposing of unsold seats; and the Theater Guild has used the plan in Chicago, if not elsewhere. . . . As a veteran showman recently said to me, the subscription-plan for good plays is the public's easiest escape from the ticket-brokers.

"Playboy" is a new title for a play by Samson Raphaelson, author of "The Jazz-Singer." Lou Holtz, who used to go as far as the law permitted in singing nasty verses and uttering nasty jests, is to be the star of the piece. . . . And, while it has nothing to do with Art, I am told that this same Mr. Holtz, if assayed, would be reported as a millionaire, which, if no longer a distinction, is at least a comforting thing to be.

Miss Claiborne Foster, who is to have the principal rôle in the American cast of Walter Hackett's comedy named "Other Men's Wives," will have Miss Dorothy Hall, Percy Ames, and Hugh Sinclair among her associates.

Walter C. Kelly, known to patrons of the two-a-day as the Virginia Judge, is out of "Great Day!" a song-and-dance show current in New-York. His rôle has been taken over by Jack Hazzard.

Philip Merivale and James Dale are to be in "Death Takes a Holiday," a play from the Italian which was for a while in possession of the Dramatic League of Chicago. Miss Anne Orr will be in it. You may or may not remember her as a soubrette in the song-and-dance shows; but Chicago loved her in the long La Salle run of 'Leave It to Jane!" wherein she was vis-à-vis with Oscar Shaw. Mr. Dale was to have been in Chicago for the Dramatic League in "The Infinite Shoeblack," as co-star with Miss Helen Menken; but, as I have told, the League has been able to obtain Leslie Banks, who had it in London, for the principal masculine rôle.

Miss Barrymore now bulletins that she will put on "The Love-Duel" the night of November 11 in the Harris.

Godolphin, rector of the parish for the last 16 years, will be the toastmaster. Grace church has given two bishops to the Episcopal church, the Rt. Rev. Charles P. Sorority Masquerade.

The Illinois state chapter of Psi Delta Sigma national sorority will give a masquerade ball this evening in the lantern room of the Drake hotel. The state president, Miss Catherine McCauley of 6729 South Ada street, and Miss Bertha Woern, the social chairman, head the committee in charge of arrangements.

Curb on Aliens Hailed as Aid for This City

While Brandon Warns of Mental Stresses.

BY KATHLEEN McLAUGHLIN.

Chicago's assimilation of its foreign born element has been sharply accelerated during the last several years in which the Johnson immigration bill has been operative. That point is strikingly illustrated in an exhibit at the Illinois conference on public welfare, opened last night at Evanston with a session at the First Methodist church. Exhibits are located in the North Shore hotel.

A graph prepared by Coleman Woodbury of the institute of land economics of Northwestern university demonstrates the rapidly decreasing percentage of cases of the major type handled by social service agencies of the city, in which the head of the family is of foreign extraction. The ratio in these cases has dropped from 4,400 foreign, in 1919, as compared with 600 white and 500 Negro cases, to 1,400 in 1928, when the white cases numbered 700 and the Negro, 500.

Other maps exhibited in the same collection indicate that Chicago is rapidly becoming a city of department dwellers to the exclusion of the two family dwelling, and the gradual decline of the single family home; also that families who paid only $7 for rent about a decade ago are now paying $21 for a smaller living space.

Rodney H. Brandon, state superintendent of public welfare, centering his attention on the topic of insanity and feeble mindedness in Illinois, asserted the percentage of mental disease in the state is increasing more rapidly than the population.

"The solution of the problem," he continued, "rests in the training of psychiatrists in our universities to find a cure for dementia praecox, the disease responsible for the alarming growth of insanity among our industrial population."

There are more individuals incarcerated today in institutions for the feeble minded, he pointed out, than all those with physical ailments now in the hospitals of the state.

"At this rate it is only a matter of time," he summed up, "until we will all be in the insane asylum and the governor will be the managing officer, because the percentage of the population which is locked up for unsoundness of mind is increasing with each generation."

Mme. Curie Guest of Hoovers; Cash Ready for Buying Radium

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—(AP)—A draft for $50,000 to purchase a gram of radium for her valorous researches awaited Mme. Curie when she arrived at the White House tonight for a visit with the President and Mrs. Hoover.

Encased in silver, it will be presented to her at the National Academy of Sciences tomorrow afternoon at ceremonies which will include an address by the President. Since radium is no longer manufactured in this country, it was decided to present to her the draft, raised through private subscriptions, for its purchase in Belgium, to be used by her in the Curie Polish Cancer hospital and laboratory in Warsaw.

The tiny French scientist arrived quietly from New York by train and was met at the Union station by Lieut. Col. Campbell Hodges, the President's military aid.

One of the White House limousines whisked them unnoticed up Pennsylvania avenue to the White House. There Mme. Curie was shown immediately to her rooms on the second floor.

Because Mme. Curie has been in indifferent health recently no elaborate social functions have been planned during her stay. She was the guest of honor at a small family dinner with the President and Mrs. Hoover tonight, and tomorrow night a few friends will be invited to meet her.

Lutheran Brotherhood Convention Opening Today in the Loop

The second biennial national convention of the American Federation of the Lutheran Brotherhood opens today at the Palmer house. More than 2,000 delegates, from all sections of the country, have registered, according to the Rev. P. O. Bersell, convention secretary, last night. He stated that the convention will be the largest gathering of Lutheran men ever assembled in America.

One of the recommendations which will be presented to the convention is that an executive office of the federation be located in Chicago. The governing board already has given its approval to the proposal. Another resolution calling for the creation of a brotherhood magazine will be presented, in order that the nearly 3,000,000 members may keep in closer touch with the activities of the organization, according to President Brandelle.

Fortnightly's Star Members Guests Tomorrow

BY THALIA

The Fortnightly apparently is falling in with the general trend of this winter season, giving what sounds like a most distinguished and interesting affair tomorrow at 1 o'clock. The society is to have as its guests at luncheon, the honorary members, all women who have gained reputations in their particular fields of activity.

The group includes Miss Jane Addams, Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, Mrs. Aiden Carpenter, Mrs. Wirt Dexter, Mrs. John W. Ela, Mrs. Horace Kinney Kennedy, Miss Cornelia Gray Lunt, Mrs. Anthony French Merrill, Miss Harriet Monroe, Mrs. Robert Morris Peattie, Dr. Julia Holmes Smith, and Mrs. Alexander F. Stevenson.

When the curtain goes down on the finale of "Let's Go," the annual Servo club revue to be held at the new Erlanger Opera house on Nov. 15, the chairmen, Helen Morgans and Marilyn Miller will proceed to the Blackstone. Here the club is to give a cabaret party. The affair should be one of the highlights of the season. Several of the theatrical stars in town have promised to enliven it. Plans for the show and the ball were discussed yesterday afternoon at a tea given by Mrs. Albert F. Madlener Jr. at her residence for the members of the board.

The Junior leaguers who are managing the children's theater plays are having more than their share of troubles. They've had to postpone the opening of "The Patchwork Girl of Oz," which was to have been given this Saturday morning, to a week later, and they've been switched again from the Selwyn to the Harris theater, after all the posters have been printed 'n' everything.

It develops that Mrs. John R. Wrightham Jr., who was to take Marion McKinley's rôle as "Scraps" for the opening, doesn't believe she can achieve the desired proficiency in tumbling, cartwheels, and acrobatics required by Saturday, so the play will have to wait until Miss McKinley's sprained ankle mends.

The Lake Shore League of Women Voters is having its annual meeting at 11:30 o'clock this morning at the Fortnightly, with luncheon following at 12:30. Speakers on the coming political election include Michael Igoe, Bernard M. Snow, Robert McCormick Adams, and Edward J. Brundage.

Mrs. James C. Ames will be hostess at the weekly Opera box committee luncheon meeting at the Casino at 1 o'clock today.

Mrs. Marshall Sampsell will entertain the Highland Park branch of the Northwestern university settlement at luncheon today.

The Trinity Church Service League of Highland Park is to give a bridge party this afternoon at the Moraine and for the benefit of several charitable institutions. Mrs. George Allen Hales and Mrs. Frank Gardner are chairmen. The committee includes Mrs. Irving Randall, Mrs. Martin Insull, Mrs. William Barker, Mrs. John T. Todd, Mrs. Robert E. Wood, Mrs. Ray Glidden and Mrs. Joseph B. Card.

Mrs. Willoughby Walling is to open her Winnetka residence on Friday evening for the October meeting of the Garden club of Winnetka.

The George P Fishers have come in from Lake Forest and are in their apartment at 1440 Astor street for the winter months.

Charles D. Peacock III is to be host at a supper dance at the Drake hotel this evening for his cousin, Mary Ann Peacock, daughter of the Walter C. Peacocks of 5170 Hyde Park boulevard, whose marriage to Alfred Langtry takes place on Nov. 12 at the Fourth Presbyterian church. Mrs. Nathaniel Leverone will give a luncheon for Miss Peacock today at the 900, followed by a matinee party.

The Ralph H. Pooles, evidently foreseeing the complications of staying the winter out in Lake Forest, especially with a debutante in the family, are planning to come in for the few months that are the busiest in the middle of the winter, and will be at the Ambassador hotel.

Mrs. Frank J. Loesch was here for a few days last week on her way to hear Mr. Loesch address the American Bar association in session at Memphis, Tenn. She has returned to Cooperstown, N. Y., to close "The Hawthornes," and will be back at the Drake the end of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hibbard have leased the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McCord at 191 East Walton place for the winter and will move in from Shoreacres this week. Their new apartment at 1301 Astor street will be ready for occupancy in the spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Leverone of Highland Park are in the east where they attended the Dartmouth-Harvard game last Saturday, and they will also go to the Yale-Dartmouth game.

Movie Theater Owners Now in Convention at Memphis

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 29.—(AP)—"The talkies," the problems they have given the exhibitor and what next to look for in the development of the cinema industry were up for debate the opening session of the tenth annual convention of the motion picture theater owners of America which convened here today.

WED IN CHAPEL AT U. OF C.

The marriage of Miss Mary Leone Burns, daughter of Joseph Burns of 6725 Cornell avenue, to James MacLeod Best was solemnized on Oct. 16 at the Thorndike Hilton chapel of the University of Chicago and was followed by a reception at the Quadrangle club. Mr. and Mrs. Best are residing at 6950 Jeffery avenue.

Boston's Symphony Visits and Pleases Chicago Audience

BY EDWARD MOORE.

The Boston Symphony orchestra, making a brief tour from its home port to the middle west, paused at Orchestra hall last night to give a concert, and presumably is on its way this morning. It is one of the famous orchestras of the east, as all good music patrons know, and its conductor, Dr. Serge Koussevitzky, has in a few brief seasons made himself one of the favored directors of America, a favor marked by fervid applause at all times and the recent acquisition of his doctorate of music.

There are quite a few external differences between this gifted organization from the east and the Chicago Symphony. The programs last night bore Boston wrappers and Philip Hale's notes, but mostly Chicago advertisements. The seating arrangement of the men is quite different, and Dr. Koussevitzky permits loud tuning of instruments before and after all numbers, even when his hand is raised to suppress applause.

There are some internal differences as well, though these are frequently items of manner rather than matter. The orchestra is a fine toned, responsive, and flexible organization, and Dr. Koussevitzky is a conductor of stress and fortitude. He prefers and gets striking contrasts of volume and tempo; he drives to a point where at times his effects would seem to be angular rather than curved. To change the figure, it may not be entirely accurate to say that he serves his music raw with a knife, but he apparently likes it rather rare.

This is intended to be descriptive and not in the least reproachful. At times his method leads to rather splendid effects. His performance of Stravinsky's "Petrouchka" Suite, for instance, was gorgeous, and so was the last movement of Tschaikowsky's Sixth Symphony. The weakness of the method lies in the fact that there is an occasional feeling of the orchestra being driven to its tonal limit and left without reserves to draw upon.

The program consisted of the Vivaldi Concerto in D minor, part of which had to be missed because of another event, Debussy's Two Nocturnes, familiar in the Chicago Symphony programs, the "Petrouchka" Suite, new here as an orchestral number, and that grand old piece of highly colored melodrama, the Tschaikowsky Symphony. There was no soloist.

Two singers were meanwhile offering recitals. Tula Miller, soprano, at the Chicago Woman's club theater presented a program consisting of two groups of German works, one combined of old French and Italian folk music, and a final one in English, singing in a clear voice with good enunciation and rather good expression.

Mme. Gilderoy Scott, contralto, was visited at Kimball hall during the orchestra's intermission, a time which found her not far from the end of her program. This part was folk songs from England and Kentucky, the end of an uncommonly interesting program, mostly by English composers but with a few Americans.

Prof. Watson Upsets Many Pet Notions of Parents About Children

New York, Oct. 29.—[Special.]—Some of the pet notions of parents were exploded by Dr. Goodwin B. Watson, famous child psychologist and writer. Others who took a similar stand were Dr. Lydia Roberts, associate professor of home economics at the University of Chicago, and other speakers at the Manhattan parent education conference, opening today at the Pennsylvania hotel. The meeting is under the auspices of the Child Health Association of America. According to Dr. Watson and the others:

There is very little you can do to make your child honest, if he hasn't already honest tendencies.

Experiments made on a group of children by Dr. Watson and other psychologists showed that going to Sunday school and belonging to the Boy Scouts has little to do with a child's honesty.

Children from a comfortable home, whose fathers hold a place of trust in the community, and whose furniture is nice, were found to be more honest than those from poorer homes.

Native Americans, in this test, were four times as honest as the Slavic or Latin children tested.

Generally speaking, Dr. Watson said, the child is influenced by the ethical concepts of other children in his group, and if he is in a cheating group cheating will seem perfectly all right to him, too.

Girls were found as honest as boys.

When it came to perseverance and self-control tests, Dr. Watson found that foreign children surpassed American or native born children in this respect and that girls were not surpassed by boys.

In fact, in very few of the tests was the factor of sex found to have any influence on the result, except that the girls were better in deportment.

In making tests on adults who are "happy," to discover what factors had entered into their lives as children, it was discovered that boys and girls from homes where there was love and harmony between the parents had a much better chance for happiness.

If both the boy and girl had been more fondly attached to their father than their mother their chances for happiness were greater. In other words, according to Dr. Watson, mother love is something to be generally avoided.

It Takes More than a Bottle of Peroxide to Drown Youth

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

It seems to "Bobbie," according to her letter, that "no natural blonde hair is as pretty as bleached blonde hair. One sees pretty golden hair, but it is invariably bleached that way.

"Bobbie" has a friend who bleached her hair and has thousands of admirers. Everyone loves her hair. It is a dazzling gold. She is not sorry that she bleached it about four years ago. In a case like this, one has to take special care of her scalp, "Bobbie" agrees, and also with makeup, in order not to look too artificial.

"Now, don't say bleached hair makes women look hard boiled. If you could see my friend you would approve of her hair, also."

I probably would love her hair, too. I don't remember hinting that bleached hair and a hard boiled look are synonymous. I hope I did not give that impression. It takes more than a bottle of peroxide to ruin youth into that expression for me.

BET—it is true that artificiality of any kind has to be bolstered by a great deal of charm to be pleasantly acceptable. Youth has the charm unless it ruins it with coarse makeup and cheap clothes or common manner. And, of course, you can't walk the Hollywood streets without realizing that bleaching hair is a popular pastime with pretty maids.

Older women bleach their hair blonde instead of having it dyed black or their original shade because they have the illusion that they get get more of youth from the peroxide bottle than from a henna paste. Perhaps they do. Again, perhaps they do not. It depends largely on the smoothness of the countenance, on the woman, and her good grooming — her clothes' chic—whether she makes a success of any hair coloring job.

It's like the affliction of blindness or loss of hearing. If the other instincts are sharpened commensurately, bleaching or dyeing may be accepted with more than philosophy. But if the clothes instinct is dull and the makeup hand clumsy or good personal grooming is neglected and you top the picture with a frowsy bleached or dyed head, hardboiled isn't the wrong word to call on for description.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S AND MISS' DRESS.

There is a simple design of much charm for daytime wear. It has an interesting neckline that closes at the left side and is finished with a jabot frill of ecru Alencon lace, a smart lingerie detail. The circular skirt concentrates all the fullnes at the front and swings gracefully when in motion. Printed silk tweed in lovely soft brown coloring, sheer woolen in a flattering Goya red in a zigzag pattern, self trimmed, black shear velvet with ecru lace and midnight blue crêpe de chine, with collar and jabot of white silk crêpe are interesting suggestions.

The pattern, 2994, comes in sizes 36 and 18 years and 34, 32, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3¾ yards of 39 inch material with ¾ yard of 27 inch contrasting.

By Mrs. Gladys Huntington Bevans

A booklet by Mrs. Bevans on "Books to Be Read to Children or By Them" will be sent free on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

All you have to do to be thoroughly overcome with the importance of your job as a parent, and with the profundities and complexities of child nature, is to read over the new books on psychology and child training, the old ones you haven't yet read, the lists of lectures, conferences, investigations and discussions, the appointment of a commission by President Hoover, the findings of psychiatrists and so forth. It can simply flatten you out.

But don't be too oppressed by it all. Don't let the fact that you care seriously about your job as a mother or a father take all the joy out of your relationship with your child.

Enjoy your children. Savor them on the way. Take pleasure in each day of your life with them, for there's so much to enjoy if you'll lift up your eyes from the business of taking care of them long enough to see it.

They're so interesting in the first place—the way they think, feel, and act. They're so full of variety—changing from day to day, from month to month, from one phase to another. They're so enlivening, with their freedom and their vivacity. They're so refreshing, with their honesty and frankness. They're so responsive with warmth to warmth, friendliness to friendliness.

They're so inquiring, keeping you alert and flexible. They're so full of movement. They're so full of potentialities, fraught with what unguessed possibilities of achievement and personality.

They are, if you truly enjoy your children's presence, so much fun to be with that it's a pity to be so weighed down with your responsibility toward them that you can't enjoy them. Don't keep thinking of some goal of perfection or a future grownupness for them.

Enjoy them as you live along together now, because you can't turn back the pages of the days. Don't cheat them of you. Don't cheat yourself of them.

Charming Hostess Gown Takes Square Sleeves

BY LOLITA.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Here's an entertaining style! Yes, we mean one of those delightful new hostess gowns which are so beguiling this year that they reconcile the most restless natures to being "at home." In a year when velvet is of such paramount importance in every province it is logical that many of these hostess gowns should elect this fabric in any one of its numerous versions — panne, sheer or natural. And it is equally logical that now when red in various tones is claiming so much of our attention that many of the most charming creations of velvet designed for house wear should occur in this warm tone.

Today we are showing you a stunning hostess gown designed by Mary Nowitsky, that master creator for the boudoir and the home in general. As do all the gowns of this type, this one shadows the prevailing silhouette. Only in the sleeves does it indulge in that more capricious and exuberant mode permitted to its informal destiny.

The molded gown is of warm red velvet, and it features a molded hip line in connection with that deep V seaming so characteristic of the hour. This V shaped formation occurs both back and front. In the latter locality the swathed hip line is terminated by a bow and loops of self material. In the back you see two trains divided, their entire length sweeping outward from that inexorable hand about the hips.

But of course red velvet needs contrast. This is supplied by sleeves of a light beige velvet. These latter are truly charming. They echo, in fact, some of the picturesque sleeves of the middle ages, being, as you see, square and voluminous and having a deep slash at their termination.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY PAUL POTTER

The increasing popularity of flowering bulbs is responsible for a rather rapid development of bulb growing in four sections of the country, according to Dr. David Griffiths of the United States department of agriculture. These sections are the Puget Sound region, Atlantic seaboard, South Atlantic states, and eastern Texas.

Growers in those sections are now producing the bulk of the narcissus bulbs the country gets, says Dr. Griffiths. In the Pacific northwest the most difficult varieties, such as Golden Spur and Victoria, are successfully grown. The quality of these bulbs, says Dr. Griffiths, is fully as good as that of any bulbs ever imported.

Narcissus bulb growers are finding that it is necessary to specialize on a few varieties which are adapted to the particular locality. Thus many varieties of the Dutch group are no longer attempted in the warmer sections because of the difficulty of storage. They make excellent growth and are successfully handled in the cooler Pacific coast region.

Proportionately greater progress is being made with lilies than with any other group, it is said. Their culture is a more recent venture than the daffodil. Already we have some lilies that are characteristically American, and foreign dealers are beginning to look to Puget sound for Nankeen stocks. American growers will put on the market this year about 200 cases of Easter lily bulbs. Three or four other lilies are now produced in sufficient quantity to supply the demand.

Tulips are being grown in considerable acreages with very good success. With tulips and hyacinths, however, the competition is so keen that growers are largely deterred from entering the business, although stocks of tulips, especially, can be worked up faster than either daffodils or lilies.

"Britt" Finds That Keeping Everybody Happy Is Difficult

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Yesterday, we were talking about the womens' club activities in connection with the right financing of marriage ventures. A thousand in the bank and $50 a week salary were the figures recommended for a good start.

Today "Britt" comes along with the complaint that his girl grows impatient while he tries to gather together $2,000 for his bank account and his salary stands him $45 per week. But Britt has a mother to support and a brother to put through school. The girl frankly states she is going in for family raising and will not continue her professional work, which does make quite a problem in financing for Britt.

No, the girl will not stand for mother and the young brother coming under the same roof. So, Britt thinks if he only had that $2,000 he could make the grade. Whether he could or couldn't depends largely, of course, on the demands made by the girl, if he marries her. As matters stand she feels, no doubt, she has a perfect right to the stand she takes. It would be nice, though, if she could be persuaded into a little patience with her beloved and give him a chance at least to get the young brother on his feet, so he could take over the mother's expenses.

Meddling with the financial problems of young couples is a foolish pastime. They'll do, anyway, what is in their mind and character to do. And, of course, generalities will not serve, since one person can make a dollar serve three ends whereas another can't make it satisfactorily serve one. But if a girl is awfully exacting about her rights before marriage, the man can count pretty surely on her continuing in the same rôle. He may spare himself many money pains if he recognizes this fact.

It is curious, however, that girls who have earned salaries themselves are so unsympathetic when it comes to the disbursing of a husband's funds when he has dependents to whom he feels morally obligated. One can't shelve a mother and one can't turn a young brother out to work before he is through school if one has the makeup of a Britt.

He wouldn't be as fine a Britt, either, without his sense of moral responsibility, a fact that a girl looking for a good husband and a good parent to her children might take into consideration.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any publication or paper. It is not possible to return copy or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Sunny Boy, The Tribune, Chicago.

Little Georgia Lee was taken by her aunt to the city to spend her birthday and was told that the day was hers to do or have what she cared for.

When they sat down to lunch Georgia was asked what she would have to eat. She quickly replied, "I don't care what it is, just so it's not good for me." M. L.

Small Gracia, from the next block, was in to see me the other day, and as I was just a visitor in the home I knew nothing of her family. I asked her if she had any sisters.

To this she replied, "Well, we're out of them now, 'cause the last one got married the other day." T. J. G.

Don't Heed Rumor.

"Dear Miss Blake: My friend tells me that my girl goes out with other boys. She denies this. Do you think she loves me? N. C."

Don't go on hearsay. Until you're convinced by finding out for yourself, you shouldn't pay any attention to rumor.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Ancient Halloween Apple Day.

In "The Penny Cyclopedia," London, 1833, there is an account of Halloween which begins: "All-Halloween (the 31st of October) was marked, in the natural calendar of our climate, as one of the great epochs of the year. By that day the harvest was generally gathered in and the work of the husbandman brought to a close. It was natural, therefore, that it should be celebrated in a manner expressive, on the one hand, of joy and thankfulness, and on the other of the occupations and amusements appropriate to the season of winter, of which it was the commencement.

"Bonfires accordingly appear to have been lighted, which custom still is, or lately was, preserved in many parts of Wales, Ireland, the Western Islands, and Scotland. See, in Sir John Sinclair's 'Statistical Account of Scotland,' the accounts of the parishes of Callander, Logierait, Kirkmichael, Aberdeen, etc., and in Home's 'Every Day Book,' vol. ii., p. 1289, a letter from a correspondent describing the fires which are kindled by the children on Halloweve in the midst of the White Cart river, on which the town of Paisley stands.

"In Brand's 'Observations on Popular Antiquities' the reader will find many curious details respecting the ancient popular observances on the eve of All-Hallows in Wales, the North of England, Ireland, and elsewhere. After the introduction of Christianity the ringing of bells seems to have been added to the lighting of bonfires. This noisy ceremony commenced on the vigil of the feast of All-Hallows, and was continued throughout all that day and the next. It was prohibited as superstitious both by Henry VIII. and by Elizabeth; but is said not to be yet altogether abolished.

"Besides these out of doors rejoicings, the eve of the festival was celebrated by much merrymaking around the domestic hearth. It has been observed that in the festivities usual on this occasion the beverage of the assembled guests was always that called lamb's wool, that is, ale or wine mixed with the pulp of roasted apples. Gen. Vallancey has ingeniously explained this singular name of the drink used on Hallowmas eve by deducing it from the old Celtic name of the day. La Mas Ubhal, that is, the day of the apple fruit. The English term lamb's wool is merely a corruption of this forgotten Celtic designation."

BEAUTY ANSWERS

ESTHER M.: THE CONTINUED use of laxatives is harmful. The proper way to overcome constipation is by regulating your habits and diet. Drink plenty of water and eat freely of green vegetables and fruits. You need to get eight hours of sleep every night, and exercise is helpful. I have a set of exercises which I'll send you on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscripts returned.

She'd Had Lunch.

It was my first day in a large business concern, and I had already fallen in love with the junior partner.

One day while talking to me about some business transaction, he left to answer his phone. My back was towards him when I heard him ask, "Are you having lunch with me?" O, joy of joys, I had already landed him. In a second I regained my composure and turning coolly around answered, "No, thank you, I've already had my lunch."

In answer to a snicker in the corner of the room, I turned to find a well known business acquaintance of my boss, to whom the invitation was extended. M. A. M.

Unusual Opportunity.

"We have here a little girl whom we believe to be quite talented in music. We can arrange for her to have violin lessons provided we can secure an instrument. She is 12 years old. Possibly one of your readers will have a violin he would like to give her. "H. H."

The child referred to in this letter is at a nursery and half orphan asylum in the city. This opportunity of an education in music is one the like of which may never come her way again. It would be a pity were she not able to take advantage of it, especially since she has displayed a decided musical talent.

A Kindly Offer.

"I have a child's blackboard, to be hung on the wall, and a small desk with open shelves, which I would like to give to one of your families with children. Do you know of any one who would like to have it? "Mrs. W. S."

"Playing school" becomes twice as much fun when one has a blackboard to hang on the wall. And here's a desk both decorative and useful. Write and tell me which of these you'd like to have; please do not telephone.

ONTARIO GOES TO POLLS TODAY; LIQUOR IS ISSUE

Will Government Control Continue or Not?

BY GEORGE SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 29.—Nearly two million Ontario voters will go to the polls tomorrow and decide whether the province is to continue its system of legalized government sale of liquor, revert to prohibition, or have another liquor plebiscite. It is almost a foregone conclusion that the Ferguson government will be returned to power and government liquor sale approved.

There are three parties fighting for the reins of government in the election. There is the Conservative party, represented by the Ferguson government, which stands for a continuance of liquor sales. There is the Liberal party, led by William E. N. Sinclair, whose policy is to ascertain in a direct plebiscite whether the majority favors liquor sale or prohibition. And there is the Progressive party, led by John G. Lethbridge, which is bone dry and which, if elected, would introduce a prohibition law forthwith.

Present Law Profitable.

The Ferguson government jettisoned prohibition in Ontario two and one-half years ago and introduced the present law, under which about $55,000,000 worth of liquor legally has been sold to resident Ontarians and visiting Americans this year. The profits this year are about $20,000,000 and will help to build highways and improve educational facilities in this industrial province.

This is the first election since the Ferguson government threw prohibition overboard and it will settle the wet and dry issue in Ontario for the next two decades. If the Conservatives decisively win the contest on their wet ticket, the Liberal party in the next and succeeding elections will drop the liquor issue from political discussions. Government controlled sale of liquor will be established by the votes of the people as superior in every way to prohibition. And Ontario has tried both laws.

Dry Force Issue.

Although the two major political parties, Conservative and Liberal, sought to have the provincial election fought out on grounds other than liquor sales, the Ontario drys forced the issue to the forefront until it has become practically the only one in the campaign.

Premier Ferguson has defended his legalized liquor sale in practically every one of the 112 provincial ridings, claiming for it a higher degree of sobriety and respect for law than existed under prohibition.

Attorney General William Price has shown that, in proportion to motor car population, accidents actually are less under legalized liquor sale than under prohibition. His statistics also show less crime.

Ferguson Fights for All Seats.

When this election was called, the Ferguson government controlled the Ontario legislature with 75 members out of a total membership of 112. The government, which has a candidate in every riding, already has won eight seats by acclamation.

The Liberal party, which held 21 seats when the election was called, has 94 candidates seeking election.

The Progressives, which formerly held fifteen seats in the legislature, have ten candidates. And there are twenty-three mixed variety candidates running, half a dozen of them straight prohibitionists.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE: The Thinker

Miss Skinner Keeps Elmer's Ear to Radio

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Of the celebrities who entertained on radio's stage last evening, Miss Cornelia Otis Skinner, broadcasting from New York through W-G-N from 8 to 9 o'clock was probably the outstanding performer. Miss Skinner is one of the few women who can face a microphone and make every member of the radio audience give ear to the loud speaker. Last evening she gave homely stories, character sketches, droll skits, monologues, dialogues, and what not. One or two were repeated from her former appearances, and they were none the less interesting.

Miss Skinner knows how to speak English as it is spoken in these United States. One of the things she does not do that too many women do is to volplane glissando fashion up and down an octave of the musical scale.

I waited long and earnestly for one Mitzi, of musical comedy fame, from New York, the west coast, or somewhere, through WIBO, from 9:30 to 10:30 o'clock, and my belief is she did not keep her engagement. I rather expected some creditable entertainment from her. During the wait many entries in the movies-talkies-singies world appeared, but no one would expect me to say I was altogether joyably entertained.

I did not know until too late that Charles Hackett, Chicago Civic Opera tenor, was scheduled to appear on the New York concert through KYW, from 7:30 to 8 o'clock. I know that if he sang the radio audience had the musical treat of the evening.

I am convinced that Louie the Weazel and the Hungry Five band, on W-G-N from 10:10 to 10:20, are becoming increasingly more popular, and deservedly so. And W-G-N's 11 o'clock Dream Ship orchestra program is one of the choicest of late evening programs.

To fill up the 10 to 11 hour with orchestra music comparable to the Dream Ship program I wish the Slumber Hour concert from WJZ, New York, were brought direct to Chicago.

MEN WHO ARE BIG MONEY MAKERS.
ONE SALESMAN HERE
MADE $1,150 LAST WEEK.

We've secured control of merchandise with a normal retail value of several million dollars. This is the fastest selling line in retail service today, but as much as this merchandise can be sold in th next few weeks before Christmas as all the rest of the year. The Harvest season is now here.

We've secured this merchandise at about ten cents on the dollar. Our retail price is about half of the regular wholesale price. The salesman's profit averages about 33-3%.

The line of this merchandise is sold direct. Other lines are sold to big firms who use it for Christmas gifts. Another line can be sold to Dealers in huge quantities. Men who have dealer sales must have averaged better than ten thousand dollars a year and furnish Gilt Edge References. We believe that any live wire can make more money with us in the next sixty days than he made in the last ten months. There is also a wonderful opportunity here for men who have a contact with firms who have a large number of employees.

AMBITIOUS WOMEN

are beginning to realize that selling real estate is not entirely a man's job; nor a tough job, either, when the properties for sale are properly and adequately developed and backed by a reliable firm of developers.

Women, why not make the most of your education, personality, poise, and tact by joining up with one of the most outstanding real estate developing organizations in the country—in the world, in fact.

Women with ability are finding out that real estate will pay them more than any other line of endeavor they can get into.

Remember, the work is dignified and the compensation is attractive, and we'll do all in our power to see that you make good. Experience is not necessary, but of course helpful.
